

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE

AND
VIRGINIA ADVERTISER.PUBLISHED DAILY AND TRI-WEEKLY BY EDGAR SNOWDEN.THE ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE, for the country, is printed on Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday.Subscription.—The Daily Paper is furnished for $5 per annum—payable half yearly.The Country Paper (tri-weekly) is furnished for $5 per annum—payable in advance.Advertisements.—Advertisements inserted at the rate of 50 cents per line for three insertions, and 25 cents every subsequent insertion. Yearly advertisements are charged in proportion to the number of their insertions.No subscription is received from the country, unless accompanied by the cash, or by a responsible name.Persons advertising by the year not to advertise articles not included in their regular business, nor to insert in their advertisements any other names than their own.

[SELECTED FOR THE ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE.]

A HEALTH TO THE OUTWARD BOUND.

Fill! fill the sparkling brimmer;
Fill for the moments fly!
The star's weary light grow dimmer,
And the moon fades away from the sky;
Fill for the signal flag is up!
And the wind is veering round!
In haste let us pledge our parting cup,
To the health of the outward bound.Fill high! this hour to-morrow,
Nor toast nor jest shall be—
But a few shall meet in sorrow,
While the many plough the sea!
Then while we're all together,
Give the toast! let it circle round
Full sails and prosperous weather,
And a health to the outward bound.Let no adieu be spoken—
To weep is a woman's part!
Nor give me a farewell token,
But a health from our inmost heart!
Oh! when the wind blows free,
And the rough waves roll around,
The health shall come back to their
memory,
That we drank to the outward bound!

TREATY WITH MEXICO.

We are informed, through a channel in which we confide, that Mr. Ellis, carried out with him, on board the frigate Constitution, which sailed a few days since, a treaty negotiated at Washington and signed in the early part of April, by Mr. Martinez, on the part of the Mexican, and Mr. Forsyth on the part of the American Government. By the provisions of this treaty, we understand that within three months after the ratification of it by the high contracting parties, two Commissioners are to be appointed by each power, which four Commissioners shall form a board, to hold their sittings at Washington, to whom shall be submitted all private claims, that within eighteen months after their first meeting, they shall examine and decide on all cases submitted to their consideration. That immediately after the result of their labor shall have been communicated to the Mexican Government, that Government shall issue its bonds, bearing an interest of eight per cent. to the respective claimants for the amount of the award in their favor. That these bonds shall be receivable in payment of duties at the several Custom Houses of the Republic of Mexico, but that when large sums are presented at one time, or at one place, the Government may refuse to receive more than one half such amount.

We are further informed, that all those grievances of a public nature, which have heretofore threatened to interrupt the peace of the two countries, including the difficulties respecting Texas, are substantially arranged in a satisfactory manner.—N. Y. Courier.

Correspondence of the U. S. Gazette.

NEW YORK, Wednesday, 1 P. M.

We have no news here to-day of any kind, but shall probably have a few days' later intelligence from England, this afternoon, by a transient ship, the Portsmouth, which left Liverpool about the 2d inst.—nothing is up from her however yet.

Stocks continue very quiet, and without any variation of consequence in prices. A sale of U. S. Bank Stock was made at the opening of the board at 120, but it finally closed 119 3/4; Vicksburg Bank 59 1/4; Bank of Kentucky 90 1/4; Stonington Rail Road 35, and Canton Co. 45 1/4.

Letters from Key West to the 20th instant, have been received here to-day, reporting the arrival at that port for repairs, of the ship Tennessee, Sisters, bound from Bordeaux for New Orleans, after being ashore on French Reef. Some five or six lighter loads of goods had been taken from the vessel before she was got off, but she is probably not much injured.

The brig Norfolk, Mathews, from Philadelphia, bound to Halifax, struck on a rock near Yarmouth, N. S. on the 17th inst.—got off with loss of rudder, &c.—vessel does not make any water.

DUELS ABROAD.—Sundry of these "transactions" are detailed in foreign papers received by the late arrivals among which may be mentioned the following:—On the 10th inst. between two militiamen at Diest on the 21st April. Both fell, like Sempronius, for that terribile causa belli, "a worthless woman."—Captain Hertz, of the 2d Regt. of Chasseurs-a-pied, and Captain Vanderauvera, of the 2d Regt. of Lancers, met at ten o'clock in the morning with their swords outside, the walls, and fought amidst an immense crowd during two hours, without any attempting to interfere. Captain Vanderauvera at last received a deep cut on the chest, near the right shoulder, and inflicted a similar one near the left shoulder of his adversary. In this state they still continued to fight, until Captain Vanderauvera inflicted an awful gash on the abdomen of his rival, through which his bowels appeared, and in drawing back his sword nearly cut three of his own fingers off. The mangled combatants were then laid on straw, in a travelling artillery force and attended by their surgeons, but in vain. Capt. Hertz died in about two hours; the other lingered till next day. The police (who stood and looked on) were afterward very busy hunting out "the criminal participants!"—Philadelphia Gazette.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

Alexandria County, to wit:
Honorable James S. Morell, Assistant Judge of the Circuit Court of the District of Columbia, do hereby discharge from imprisonment, under the act for the relief of insolvent debtors, within the District of Columbia, on Monday the 3d of June, at 10 o'clock, A. M., at the Court Room; when and where his creditors are requested to attend.
my 30—31 E. I. LEE, C. C.

