Aurora Mardiganian herself, in "Auction of Souls"

"Auction of Souls," to be presented at the Denison theater August 19th and 20th, is a record of fact. It pictures the story of Aurora Mardiganian, sole survivor of 500,000 young Armenian girls who were killed during the period of terror created by the Turks in 1915 when it was decided to deport the Armenians and annihilate them as a nation.

The picture is based upon Miss Mardiganian's own story of her amazing escape after two years of terrors. Every accusation of barbarism she charges against the Turks is officially verified by Viscount James Bryce, former British ambassador to the United States, who headed a commission which was sent into Armenia to report the facts, and by Henry Morgenthau, American ambassador to Turkey in 1915.

While the interest centers around the experiences of the sole surviving Armenian girl, international characters are figures. One of the pictured events shows a meeting between the sultan of Turkey, a weak old man, Enver Pasha, who later became the cruel military dictator, the German ambassador, and Henry Morgenthau, the American ambassador. At this meeting Mr. Morgenthau made a last vain plea for the Armenians.

There follow the actual scenes showing the poisoning of the deportation edict, the burning of the homes of Armenians, "slaughter" of men in the streets, the forming of the long lines of men and women to be driven across the desert, attacks upon girls, and finally the terrible cruelties which were inflicted by the wild tribes who captured and enslaved the women who had managed to escape from the prisoners' train.

New York World: If high prices are due here, as unquestionably they are in Europe, to inflation, we should know the fact. The senate is asking its banking committee to report upon that point acts wisely. But who has proposed also to inquire whether the reckless resumption of stock exchange gambling and the promotion of watered or worthless securities have not helped bedevil the commodity markets; and whether these evils need forever be endured?

Sage Tea Keeps Your Hair Dark

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color, Youthfulness and Lustre—Everybody is Using It Again

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young. Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it's natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

Keep on "Conserving"

THE war taught us conservation—a good lesson for most of us. Apply it now and if you aren't using the Firestone Gray Sidewall Tires switch to them at once and ride at the rate of most miles per dollar.

This is the tire of the year—something better than Firestone or any other builder ever made before.

It is costly to "shop" for a price. Buy Firestones and save.

More or Less

Some folks think the more care a car owner gives his battery the more service it will render.

Others say "the less you bother with it the better."

Both are partly right and partly wrong.

We can show you some things that will make your battery serve better and last longer. At least drive around and let's get acquainted.
