

Resolved

To spend our dollars wisely and conservatively—to spend them with home town merchants so that the progress of the community in which we live and of which we are proud may not be retarded—to build constructively for the future welfare of every home town citizen by adhering closely to the "buy at home" policy—to make this our slogan and our firm resolve during 1935—

To BUY AT HOME

A good resolution anytime is to buy at home but, after passing through a year of unsettled conditions such as 1934, it is especially to be recommended.

To a certain degree our home area has forged ahead during the past year, but had more of our citizens put their dollars in circulation in home channels, our step forward in 1934 would have been more progressive.

Now, however, we face the new year of 1935 and business signs indicate a definite turn for the better. But every citizen is expected to do his part in aiding the return of normal conditions. The burdens of the many cannot be borne by the few.

A good way to start 1935 is by patronizing the home town merchants. Such a policy, if unerringly followed, will hasten the return of normal times and lead to a permanent stabilization of home town business.

Look back over the months of 1934 and recall the services rendered the community by the home town merchant. Didn't he pay taxes, contribute to school, lodge and charitable organizations, help maintain the community's newspapers through advertising, play a nimportant role in the social and civil life of the community and perform many other services, all for the betterment and advancement of the home town? Of course, he did.

Recall, too, that it was the home town merchant who extended credit when credit was hard to get and desperately needed. Extending credit has always been his policy and always will, something which cannot be overlooked even by the least public-spirited citizens of the community.

Once the home town merchant's importance to his community is glimpsed, it is easily understood why he should be patronized. And now is the time to resolve TO BUY AT HOME.
