Final Notice—Taxes for 1871.—

This is the last appeal we shall make to delinquents for tity and School Taxes for 1875; bills having been rendered and called for several times, and notices sent by postal card. Some few have paid no attention to these requests while some others have promised and have not paid. Now, on account of the short time we have to settle and the City urging us for the money, we are obliged from necessity and for our own protection, to levy on the goods and chattels of each delinquent, and having commenced to do so, we will continue to make levies and sell until the taxes are paid. Those having no property and who are not able to pay, will please call at the Collectors' effice and make satisfactory arrangements and to those who are able to pay and to those who are able to pay and to those who are able to pay the tent of the pay there is nothing for us to do but pay the city taxes or take them to jail, and the latter we will positively do.

The New Club.

The formation of another Base Ball As sociation in this city, is the topic of general conversation among the fraternity, and their friends. The new movement seems to have grown out of the dissatisfaction occasiond by the formation of the Quick-step nine, and old members of the Quick-step club, of last year are the fathers of the movement. Emanuel Richenberger seems to be the chief engineer of the new plan, and it is said that the organization is "solid,"

"solid,"

A HERALD representative yesterday was talking with an old base ball player, who is a gentlemen well known as "authority" in base ball matters, although he does not play now, and he severely criticised the proposition advanced that Lafferty would join the new club. He said that the movement was not likely to succeed and gave some reasons why. He also thought that Lafferty was in honor bound to the Quicksteps.

Lanerty was in nonrotunt to the quick-steps.

There can be no doubt, said he, but that the old club will be the popular one in this city, and although the new movement may survive some time it cannot be sustained for any great length of time.

Robbing a General.

Last night, the poultry house of General Reynolds in Appoquinimink Hundred, was broken into and robbed. The General was apprised of this fact by a special telegram yesterday, and the first train found him enroute, determined to ca'l out the militia in pursuit of the thieves. When he reached his plantation, he found his entire, staff booted and spurred, but pursuit was useless, and the General suspects that some colered family has been dising on chicken at his expense.

Dover, Mar 30, 1876. The prospect for building up the Confer ence Academy is more gleomy than it has been. It is stated that work cannot be begun before June, if at all. In the meantime the students of the institution, having the almost unlimited run of the town, are the almost unlimited run of the town, are having a good time generally. The moving of the school into town has given a new source of amusement to the gamins of the place. The bell of the institution has been lotsted on a pole in front of the study hall on State street, and the adventurous gamin amuses himself by ringing the bell. At all hours, day and night, this bell thus keeps up a constant ding-dong, rendering itself an almost ubbearable nuisance.

An Ugly Rumor.

For the past few days it has been generally talked about and believed by many, that two prominent members of the Delawa.e. avenue Baptist Church, who have had charge of the financial a dairs; of it, have found it necessary to make use of the money which had been collected for the support of the church. Rumor says that one of the parties loaned money belonging to the church to another, in order that he might meet his liabilities, which amounted to about $3,000. Be this as it may, there has been a deficit of that amount found in the report of one of the members. This is a serious charge to bring against a church member who conducted the revivals with as much split as Mr. Haldeman himself.
