WORK OR BREAD.

Workingmen Again En-Masse—The Meeting last night—The Demand for Relief Becomes Urgent—Committees Appointed—Resolutions Presented—Thos. Kane Makes a Speech—The Water Committee, the Council, and the Newspapers Denounced—A Boot Black and Martin Farrell Makes a Speech—Work to be Resumed to-morrow.

In response to the call for a meeting of the workingmen of this city, to be held at the City Hall last evening, about 300 or 400 men assembled. The meeting was organized by calling Mr. Thomas Kane to the chair, who addressed the assemblage, for several minutes, during which he alluded to the suffering and distress of the men in the city without work.

At the conclusion of his speech, a committee of three to wait upon the Water Committee was appointed, as follows: John Shaw, John Donahue, and Martin Mealey. A committee of three on resolutions was then appointed, as follows: Thomas F. O'Donnell, George Sierrett and James Cleaver, (colored). The committee on the Water Committee was instructed to wait upon that body at once and require its presence at the meeting.

The Committee on Resolutions then retired, and during its absence, the meeting was addressed by the president.

The following resolutions were then presented, read and adopted:

First. Be it Resolved, By this meeting here assembled, that we ask the question why Mr. Pyle, and his Honor Mayor Whiteley, should come between the workingman and his daily bread.

Second. And be it further Resolved, That Mayor Whiteley as executive officer of the city, take into consideration the fulfillment of the law made in Council last Friday evening, July 21, 1876.

Third. And be it further Resolved, That the Water Committee be instructed by this meeting of the unemployed workingmen of the city of Wilmington, to proceed with the work on the Cool Spring Reservoir, on to-morrow morning, July 28, 1876.

Fourth. And be it further Resolved, That if the Water Committee does not proceed with the above named work, that the Mayor and City Council be authorized, by this meeting, to procure bread or labor for the needy of this city, to be had at such places as His Honor may designate.

THOS. F. O'DONNELL, GEORGE SIERRETT, JAS. CLEAVER.

The President endorsed the Resolutions, and made a few remarks upon them. He concluded amid the cries for different speakers.

The Water Committee of Council, Messrs. Pyle, Paynter, Canby and Jones, here made its appearance, at the request of Mr. Pyle, the resolutions were again read. Mr. Pyle then addressed the meeting, informing it that a private session was now being held to take action in regard to work commencing on the Reservoir. After some remarks from Mr. Paynter, in which he thought if work could not go on, it would be advisable to spend the money due the Reservoir in buying bread for the needy, Martin Farrell being called upon arose and in a harangue denounced the action of the Water Committee in not allowing work to be resumed on the reservoir on last Monday morning; spoke particularly against the sentiment of the press, in regard to the condition of the workingmen, and asked if the meeting endorsed what he had done in this matter. He assured the men that if they deferred the matter until the next meeting of Council, the work would never go on.

He concluded amidst the calls for other gentlemen, and loud cries for order.

James Burke, at the invitation of the President, arose and expressed some very sensible remarks. He said the only way to resume, was to resume.

He was followed by Charles Alexander, a colored boot black, who for nearly an hour, entertained the meeting with broken fragments of ill expressed sentences which for ludicrousness would be hard to beat. Charlie was heartily applauded, nevertheless.

The Water Committee then returned and reported that Council had decided that work should begin on the Reservoir on Thursday morning, and that employment would be given to 100 men, 10 from each Ward in the city, and that each member of Council select from each Ward five of the most needy men; these are to have work one week, and in turn give place to others in need of it. How long work would be continued, could not be stated, but Council will at its next meeting adopt, if possible, some method for continuing the work.

After the announcement of the above, the men slowly dispersed, apparently well satisfied. The next meeting of the workingmen will take place to-morrow evening.

[Owing to the lateness of the hour when the meeting concluded, and our limited space, the speeches could not be given.—Ed.]

EXCITEMENT AT NEWPORT.

Dispute over a Division Line—The People Arise and Tear Down a Fence. [From Yesterday's Gazette.]

The quiet little village of Newport yesterday afternoon, was the scene of a domestic insurrection, the like of which was never seen there before, but which however, was attended with no bloody or serious results. The particulars are as follows:

For a long time past there has been a dispute between the Trustees of St. James P. E. Chapel (recently erected) and the Commissioners of School District No. 21, in regard to the division line between the church and school properties. Recently the Trustees put up a fine new fence, and placed it out so as to take in a large portion of the disputed ground, which had been used as the school playground.

Meanwhile the subject has been disputed, pro and con, and yesterday the people of the town, excited to fever heat, rushed out en masse, and made a vigorous assault upon the new fence. Axes and shovels were freely used, and in a short time the boards were torn off, the posts dug up, and the entire fence carried across the road and laid upon the ground.

Then the people procured the old fence which formerly divided the two properties, and placed it in position on the division line as claimed by the School Commissioners. This done, they dispersed to their homes.

These proceedings were vigorously opposed by the Trustees and friends of the church, but they were few in number and could make no effectual resistance. They will, however, contest the matter in the courts.

Domestic Markets.

The street markets, yesterday afternoon, were well attended. The display of fruits and vegetables was quite good. The prices are still moderate, with exception of butter and eggs, which are advancing. Blackberries are still plenty and command very good prices. There is little change in the meat markets. The following may be called the average prices asked:

PUGILISTIC.

Two Women Fetti-Cuff.

On Third street between Market and King, two women collided, and flatted each other lively for a time. The one saw her husband with another whom she suspected of making too friendly with him and pitched into her for taking his money when she had need for all, for her baby was without sugar for its milk and she the wife without anything to eat at home. A large crowd gathered but the disturbance soon subsided when a courts constable came upon the scene.

A crowd of men got up a row at Fourth and Walnut streets on Monday night about 11 o'clock, and made the night hideous for a time. It resulted in bloody noses and loud swearing. A good job for the policemen, had they been around.

Railroad Accidents.

The West Chester "Local News," of Monday says: Yesterday a newsboy on the train from Philadelphia to West Chester, was run over at Fernwood station, on the W. C. & P. R. R., and received such injuries that death resulted shortly after. He was in the act of jumping on the train as it moved away from the station, when he fell between the platform and the cars, where he was mutilated in a terrible manner. This boy was a new agent, and this was his first trip
