Gottlieb Sprang, of Dow City, was a county seat caller Tuesday when he brought some of his covey seed up to the seed house to be cleaned. On page one of the first section we print in full the inaugural address of President Wilson which was delivered at the capital Monday, March 1. Miss May Fisher returned last week from Cherokee where she had been caring for her mother who is confined in the hospital there. She reports her mother greatly improved. Mrs. Chamberlain, who resides at Glenwood, Ia., spent several days last week in Denison visiting her daughter, Miss Fay Chamberlain who is an instructor in the high school. Dr. P. H. Stouder, extension professor of the Ames agricultural college, will lecture at the court house on "Farm Sanitation," on Wednesday afternoon, March 14, at 3 o'clock. Mrs. Joe Brogden departed Tuesday for Sioux Falls, S. D., where the Brogden's will make their future home. Mr. Brogden left Denison two weeks ago to get the new home in readiness. Mrs. Leo Weber has been at Carroll for the past few days helping care for her sister, Mrs. M. Eland, who is confined in the hospital. Mr. Weber spent Sunday at Carroll with his wife. Mrs. J. L. Boyd went to Morning Side Saturday to spend the week visiting her daughters, Alice and Frances, who are attending college at that place and to be in attendance at the Woman's banquet at Morningside college.

Thos. A. Edison on His 70th. Birthday Said:

I find that seventy years are not many---I feel as if I had grown a year younger in the past twelve months instead of a year older. I expect the increased record production and the improved quality have something to do with that. I hope that all of you on your seventieth birthdays will feel as young as I do.

J. V. BARBORKA

E. K. Burch transacted business at Schleswig Saturday. E. T. McAndrews was a business caller in Vail Tuesday. Mr. Albert Vernon and son were in Vail Monday transacting business. Miss Hattie Stegemann, of Schleswig, has been spending the past few days in Denison, a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Reimers. Dr. R. O. McConaughy departed last evening for Iowa City where he will remain the balance of the week in attendance at the state dental convention. Mrs. H. P. Saggau and little son expect to leave the first of the week for Belton, Mo., where she will visit at the home of her sister, Mrs. Clem Mahon. Misses Gene Miller and Hedwig Brodersen, both instructors in the high school, have been on the sick list for the past few days, suffering with the grippe. Attorney Jacob Sims left yesterday for Council Bluffs where he transacted business. From there he goes to Des Moines to argue cases before the supreme court. Mrs. George McHenry and sons, will return home this evening from Columbus, Neb., where they have been visiting for the past two weeks at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. D. Evans. The Review office force has been kept busy the past two weeks making changes in the addresses of subscribers. Subscribers should notify us as soon as possible of changes of address so no copies will be missed. The skating rink which was conducted at the corner of Main and Chestnut streets during the winter, has been moved to Missouri Valley and people residing in the vicinity are not a bit sorry either that it is gone. We have been requested to announce that Rev. C. C. Polib, D. D., of St. Mark's Episcopal church at Minneapolis, Minn., will preach at Trinity Episcopal church in Denison on Wednesday, March 14th, at 7:30 o'clock in the evening. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend this service. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Harrow, of Caloway, Neb., spent last week in Denison visiting at the home of Mrs. Harrow's sister, Mrs. C. M. Staley. On Saturday, Mrs. Staley accompanied them to Industry, Ill., where she will visit a sister, Mrs. Geo. Brand, whom she has not seen for thirty-eight years. The Denison stores are filled to capacity with spring merchandise which has been arriving for the past several weeks. Buyers have scoured the eastern markets for that which is up to the minute and we doubt whether stores in the cities have a better showing than our Denison merchants now have. The county officials are right up against it trying to conduct the business of the county while the decorators are at work. Every office in the court house is torn up while the painters are giving the rooms a new coat of paint and the officials are kept busy moving their desks from one room to another. Hugo Saggau purchased the Nick Lafrantz residence property on the corner of Broadway and Dyer street, on Monday this week for a consideration of $6,000. Hugo tells us that he purchased the property for an investment. It is rumored, however, that a new garage may be erected on this site some time in the future. Messrs Jannison and Coloco, state checkers, arrived in Denison last week to go over the books of the various county officers and see that the business of Crawford county is conducted as it should be. The books are every county seat are gone over carefully once each year. The work here in Crawford county requires about a month's time. R. S. Johnston, secretary of the Maple Valley Firemen's association, writes the Review that the mid-winter meeting of the association will be held at Odebou on Wednesday, March 28th. Each department of the territory of the association is entitled to two delegates at this meeting and he is particularly anxious that the Denison fire department be represented. At this meeting the town will be selected for the holding of the annual tournament and the question of changing the rules governing it will be taken up. Rev. J. C. Tourtelot, pastor of the Presbyterian church, has tendered his resignation to his pastor, to take effect March 20th. Rev. Tourtelot has had this charge for about three years and during his residence here has made many warm friends who will be sorry to learn that he and his estimable family are to leave. He, as yet, has not decided upon a new location, but we understand has under consideration two different pastorates in the eastern part of the state. No one has been secured to fill the vacancy caused by his resignation. H. P. Saggau, proprietor of the Denison Auto Company, has plans already completed for a considerable addition to his garage on Broadway. The addition as planned will join the present building on the south and will go clear to the alley, being one story with a basement. Mr. Saggau plans to move the repair department to the basement which will give him additional space on the ground floor for storing machines. The business of the Denison Auto company has so increased during the past year, under the management of Mr. Saggau, that the present quarters are inadequate.

