

Niagara Falls Dry for a Day.

The winter of 1848 had been intensely cold, and the ice formed on Lake Erie was very thick. This was loosened around the shores by the warm days of early spring. During the day a stiff easterly wind moved the whole field up the lake. About sundown the wind chopped suddenly around and blew a gale from the west. This brought the vast tract of ice down again with such tremendous force that it filled the neck of the lake, and the outlet, so that the outflow of the water was very greatly impeded. Of course it only needed a very short space of time for the falls to drain off the water below Black Rock. The consequence was that, when we arose in the morning at Niagara, we found that our river was nearly all gone. The American channel had dwindled to a respectable creek. The British channel looked as though it had been smitten with a quick consumption and was fast passing away. Far up from the head of Goat Island, and out into the Canadian rapids, the water was gone, as it was also from the lower end of Goat Island, out beyond the tower. The rocks were bare, black, and forbidding. The roar of Niagara had subsided almost to a moan. The scene was desolate, and but for its novelty and the certainty that it would change before many hours, would have been gloomy and saddening. Every person who has visited Niagara will remember a beautiful jet of water which shoots up out of the water about forty rods south of the outer Sester in the great rapids, called, with a singular contradiction of terms, the "Leaping Rock." The writer drove a buggy from near the head of Goat Island out to a point above and near to that jet. With a log cart and four horses he had drawn from the outside of the outer island a stick of pine timber, heaved twelve inches square and forty feet long. From the top of the middle island was drawn a larger stick, heaved on one side, and sixty feet long. There are few places on the globe where a person would be less likely to go lumbering than in the rapids of Niagara, just above the brink of the Horse-Shoe fall. All the people of the neighborhood were abroad exploring recesses and cavities that had never before been exposed to mortal eyes. The writer went some distance up the shore of the river. Large fields at the muddy bottom lay bare. The singular synopsis of the waters lasted all the day, and night closed over the strange scene. But in the morning our river was restored in all its strength, beauty, and majesty, and we were glad to welcome its swelling tide once more.—Holley's Niagara.

THE HARVEST OF THE HEAD.—When the comb acts as a rake, bringing away a roll of dirtied filaments every time it passes through the hair, baldness would soon be inevitable. But even in this case, forlorn as it may seem, the mischief can be arrested, the loss repaired. Lyon's Katharion, aided by a brisk application of the brush to promote the absorption of the fluid by the scalp, will stop the thinning-out process in forty-eight hours. The roots from which the dead filaments were shed will soon be re-endowed with vitality, and a new growth will speedily spring up on the denuded places. This work of reproduction will go on until the damage is completely repaired, and the luxuriant crop of hair thus produced will never wither or fall out as long as the vitalizing application is regularly continued.—[Com.]

EXTRAORDINARY CURES.—We have read many accounts of the extraordinary cures by Dr. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS, which have seemed incredible. We are inclined to believe them, as many of those who vouch for them are persons whose veracity we can guarantee. The newspapers teem with testimonials of this character, and there is an air of particularity and of truth about them which cannot be resisted. One manifest superiority of the VINEGAR BITTERS possesses over other Alternative and Tonic preparations. It contains none of the burning fluids with which most advertised Bitters are impregnated. It cannot create Fever. Instead of clouding the brain, it clears it if clouded. It is well known that Alcohol, even of the purest description, weakens and untunes the stomach instead of bracing it, and is, therefore, poison in cases of Indigestion. Fancy, then, what must be the effect of the cheap Fire-water employed in making ordinary Bitters and Tinctures on the weakened and inflamed digestive organs. VINEGAR BITTERS, on the other hand, soothes the stomach, while it increases the appetite and relaxes the bowels. Dr. Walker is a regular physician, and his remedies have just as much authority as any standard remedies of the faculty. We believe they are destined to become a household medicine.—[Com.]

Such a filthy and profuse nasal discharge! Where does it all come from? The little glands in the tissues lining the chambers of the nose are ulcerated and diseased, drawing from the system its corruption. It is an outlet for its impurities. Stop this discharge by using the many advertised strong liquids, snuffs and inhalants, and you make an outlet in the lungs or elsewhere. The disease is translated to another locality more fatal. The rational way to cure is to correct the system by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which tones it up, cleanses the blood, and heals the diseased glands by a specific influence upon them. Use Dr. Pierce's Catarrh Remedy with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche, the only way to reach the upper and back cavities where the discharge comes from. No danger from this treatment, and it is the only sure cure. The snuffs and two medicines sold at once by druggists are $2.

Medical Blunders.

From the period when surgeons applied their knives to exposed wounds to the present time, the medical profession has often unwittingly taken side with Disease in its conflicts with the human system. Even yet, in spite of the teachings of centuries of experience, some physicians believe in depleting their patients, already seriously exhausted by sickness, with powerful evacuations, emetics, salivars, cathartics, blisters, &c. But, providentially, public intelligence is ahead of these medical fables, who belong of right to the era of the Crusades! That powerful ally of nature in its warfare with the causes of sickness, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, has opened the eyes of the masses to the paramount importance of increasing the vital strength of the body when attacked by Disease. They understand that when the atmospheric conditions are adverse to health—as, for example, in damp, chilly or severely cold weather—it is wise to reinforce the system with a wholesome tonic and stimulant, and thus enable it to combat and repel the depressing influence of an inclement temperature. If the constitutional and animal powers were always thus recruited in the presence of danger, the mortality from consumption, bronchitis, chronic rheumatism, &c., would be much less than it now is. The causes which produce cramps, colic, quinsy, diphtheria and catarrh seldom affect a strong and active vital system; and all of its vitalizing preparations, Hostetter's Bitters has proved the most efficient. It is not claimed that this standard tonic is a specific for lung complaints, but it is for dyspepsia, liver complaint and intermittents, but it is unhesitatingly asserted that it is the best known safeguard against all the atmospheric elements of disease.

VEGETINE is nourishing and strengthening; purifies the blood; regulates the bowels; quiets the nervous system; acts directly upon the secretions, and arouses the whole system to action.
