HELP FOR THE GRAND JURY.

About eleven o'clock last night some excitement was caused on north Pitt street by the alleged robbery of a white man by a negro. Officers Beach and Rawlett appeared and took charge of the darkey, who had been seized by the victim, and locked him up in the station house where he gave his name as George Jackson. The case was brought before the Police Court this morning when Daryl Dawson, of the Plaintiff Fauquier county, who said he had been robbed by the negro, stated that he was on the east side of Pitt street near an alley engaged in taking an inventory of his exchequer when Jackson, who was standing behind a tree, snatched a twenty-dollar note from his hand and ran. Dawson gave chase and overtook the negro, and had him in charge when the police arrived. The twenty-dollar note, it was shown, was in one of Jackson's pockets when he was searched at the station house. The accused in his defense alleged that he had been with Dawson and the latter gave him what he supposed was a dollar bill to get changed in order to pay him (Jackson) for certain services. After he gave him the bill Dawson chased and caught him, claiming he had been robbed. Justice Catton held the negro for the grand jury.

POLICE COURT.

[Justice H. B. Catton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning: Tim Madden and Elmer Lewis, charged with vagrancy, were dismissed. Two men, charged with operating an automobile without lights, had their case continued.

George Jackson, colored, charged with robbing Daryl Dawson, was sent on to the grand jury. James Barrett and John Derrin, charged with disorderly conduct were fined $5 each.

James Miller, colored, charged with assaulting Jack Giggie, colored, was fined $5.

Several white men, charged with fighting, were arraigned. One was fined $5, some had their case continued and others were dismissed.

TWO DAYS OF FESTIVITY.

The festivities of the past two nights have been participated in by every class in the community. Old and young Alexandrians and their guests, have mingled and the good cheer manifested has been marked. While the carnival spirit seemed to be animating every soul, there was none of the vanity fair apparent. As might have been expected, some persons showed the exhilaration superinduced by conviviality, but the victims were good-natured and nothing serious occurred to mar the enjoyment of any one.

MADDEN REDIVIVUS.

Tim Madden, whose name has often in recent years appeared on the blotter of the Police Court, reappeared in Alexandria yesterday in company with a youth named Elmer Lewis. The couple were taken in charge by Officers Knight, Rawlett and Gill and a charge of vagrancy preferred against them. The accused were brought before the Police Court this morning. Madden said he had recently lived in a dry town in order to escape the temptation to drink. The prisoners were dismissed.

METCALF'S COMET.

Metcall's comet is now rapidly approaching the point where it will be nearest the sun. This event will take place next Tuesday, and after that it will quickly shoot away into space, and will not again reveal its face to earthly observers for years to come. When the wanderer is nearest the sun it will be about twice the distance of the earth away from the sun. It is slowly decreasing in brightness, because it is increasing its distance from the earth.

NEGRO ON THE FENCE.

A negro was seen on the fence of a residence on the corner of Duke and Washington streets last night. Officer Sampson, saw the trespasser, and discharged his pistol, when the dark man. The house was subsequently entered and searched, but nothing was found missing.

TELEPHONE BOOTH ROBBED.

The long-distance telephone booth at the Union passenger station was robbed last night of a sum of money. The telephone was broken as well as the glass in the door. Two men, believed to be been tramps, were seen in the main room of the depot where the pay station is located shortly before the robbery was discovered. The amount stolen was small.

RAIN AND COOLER WEATHER.

The weather yesterday was sultry, the mercury in the thermometer during the afternoon standing at 90 degrees. The warm weather continued last night, and conditions had improved but little early this morning. Later, however, rain began to fall and the wind, which had been from the south, changed to the northwest, after which the temperature began to fall, the mercury being at 70 degrees at noon. Rain had since fallen at intervals.

SCARED BURGLARS OFF.

While the festivities on King street were at the high water mark last night considerable excitement was caused on Queen street, between Alfred and Patrick, by the announcement that thieves were breaking into a store and dwelling. A neighbor appeared with a pistol and discharged four shots at the would-be burglars, when the latter vanished.

AFTERMATH OF PARADE.

King Street Theatre of Carnival Proceedings—Part of Thoroughfare Densely Packed Until Nearly Midnight—Happy Throngs Pass to and Fro—Good Cheer Everywhere.