ALEXANDRIA:

SATURDAY MORNING, JUNE 1, 1839.

FROM FLORIDA—TREATY WITH THE SEMINOLES—THE WAR PROBABLY ENDED.

It gives us great pleasure to announce the arrival at the seat of Government of Major General Macomb, who has succeeded in pacifying the Indians of Florida, and has made such an arrangement with them as will effectually put a stop to the further effusion of blood in that Territory. The country to be occupied provisionally by the Indians is situated beyond all former settlements, and the cordon of posts established across the peninsula from New Smyrna to Tampa Bay will be furnished with a sufficient number of troops to ensure the faithful observance of the terms dictated by Gen. Macomb, both by the white and red men.

Late despatches received from Fort Gibson announce that Gen. Arbuckle and the Superintendent of Indian Affairs, Gen. Armstrong, had, in pursuance of instructions from the Secretary of War, made an arrangement for the future permanent establishment of the Seminoles, perfectly satisfactory to Micanopy and other chiefs, and that the Seminoles now in the West were about to remove there.—Globe.

GENERAL ORDER.

Headquarters of the Army of the U. States.

FORT KING, Florida, May 18, 1839.

The Major-general-commanding in chief has the satisfaction of announcing to the army in Florida, to the authorities of the Territory, and to the citizens generally, that he has this day terminated the war with the Seminole Indians, by an agreement entered into with Chitto-Tustenugge, principal chief of the Seminoles, and successor to Ar-pi-kee, commonly called Sam Jones, brought to this port by Lieutenant Col. Harney of the 2d dragoons from the southern part of the peninsula. The terms of the agreement are, that hostilities immediately cease between the parties; that the troops of the United States, and the Seminole and Micasukie chiefs and warriors, now at a distance, be made acquainted as soon as possible with the fact that peace exists, and that all hostilities are forthwith to cease on both sides, the Seminoles and Micasukies agreeing to retire into a district of country in Florida below Pease creek, the boundaries of which are as follows, viz: beginning at the most southern point of land between Charlotte harbor and the Colosahatchee or Saunabel river; thence into Charlotte harbor by the southern pass between Pine Island and said point, along the eastern shore of said harbor to Talak-Chumpko or Pease creek; thence up that river to Hatchee Tuloko or Brig creek; thence up said creek to its source; thence easterly to the northern point of lake Istopoga; thence along the eastern outlet of said lake, called Istopoga creek, to the Kissimmee river; thence southwardly down the Kissimmee to lake Oke-chobee; thence south through said lake to Echalatchee or Shark river; thence down said river westwardly to its mouth; thence along the sea shore northwardly to the place of beginning; that sixty days be allowed the Indians north and east of that boundary to remove their families and effects into said district, where they are to remain under the protection of the troops of the United States, who are to see that they be not molested by intruders, citizens, or foreigners, and that the said Indians do not pass the limits assigned them, except to visit the ports which will be hereafter indicated to them. All persons are therefore forbidden to enter the district assigned to said Indians, without written permission from some commanding officer of a military port.

ALEXANDER MACOMB,

Major-General-commanding-in Chief.

By command of the General:
E. Schriver, A. A. General.

Extract from the despatch of Gen. Macomb to the Secretary of War.

Knowing the slowness of the Indians in performing any matter of national importance, I did not yield to the general belief that none would attend to my invitation, and I had the gratification to receive a visit from a young chief of considerable importance, accompanied by several young active warriors. I explained to the chief the object of my mission, telling him that his great father (the President) was sorry that there had been so much fighting between white and red children, and that for their good he recommended to them to cease firing on each other, and make peace. The chief expressed himself greatly delighted with the prospect of peace. I told him that if the whole nation would retire below Pease creek, that hostilities would cease, and that they might remain there, until further arrangements could be made. He again expressed his gladness at hearing what I said, and promised that he would take my communication and spread it around, being persuaded that it would be well received by all his people. In a few days after he collected a considerable party of his people, consisting of men, women, and children, and I paid me another visit. I repeated to him the same promises, and they seemed all pleased with it. I then made them some presents, after which they departed much gratified, for they were all in a most destitute condition, as to clothing and other necessities.