J. F. Goss transacted business at Dow City Friday. Attorney Saul, of Carroll, is in Denison today transacting business and calling on acquaintances. Sylvan Chapter 297, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold its regular meeting on Tuesday evening, March 13th. Meeting will begin promptly at 7:30 o'clock. Sam Anger, the horse buyer, was at Laub's barn today, but on account of the storm very few horses were brought in. Anger has the reputation of paying top notch prices and ordinarily finds no difficulty in picking up a car load every time he comes to Denison. He will be here again in two weeks. STRUCTURE OF THE EYE. Why We See Better in a Moderate Than in a Glaring Light. An observant chauffeur, passing an automobile with glaring headlights, noted that objects at the side of the road which had been distinctly visible dropped out of sight when the bright lights were thrown upon them. Since one can see better in a little light than in no light, he wondered, why can one not see better in bright light than in moderate light? The answer is, paradoxically, that the less light there is the better one sees, for the brighter the object the less efficient is the eyesight. If, after we have been in darkness, we suddenly turn on a bright light and look at our eyes in a mirror we can see the pupil of the eye rapidly growing smaller. If we reduce the light the pupil dilates again. What happens is the same as in the camera when we adjust the shutter to the intensity of the light. The colored iris of the eye corresponds to the shutter. It consists chiefly of a muscle which, as the light increases, is stimulated to contract, thus drawing the curtain and shutting out some of the superfluous light. It usually takes a few seconds for this adjustment to take place. Thus when we emerge from darkness into light we are blinded until the iris can shut out some of the light from the eyes. A WHITE HOUSE DINNER. Dishes President Jefferson Served to His Guests in 1802. Manasseh Cutler, the founder of the Ohio colony and father of the ordinance of 1787, kept a diary all through his public life, and it is now in the possession of Charles G. Dawes. It contains an account of a dinner at the White House given by President Jefferson Feb. 6, 1802, to which Mr. Cutler and six members of the house were invited. Mr. Cutler wrote that there was "rice soup, round of beef, turkey, mutton, ham, loin of veal, cutlets of mutton or veal, fried eggs, fried beef, a pie called macaroni, which appears to be a rich crust filled with strifions of onions or shallots, which I took to be; tasted very strong and not agreeable. "Mr. Lewis told me there were no onions in it; it was an Italian dish, and what appeared like onions was made of flour and butter with a particularly strong liquor mixed with them. Ice cream, very good; crust wholly dried, crumbled into thin flakes, a dish somewhat like pudding, inside white as milk or curd, very porous and light, covered with cream-sauce; very fine. "Many other jimmicks, a great variety of fruit, plenty of wines and good. President social. We drank tea."—Columbus Dispatch. Americans' Physical Development. While this country may excel in a competition of trained athletes or in certain kinds of mental ingenuity or shrewdness, it is certain that the average man is far from a model of perfect physical development. A casual inspection of the crowds on the streets of any one of our large cities will reveal pale, undernourished and poorly developed youths and pasty, flabby men in large numbers and will convince the open minded observer of the desirability for the individual of some form of regular physical training. That the country bred, moreover, are not greatly superior to those brought up in the city has been the experience of most military men who have had occasion to handle large numbers of troops.—New York Medical Record. Lieutenant General. Many of us are puzzled to know why a lieutenant general ranks higher than a major general. Perhaps the explanation is that the titles date back to the commonwealth, when the country was divided into military districts, the less important under the control of a sergeant major general, the rank beyond that of colonel, and the more important being governed by a lieutenant general, the captain general being Cromwell himself. The lapse of time has deleted the sergeant from the sergeant major general.—London Chronicle. Ocean Currents. There are twenty-seven permanent currents in the oceans of the world, and there are nearly as many more of the semi-permanent variety existing at one time. Several causes tend to originate and maintain these drifts. Uniformly directed winds have the greatest influence, and differences of temperatures, storms, polar ice and eddies have each some effect, creating usually the currents of semi-permanent variety. What Life Is. Life is not made out of money, and friendship, and talents, and patronage, and family influences, and good thances, and good positions, and good health, and good nature. It is made out of faith, virtue, knowledge, temperance, patience, godliness, and brotherly kindness and love.—Luther.
