

Beyond the Mississippi.

Thousands have already gone, and thousands more are turning their eyes towards new homes in the fertile west. To those going to Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, Utah, Wyoming, Nevada, Oregon or California, we recommend a cheap, safe, quick and direct route via St. Louis, over the Missouri Pacific Railroad, which runs its fine Day Coaches and Pullman Sleepers from St. Louis to principal points in the West, without change. We believe that the Missouri Pacific Railroad has the best track and the finest and safest equipment of any line west of the Mississippi, and its connections with roads further west are prompt and reliable. The Texas connection of this road is now completed, and passengers are offered a first class, all rail route from St. Louis to Texas, either over the Missouri, Kansas & Texas R. R., via Sedalia, or over the Atlantic & Pacific R. R., via Vinita. For maps, timetables, information as to rates, routes, &c., we refer our readers to I. G. Wheeler, Northern Passenger Agent, 73 Lloyd St., Buffalo, N. Y. or E. A. Ford, General Passenger Agent, St. Louis, Mo. Questions will be cheerfully and promptly answered!

NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

The following notices of the Ladies' Repository by the religious and secular press of the country we have culled at random for our columns of our exchanges:

"Really a superior publication."

"The reading matter most excellent."

"One of the leading monthlies of the age."

"One of the best religious literary monthlies extant."

"One of the best as well as the cheapest of magazines."

"The bright particular star of the American firmament."

"The Ladies' Repository should find a place in every family."

"Full of the best reading matter. Can not be too widely circulated."

"This excellent monthly was never more ably edited than at present."

"The reading matter of a religious character, and by the best authors."

"Our lady friends will find the Repository always readable and instructive."

"Fresh and attractive as ever. The head of every family should subscribe for it."

"It is a religious work of high character, deserving the patronage of every family."

"We do not wonder that the Repository has so many friends; it deserves a place in every household."

"All ladies who want first-class religious and literary magazine, should subscribe at once for the Ladies' Repository."

"Beautiful lessons in biography, travel, natural history, various customs and life experiences both actual and imaginary."

"Surpassed by no publication issued from the press. The new editor fully maintains the former high character of the publication."

"Freighted with variety of interest and instruction. It ranks among the best of our magazines, and lends a charm to the family circle, where it is a welcome visitant."

"Splendidly illustrated with steel engravings, and well filled with substantially prose and poetical contributions. It is the best printed and best edited religious magazine published."

"Well calculated to take the place of the trashy, worthless literature under which the press, nowadays, groans. Its illustrations are among the best specimens of steel engravings offered to the public, and its editorship is scholarly, careful, and refined."

"The prettiest and most life-like engravings that we have seen this many a day. The general reading matter, both selected and original, is of a very superior order."

"A most excellent literary periodical. Each edition vies with its predecessor in its many attractive features. Besides other attractive features, its pages are enriched with the choicest reading matter. We have no hesitancy in recommending this magazine above all others."

"In typographical neatness and brilliancy it stands unrivaled. Its literary contents are well calculated to refine the taste and ennoble all the aims of life."

"Freighted with choice literature, story, biography, essays, poetry and anecdote. It is embellished with superb landscape engravings."

"We do not wonder at the popularity and circulation of this work, considering its literary character, its instructiveness, and its splendid typography."

"As we glance along its pages and gather in its beautiful thoughts, the conviction grows upon us that it is worthy of its present extensive circulation and even of greater."

"The prose articles are of a high order and are designed to improve the mind, morally as well as intellectually; and this is what the world in general, and our country in particular, needs.

Endeavor to me a three cent stamp for a reply, and give me a full history of your complaint. If, however, you can come and submit to a personal examination you had better do so. Plenty of reference from people in good standing given upon application. I will also state that I am a regular graduate of medicine and surgery, and have paid very particular attention to all its branches. Address F. M. LAMPER, M. D., Leavenworth, Mo. July 11-71.
