No More Dust.

VETERAN DUST EXTERMINATOR SWEEPING COMPOUND

is the successful result of years of diligent study and careful experiment. It is not a liquid, but is manufactured in granulated form. An every day necessity, not a luxury. It absorbs dirt and prevents it from rising during the process of sweeping.

Used on Floors, Tiles, Linoleums, Oil Cloths, Carpets and Rugs, and possesses properties that firmly grip the dust and dry-cleans them.

Practically Indispensable for Dwellings, Offices, Stores, Warehouses, Public Buildings, Schools, Colleges, Hospitals, Churches, Theatres, Halls, Restaurants, Hotels, Factories or whatever microbe-infested dust accumulates on floor spaces.

Dust Breeds Consumption. Dust is extremely disagreeable as well as dangerous, everybody admits that and argues it unnecessary. Dust is destructive, hence the necessity of using a Sweeping Compound of Established reputation and dependable quality, being guaranteed Antiseptic and a Disinfectant.

Carpets, Rugs and Art Squares. Why take up carpets and best them to pieces when the Veteran Dust Exterminator Sweeping Compound will gradually clean them where they are and bring back their original colors on the floor without taking them up?

Why Hindoos Don't Go Mad. Why are there so few lunatic asylums and so small a proportion of insane persons in India? That is a question which many a traveler has wonderingly asked. The Hindoos regulate their lives entirely in accordance with their religion—that is, their working, eating, sleeping, as well as what we usually regard as our "life" in the religious sense of the word.

Thought It Was the Monkey's. A diamond necklace was possessed by Mme. Geoffrey de St. Elaire, the wife of the famous French naturalist. It was one of the chiefest of her "contemptments," as Hindoo women aptly term their jewels. One day madame missed her necklace. There was a terrible turmoil in the house, and all the servants down to the foolish fat scullion were suspected, but in turn proved their innocence. At last it was remembered that M. de St. Elaire had a pet monkey, and on a search being made in the "glorious hole" of the quadrangle the precious bauble was discovered hidden away with a white satin shoe, several cigar ends, a pencil case and a decomposed apple.

The Monasteries of Tibet. Every Tibetan family is compelled to devote its firstborn male child to a monastic life. Soon after his birth the child is taken to a Buddhist monastery to be brought up and trained in priestly mysteries. At about the age of eight he joins one of the caravans which travel to Lassa. There he is attached to one of the local monasteries, where he remains as a novice until he is fifteen, learning to read the sacred books and perform the religious rites of his faith.

Slow but Inexorable Justice. In October, 1909, Pietro Giacconi and Marie Bonelli were tried at Rome on a charge of sextuple murder by poisoning committed thirty-one years before. In England Eugene Aram was hanged for the murder of Clarke fourteen years after the offense. A man named Horne was executed for the murder of his child in the eighteenth century no less than thirty-five years after the offense.

Prohibited Coffee Houses. So many coffee houses sprang into existence in England during the reign of Charles II, that he, entertaining a belief that many political intrigues had their beginning in those places, issued an edict ordering them to be closed. In this proclamation the following words occurred: "The retailing of coffee or tea might be an innocent trade, but it was said to nourish sedition, spread lies and scandalize great men. It might also be a common nuisance."

Concoited. Phyllis—Harry is the most conceited man I ever met. Maud—What makes you think so? Phyllis—Why, he first asserts that I am the most adorable woman in the world, the most beautiful, intellectual and in every respect a paragon, and then he wants me to marry him!

Life. It has been said that life is made up of three things—heredity, environment and the will. If the heredity and environment of the child are what they should be the will will choose the right and do it.

Couldn't Help It. Mr. Biggs—You must think me a blamed fool. Mrs. Biggs (kindly)—No, I don't think anybody ever blamed you.—Boston Transcript.

Men of loftier mind manifest themselves in their equitable dealings, small minded men in their going after gain.—Confucius.

Sufferers who say they have tried everything without benefit are the people we are looking for. We want them to know from glad experience that Ely's Cream Balm will conquer Cold in the Head, Hay Fever, and obtain relief from Neuralgic Pain. Bright and Steady

The Rayo Lamp

A bright and steady light depends upon the construction of the lamp. The best skill has put forth its best effort in perfecting the Rayo Lamp. As the air is fed to the flame—so does the light burn. The easy-flowing current of air through the air-tube of the Rayo Lamp secures a uniform light, with never a flicker or flare.