On the 17th instant, Lt. Colonel Harney of the 2d dragoons, who had previously received my directions to open a communication with the Indians in the southern portion of the peninsula, near Key Biscayne, arrived with Chitto-Tustenugge, principal chief of the Seminoles, who had been recently elected by a council held by the Seminoles and Micasukies. Chitto-Tustenugge expressed a great desire that the business on which he had been called to meet me, might be speedily attended to. Accordingly, on the next day, a meeting was held, composed of Chitto-Tustenugge, attended by O-cho-Hado, a brother of Blue Snake, who came with him to witness the proceedings at the request of the Council of the Nation, and Harlock-Hado, Chief of the Micasukies in this section of the country, and all his band that had not been despatched by him to call in the warriors who were out in detached parties. After going through the usual ceremonies among the Indians of smoking and smoking, I explained to the meeting who I was, and the object of my mission among them, at which they immediately evinced great satisfaction. I then dictated to them the terms of peace, which they readily accepted, manifested great joy on the occasion, and they have since been dancing and singing according to their fashion, in token of friendship and peace, in which many of our officers joined them, all being satisfied of the sincerity of the respective parties. The enclosed general order, announcing the result of the conference, exhibits the terms of peace.—Under existing circumstances, I did not think it necessary to enter into a formal written treaty, such an instrument with Indians having but little binding effect. Nor did I think it politic at this time to say any thing about their emigration, leaving that subject open to such future arrangements as the Government may think proper to make with them. No restriction upon the pleasure of the Government in this respect has been imposed, nor has any encouragement been given to the Indians that they would be permitted permanently to remain in Florida.

There is every reason to believe that when the Indians remaining in Florida shall learn the prosperous condition of their brethren in Arkansas, they will, at no distant period, ask to be permitted to join them.

I have the honor to be, sir,

Very respectfully,
Your obt. servant,
ALEX. MACOMB
Maj. Gen. Commanding-in Chief.
Hon. J. R. POINSETT,
Secretary of War, Washington City.

PUNISHMENT OF THE MALAYS.

We published some time since an account of the murder of the captain and a portion of the crew of the American ship Eclipse, of Salem, by the Malays. As soon as the information reached our squadron cruising in these waters, several vessels sailed for the coast of Malay, with the intention of inflicting punishment on the savages.

In yesterday's Gazette we gave a brief statement of the result of this expedition. We find, however, the following interesting details on the subject, which we subjoin. The necessary severity used towards the Malays will, we trust, have the effect of causing them to refrain from stealing and murdering, so far as the property and persons of the citizens of the United States are concerned.

Corr. of the N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

U. S. FRIGATE COLUMBIA,
Harbor of Singapore, Feb. 5th, 1839.

The plot for the attack on the ship Eclipse, Captain Wilkins, was originated at Muk Kee, some 40 miles from Quallah Batoo; and part of the persons who committed this murder and robbery, have been protected by the Rajahs of Muk Kee, and a great proportion of the property and money taken from the ship. This, therefore, was deemed the principal offending place. We learn that the $12,000 was divided out, some of it was received at Quallah Batoo and also at Soo-Soo, a place three or four miles from Quallah Batoo, and at both of these, according to the acknowledgements of the Rajahs in the conversation held with them, some of the pirates were residing on our arrival on the coast.

The demand for these men having been made and compliance being declared to be impossible, as the men had escaped after our anchorage, which was deemed to be a refusal to comply with the demand an appearance of a misfortune to them, rather than a decision of their councils, our ships were run in nearer to the shore at Quallah Batoo, and the place cannonaded, with some damage to the town, or rather to the forts, as they were the objects to which the shots were directed.

The ships were then got under weigh and stood for Muk Kee, where the demand for the pirates was made, without the expectation of the Rajahs of that place pursuing any course different from the one adopted by the Rajahs of Quallah Batoo, and the consequences, as the plot was alternative, (so deemed by our Commodore, and I believe quite unanimously the sentiments of the officers,) followed.

The ships were hedged in, near to the town and forts—the town being situated on a small peninsula, and each side of the point indented by the lip of a beautiful little bay, with water deep enough to float a seventy four. No boat making her appearance for an overture, up to the time specified as the limit of forbearance, the Columbia opened her fire upon a neighboring fort, making the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams, the beautiful corvette, to let fly her shot; and the loud roar of her cannon reverberated from the mountain sides, that nearly inwalled the angry little ship, and as the volumes of fire and piles of smoke continued to emit from her side, the Columbia slept a moment, which rendered the scene yet more impressive to our conscious that a moment more and her loud and fearful pieces would send forth their heavy metal and canister and grape. Her tremendous cannonades, throwing the town as she chose, quite a scene of fire. The first gun of the Columbia was the signal for the John Adams