CLAIM OWNERS IN ARMY STOCK QUOTATIONS OF CAN'T DO ANNUAL WORK COEUR D'ALENE MINES

SUPPORT OF ASSESSMENT WORK EXEMPTION.

A strong argument in favor of ex empting mining claims from assess nent this year and to which little attention has been given, was advanced by G. W. Dougherty while in the city the other day. Mr. Dougherty has written numerous letters to congressmen urging the passage of the exemp-tion measure and there is evidence these have accomplished much R. In discussing the subject, Mr. Dougherty called attention to the sit-uation of the Slavonian Mining company, of which he is secretary, which pany, of which he is secretary, which is duplicated by many other development companies. He says there are about 60 stockholders of the Slavonian, most of whom are natives of Ser-Al Two-thirds of these stockholders went into the army, and several of them joined the Canadian forces to for their native land before the Ca United States declared war. five or six of these have returned, the others being still in the army.

Can't Pay Assessment.

The Slavonian company owns a group of five claims joining the town-upon the stockholders, two-thirds or whom are in the army. They have no money with which to pay assessments and will come out of the army with practically no funds. Thus if the exemption measure fails, the company, in order to avoid losing its claims will have to levy an assessment large enough to make the amount received from one-third of the stockholders sufficient to course the stockholders. sufficient to cover the cost of annual assessment work, for it is evident toat condition that confronts the Slavon-ian is the same that confronts many companies. Certainly every consideration of justice and fairness to these men favors relieving them from this annual expenditure and securing them in their rights.