It was after four o'clock yesterday afternoon before the firemen's parade disbanded. Ample preparations for the entertainment of the participants had been made, and the members of the various organizations repaired to the places which had been arranged for them where the refreshments which had been provided were enjoyed after about two hours' march.

The weather was sultry in the afternoon, although a stiff breeze prevailed from the south, and some discomfort was experienced by the marchers. An hour or so later, however, they repaired on the streets refreshed and ready for the scenes of the early night. The crowds on the streets showed no diminution, and after dark the streets were as animated as on Wednesday night. The multitude flocked to King street, and from Royal street west for half a dozen squares the city's main thoroughfare presented a lively picture. In many cases it was impossible to pass on the sidewalks, as they were closely packed with humanity. The roadway soon became almost as congested as the sidewalks. These conditions showed no material change until nearly midnight.

On Washington street, between King and Prince, where the band contest took place, the sea of heads to spectators from an elevation were suggestive of a huge cross, extending north and south, east and west. The scenes were virtually a repetition of those of the preceding night. Thousands of young people were enjoying themselves to their hearts' content, while many of their elders looked on and equally enjoyed the scenes. The visitors entered heartily into the joy of the occasion and seemed at the zenith in the happy mingling.

There were comparatively few cases of disorder, considering the huge crowds which surged to and fro. Such unfortunate occurrences as were observed were brief and not serious. The frictions were, as might have been supposed, the result of tarrying too long at the wine.

It was nearing midnight before the city quieted down. By that time the many Washingtonians who had spent the day in Alexandria had returned to their homes, while most of the visiting firemen were within doors tired out by the excitement of the day.

As stated above after the parade ended the visitors and numbers of friends were conducted to Armory Hall where a bountiful lunch had been prepared by the entertainment committee consisting of Messrs. Peter von de Westfalen, chairman; M. P. Green, John D. Normoyle, Albert Aitchison, J. T. Johnson, James Luckett, G. H. Bender, W. H. Sweeney, M. P. E. Green, Arthur Paul and R. A. Garrett. It is estimated that at least 1,200 people were fed and high in the praise of the committee were all who partook of the bountiful repast. The committee were ably assisted by numbers of citizens who vied with each other in helping to make the occasion a brilliant success. When the lunch was over and quiet restored for the time being the contest committee, with Mr. J. Frank Petley as chairman, met and awarded the prizes as follows:

First prize—$100—Largest and best appearing uniformed company in line, with band, members of the association, to the Phoebus company, 80 men in line.

Second prize—$50—second best—Harrisonburg company, 41 in line.

Third prize—$25—Largest and best appearing uniformed company in line without band, members of the association, Hampton company, 58 in line.

Fourth prize—$25—Largest and best uniformed out of State company, in line, the Washington contingent.

Thousands of people gathered near the grandstand on Washington street last night to hear the music of the contestants among the bands of the visiting fire companies. Thousands more could hardly get within hearing distance of the bands as they discoursed their best music. But withal, whether those who gathered in that section heard the music or not, it can hardly be doubted by those who were there that everybody was happy.

The bands that participated in the contest were that of the Harrisonburg Company, and the Eagle Band of Newport News.

The judges were Messrs. Henry K. Field, Geo. B. Kennedy and Geo. H. Evans.

When the contest was over they decided that the band with the Eagle Co. of Newport News, Prof. L. S. Yassel, leader, was winner of the $50 prize.

Both bands rendered their selections well and were loudly cheered. The Harrisonburg band had many friends in the crowd and until the decision was made many said that band would win.

Several others had announced their intention of entering the contest but subsequently dropped out.

The contesting companies met last night and in the presence of the committee drew lots for position in the reel race of today.

The result was as follows, and in this order did they run against time:

No. 1—Harrisonburg. No. 2—Covington. No. 3—Eagle. No. 4, Newport News. No. 4—Woodstock. No. 5—Front Royal. No. 6—Luray. No. 7, Strasburg. No. 8—Shenandoah. No. 9—Lexington.

One would have hardly imagined that such a large crowd would have gathered on north Washington street today in view of the inclement weather. But this seemed to inspire, rather than retard, the interest taken in the sporting culmination of a happy event. For it is estimated that nearly 2,000 people gathered to cheer one or the other of their favorites on to victory in the reel races. Many stood under their own and others accepted the shelter of other's umbrellas, while the foliage of the trees on the street assisted in a great measure in the protection of the spectators from the element.

