Need Only Trust to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, says Mrs. Kurtzweg.

Buffalo, N. Y.—"My daughter, whose picture is herewith, was much troubled with pains in her back and sides every month and they would sometimes be so bad that it would seem like acute inflammation of some organ. She read your advertisement in the newspapers and tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

She praises it highly as she has been relieved of all these pains by its use. All mothers should know of this remedy, and all young girls who suffer should try it."—Mrs. MATILDA KURTZWEIG, 529 High St., Buffalo, N. Y.

Young women who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, headache, dragging-down sensations, fainting spells or indigestion, should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Thousands have been restored to health by this root and herb remedy.

If you know of any young woman who is sick and needs help, please write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. Only women will receive her letter, and it will be held in strictest confidence.

If Woman's Place Is at the Sink, Let It Be High

UNTIL lately no architects or plumbers have taken pains to consult womankind as to how high or low sinks shall stand.

Now comes Mrs. Bertha Tallman, who calls herself a "house surgeon." She has been a plumber for ten years, ever since her husband died and left her his business. But she carries on the plumbing trade like a woman, and one of the first things she set herself to do was to find out what women really need and not to tell them what she thinks they need when they know they don't. "The contention that sinks must all be the same height," she says, "is as absurd as if shoes were all made the same size. Every day thousands of women are breaking their backs over sinks that are set too low. They are becoming nervous and round shouldered with constant stooping to their work. It is quite unnecessary. Bathtubs ought to stand higher. It is almost impossible to clean under them with any degree of comfort."

Every woman who has ever lain flat on the floor to grope under the bathtub with a long handled brush knows that only too well, but it was no use telling the plumbers so. Light is another thing on which Mrs. Tallman has notions of her own. Sinks set in dark corners and stoves on which neither natural nor artificial light shines are not properly placed.
