On Wednesday at 2:30 p. m., the ordination service of Rev. Walcott began. The council of ministers were well pleased with his knowledge of the bible, his christian experience was related in a very satisfactory manner and people here feel that they were very fortunate to secure such an able pastor. For the evening service Rev. Hix of Marshalltown gave the ordination service. Rev. Walcott was converted under his pastorate at the age of ten years. He gave an excellent sermon, and was followed by Dr. Breed of Grinnell, whose subject was "Charge to the Church" and made the members all feel that a great responsibility depended on them, and that ministers all appreciated being remembered at Thanksgiving time by presenting them with a turkey, or chicken etc., and when the good housewife was making the mince meat for pies it was also nice to remember the pastor by sending him some, and that we should see that they were promptly paid their salary, and if they were over paid so much the better. Rev. Rice of Council Bluffs who was pastor of the Congregational church at that place some fifty years ago gave the ordination prayer. The right hand of fellowship was extended by O. O. Smith of Council Bluffs. The choir prepared special music. Mrs. Dr. Gannaway of Dow City presided at the organ.

The Bishop Apologized.

Dr. Temple was wont to rule the diocese of Exeter with an iron hand, and a tale is told of a deacony meeting at which he presided, when the subject for discussion was "The Hindrances to the Spiritual Life of the Diocese." After the discussion had proceeded for some time a vicar electrified his audience by declaring that the greatest hindrance to the full spiritual life was none other than the bishop himself. "I repeat it," said the speaker calmly, "our right reverend father in God is very far from being a father to any of us. Your manner toward us," he continued, turning to the bishop, "is harsh in the extreme, while your method of rule is this: You treat us all, old and young, as if we were a set of schoolboys." This bold statement drew from the bishop an apology, and he explained that beneath his brusqueness of manner was a very genuine sympathy with the work of all the clergy. This impeachment created the more sensation in the meeting because it came from a son of Dr. Temple's predecessor, the famous Henry of Exeter.—Westminster Gazette.

Out of Office and In.

A well known radical member coined this happy phrase: "It is a pity that the government has not as much courage in office as it had conscience in opposition."—London Truth.

Mosquitoless Cities.

Over in Europe there are many happy towns where the note of the mosquito is never heard and the inhabitants don't care a snap about the pennyroyal market. But in America the cities which claim to be mosquitoless would not run up to a dozen. Denver is one of them, and, strange to say, Grand Rapids, Mich., only a short way from the great Gheenas of Lake Superior, is another. The explanation is that the city is built on hillocks of drift sand so deep and so finely pulverized that they absorb moisture like tissue paper. Stagnant water does not get a ghost of a chance to accumulate, and mosquitoes have carried their cargo of microbes to more congenial markets.—Health Culture.

Golf and the Liver.

Golf is the greatest of all games. It is the only recreation that is at one and the same time health giving and a complete preoccupation without being unduly physically exhaustive. But I am profoundly convinced that it is far better for a man's liver that he should play a poor game than a good one. I know from personal experience that it is far better for the liver to play a really bad game. Nothing stirs up the liver like the irritation, the excitement and the paroxysms of a really bad game.—London Graphic.

The Dog and the Stick.

Professor Wilhelm Wundt, the famous German psychologist, tells of teaching a dog to jump over a stick. One day the professor commanded his dog to jump, but held out no stick. At first the dog seemed surprised, and on repeated ordering to jump he barked. At last he sprang into the air and barked very vigorously, as if to complain of the absurd and ridiculous command to jump when no stick was held out.

Man's Debauching Influence.

"This African explorer whose experiences are being published in some of the papers says parrots are delicious eating. I always thought they were very tough."

"But he refers to wild parrots. It's their association with men that makes most parrots tough."—Philadelphia Press.

REVIEW'S MARKET LETTER.

Furnished by Clay Robinson Co., the Well Known Omaha Firm.

South Omaha, Nov. 20th, 1906.

Good active inquiry has been very noticeable in the corn-fed cattle division. Supplies, however, continue very moderate and everything of this sort showing flesh and finish have met ready sale at good strong figures. The supply of long fed stuff seems to be well cleaned up, and dealers will have to wait for the new crop. Tops sold today at $6.40; the highest prices in sometime. Good kinds are quotable at $5.50 to $6.00; fair to good $5.00 to $5.50; shot-feds anywhere from $3.50 to $5.00 owing to flesh and length of feeding. Supplies of butcher stock are still made up of grassers. Good kinds held steady last week, but the common classes met with reaction of 10 to 15 cents. Good to choice quotable at $3.25 to $3.90; fair to good $2.65 to $3.25; canners $1.75 to $2.25.

There has been active inquiry for all good stock and feeding steers and the light weights are selling at the top of the season. Good heavy feeding steers are selling at $4.25 to $4.50; fair to good $3.50 to $4.25; good to choice light and medium weights $3.90 to $4.25; fair to good $4.30 to $3.90. The hog market has shown little strength for sometime, and packers seem determined in their effort to break the market, but supplies have not been of sufficient proportions to further their cause to much extent. The trade is rather weak today but about steady, bulk selling at $5.95 to $6.05 top at $6.15.

Never Before

Have we been more admirably prepared to cater to the needs of the boys than now. In juvenile attire the styles are charming and possess a fashionable refined appearance, which will captivate the fancy of mothers who delight in having their little ones properly attired in well-made seasonable garments.

For those a few years older the

"Improved Viking"

is just what you have been looking for. They are stylish and made in a thoroughly dependable manner, calculated to withstand the usual wear and tear a boy ordinarily gives his clothes. Worth considering; the guarantee that goes with every garment.