The course was about 300 feet starting at a point between Princess and Oronoco streets, and running south. The contestants' object was a run of 200 feet south to a plug and attach 150 feet of hose, from which there should come a stream of water. The fleet footed firemen gave a splendid exhibition of their knowledge of the business in which they were engaged and all the companies received applause.

The start was made in the reel races at 10:45 and the following is the official result:

Harrisonburg..... 38 seconds
Newport News..... 44 seconds
Woodstock..... 35 seconds
Front Royal..... 38 1/2 seconds
Lexington..... 40 seconds
Strasburg..... 35 seconds
Shenandoah..... 35 seconds
Luray..... 34 seconds

Covington declined to compete. As will be seen Luray Hose Company won the first prize, and the second prize was between Woodstock, Strasburg and Shenandoah companies, which made the run in 35 seconds.

The next contest was free to all and was entered by all the companies which took part in the former contest.

The result of the free for all contest was as follows:

Harrisonburg..... 31 4-5 seconds
Newport News..... 32 seconds
Woodstock..... 31 4-5 seconds
Front Royal..... 33 1/2 seconds
Lexington..... 36 seconds
Strasburg..... 32 2-5 seconds
Shenandoah..... 38 seconds
Luray..... 33 4-5 seconds

This makes a tie between Harrisonburg and Woodstock for first prize. The prizes were as follows:

First prize (State association companies)—Custody of the state association trumpet—$100.

Second prize—(State association companies)—$50.

First prize—(Open to all companies)—$100.

Second prize—(Open to all companies)—$50.

Judges—Dr. W. M. Smith and Mr. A. Sidney Mankin.

Timers—Messrs. Wm. C. Wildt, Floyd Saunders and Chas. DeMoll.

Starter—Mr. Kenneth Ogden.

The races were long drawn out and before their conclusion many of the spectators became tired and left the ground.

The races which were still in progress at 4 o'clock will wind up the festivities of the occasion and most of the visiting firemen will leave for their homes this evening.

In speaking of the parade it is the consensus of opinion among those in a position to know that it was one of the best ever seen in the state. Handled in every detail exclusively by local firemen it was an occasion long to be remembered. Reluctantly accepting the chief marshaling of this successfully conducted parade, Mr. J. Sidney Douglas proved that he was master of the situation in the fact that everything went off in clock-work order. Not detracting from the ability of his able assistants and aides, it can be safely said that though the old stereotyped parade route was discarded and a entirely new one selected, it is a compliment to the highest order to a chief marshal to state that no organization ever showed itself to better advantage than did the Virginia State Firemen's Association. The Gazette wishes for the visiting firemen a safe journey to their homes and at the same time expresses the hope that the Ruler of the Universe will in his kind providence spare the life of each visitor to meet next year at Newport News.

JOHN ROBINSON'S SHOW.

John Robinson's show, which is to exhibit in this city one week from today, is one of the best ever seen in this country. The side show is high class. The menagerie contains first-class animals, clean, healthy and large. The horses and all the equipment are clean, well shoddy or shabby. In the arena the seating is close to the person, giving an excellent view of every act. There are several features of the old-fashioned circus, dear to our boyhood days, some that are too frequently left out of the big shows in recent years. There is not an unconvincing employee of any kind about the show. Children can and do get along as well at the big enterprise as at Sunday school.

WESTERN CHAMPIONSHIP.

The western motor boat championship will be run tomorrow on the Ohio river at Cincinnati for a $1,000 purse and $1,000 cup. The boat recently fitted by the Emerson Engine Co., of this city, with its high speed engine will be in the race. It was shipped, as stated before, by the owner, Mr. A. Traver, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y. After this race it will on August 30 be a factor in the race at Peoria, Ill., and from that point it will be sent to Ossining, N. Y., and take part in the Hudson river races.

THE SCHOOLS.

The rapid flight of time is brought to mind by the announcement in today's Gazette that the issuing of permits to children to attend the public schools will begin on September 5—one week from Monday next. To many it seems that the schools closed but a few weeks ago, but already the time has almost rolled around for their reopening.

THE BIRDS.

The season for shooting sora and reed birds will open on Thursday next, September first. It is said that the birds are plentiful and in good condition. Already it is reported that many birds have been killed by violators of the law and in defiance of the game wardens.

SERVICES RESUMED.

The services of Bethany Independent M. P. Church will be resumed this evening, with the prayer service. The Sabbath school and public services will be resumed on Sunday next.
