EDUCATION.

MRS. PORTER'S SEMINARY
WILL be re-opened, at the Dwelling of the Alexandria Bank, corner of Fairfax and Cameron streets, on the 15th of September, 1834.

Encouraged by the success which has thus far attended the efforts of the Principals of this Institution, they have continued to avail themselves of every advantage, which the various improvements in Europe and America have conferred upon the science of education.

A Gentleman of liberal education and experience in the art of teaching, has recently taken the charge of the classes in Arithmetic, Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, and Astronomy. This acquisition, with suitable apparatus for exhibiting experiments, and familiar lectures, which will be given on each branch, complete the advantages enjoyed within the limits of this Institution. B. Halliwell's course of lectures are also attended through the winter season.

The vigilant care and paternal watchfulness ever attendant upon the pupils, command opportunities for inculcating lessons on numerous points of morals and manners, which can only be secured by that maternal interest which wins the regard and confidence of the pupils.

Board and Tuition, in all the English branch-
