

THE ALLEGHENY COAL COMPANY ROSSLYN, VA.

Yards of Allegheny Company in Rosslyn Extensive Sales Department Under Mr. McIntosh Making a Record for the Year.

The Allegheny Coal Company of Washington and Rosslyn maintains an extensive yard in the Virginia town employing many men. Its local sales department under Mr. McIntosh of Clarendon has managed to keep things humming and coal moving in a creditable manner even during the so called slack period.

Maynard C. Murrell, President, is a progressive Washingtonian, who believes in boosting the prosperity of the section in which he does business. "A Boost for a Bigger and Better Rosslyn," means a boost for a bigger and better business for us and everyone else doing business in that section," stated Mr. Murrell when interviewed regarding the Publicity Edition of the Alexandria Gazette.

And while we are talking about boosting we will say that The Allegheny Company has some boosters on its list of customers. According to several large consumers in the Virginia territory their coal is clean, free from slate, high in heat giving quality and always 2,240 full pounds to the ton. And Mr. McIntosh states that this is a mighty good time to get in your order for a new supply to refill the depleted bin of the winter season.

W. A. BARNETT & SONS, INC.

Wholesale Confectioners and Distributors of Crackers, Cakes, Paper Bags, Stationery, Cigars, Toilet Goods, Flavoring Extracts, Fireworks and Other Specialties.

Among Alexandria business houses supplying the needs of the people in specialty lines, throughout a wide territory, is the establishment of W. A. Barnett & Sons, which since 1900 has been supplying the trade which deals direct with the consumer in northern Virginia.

The firm of W. A. Barnett & Sons, owns the large four story building it occupies, three floors of which are used in the conduct of the business. Each floor has an area of 23 by 42 feet and every square foot of space is utilized to best advantage in the storing and moving of the large stock of goods of the several varieties distributed to the retailers.

The specialties handled include confectionery, crackers, cakes, paper bags, stationery, cigars and other smokers articles, toilet soap and toilet goods of high quality, flavoring extracts, fireworks and novelties.

Two delivery trucks are operated steadily to maintain the requisite delivery service that has made the business a most efficient one for nearly a quarter of a century. Five assistants are given employment, and each one of these is skilled in the various phases of the business transacted by the store.

The trade area served is the city of Alexandria, county of Fairfax and several of the neighboring counties in northern Virginia.

Mr. W. A. Barnett, senior member and guiding spirit of the business, is a man who has the best interest of the community at heart, and one who is always working for a better and busier Alexandria. He is a member of the Chamber of Commerce and an advocate of any progressive measure tending to develop and expand the city in a business way. That the road to Fairfax Courthouse is a most desirable development is his belief. He favors also establishment of a ferry system across the Potomac.

C. W. HOWELL

Proprietor of Alexandria's Leading Hat Store and One of City's Most Prominent Business and Public Spirited Citizens

There is nothing more essential about a well dressed man than that he wear a proper hat. Although the male is not always so careful regarding his hat style as the fair sex, it is a fact that many men depend absolutely on their hatter for being properly groomed.

So it is that Mr. Howell, for nearly forty years has been recognized as Alexandria's leading hatter for his store at 412 King Street is always headquarters for the men who desire the best in headwear.

Mr. Howell established the business away back in 1882. He has always sold exclusive styles, and reliability has always been his watchword.

He handles a complete line of hats, caps, and umbrellas, as well as other articles essential to the protection of headwear.

Mr. Howell has the exclusive agency for Schoble brand hats, for Stetson hats, Blum-Koch & Levy's straw hats, and other lines of hats and caps—the best manufactured in the world.

No business man in Alexandria is better known or is held in higher esteem than Mr. Howell. He is a member of the Chamber of Commerce and is affiliated with the Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

The antelope is purely an animal of the plains and open, rolling country, never being found in the timber, much less in the mountains.

H. F. CAMPBELL

Proprietor of Alexandria's Leading Automobile Supply House, Specializing in Tires & Battery Repair Work—Has Seen Many Competitors Come and Go But He Stays On and His Business Increases

Alexandria as an important automobile center is necessarily expected to have in its midst many up-to-date automobile repair and accessory departments, and that is a fact as many motorists or visitors find when they visit the modern and up-to-date plant of Mr. H. F. Campbell at the corner of Royal and Cameron streets.

For the plant is certainly one at which tire and battery repair service is given with promptness and satisfaction and Mr. Campbell has spared no pains to see that such is done.

In addition to the tire repair service Mr. Campbell is the leading battery man of Alexandria, and handles over 200 batteries a month. He not only recharges batteries but manufactures them on an extensive scale.

In the near future Mr. Campbell will begin handling Firestone tires exclusively, and will also enlarge his vulcanizing plant so as to increase his service for which he employs from six to seven expert mechanics.

Mr. Campbell carries a large stock of accessories, including spare parts, supplies etc., and handles 10,000 gallons of gasoline a month and 3,000 gallons of oil a year.

Mr. Campbell has been engaged in the business three years and during that period has seen fifteen competitors come and go. His plant has 6,000 square feet of floor space, and has all modern machinery and facilities.

A veteran of the world war, Mr. Campbell attributes his success to hard work, and the close attention he has given to the business. He takes an active interest in public affairs, is progressive and a booster for Alexandria.
