TRUSTEES OF SCHOOLS ARE INVITED TO MEET

With Educators in Louisville
And a Fine Program
Is Arranged.

Frankfort, Ky., March 15.—Instead of treating the school trustees as part of the problem to be solved, the Kentucky Educational Association hereafter purposes treating the trustee as a factor in the solution of the remainder of the problem, and a department of trustees, like the departments of superintendents and grade teachers, is to be organized at the meeting in Louisville April 30 as a constituent of the association.

A plan of active co-operation between teachers and trustees is being worked out by way of preparation and a determined and systematic effort is being put on foot to attract the attendance at the meeting of trustees from every educational division, city and hamlet in the State. One of the interesting features will be a trustees' round-table, where they can thresh out questions common to them all, with which each board has been wrestling single handed, unaided by the experience of the others.

While the organizers are carrying on a State-wide campaign to start this department with a big attendance, Secretary Thomas W. Vinson announced to-day that John R. McFerran, of Louisville, has offered a prize of $50 in gold to the county sending proportionately the largest delegation of trustees to the meeting, the number of trustees in the county and the distance traveled being considered in awarding the prize. The money is to be used in any way the county board winning it sees fit.

From far and near they gathered, old and young, under the maternal roof at Horton to join together in the giving and receiving of every affectionate good wish the occasion afforded. None there was one whit younger than their wonderful little hostess, whose motherly instinct seemed to foresee every conceivable need for the comfort and convenience of her visitors. Many rare hours were whiled away in the recalling of many pleasant events of earlier days, precious now to the memory. Family talk and listening to Uncle Jim Polk Thomson's redoubtable yarns and mother wit, was most enjoyable.

At the end of the second day, however, business and unavoidable appointments led them reluctantly homewards and the seventy-fifth anniversary of the oldest of the clan was history. Those present

I was introduced there by Pastor Joseph B. Rogers, of the First Baptist Church, of Quincy, who is well known to the Herald, and to the citizens of Hartford and Ohio county.
