Then Jess Thompson, the popular banker and retired ball player of Belview went into the box. The varied hue aggregation was satisfied with him, but the Belview reds were not a bit that |way, and Jess is still wondering whether he had any right to take up the thankless task of umping the last two innings. The row started early. Hughes had lined the ball out for one sack, and actually stole the second chunk of sawdust. Dickinson got his base on balls. Bradley swiped the sphere for the first, Hughes coming in on this and a passed ball, on which Dickinson whirled to third. Prof. Jones lined the ball out for a fielder's choice without anyone retiring. and then forced Bradley off second, while Dickinson was trying to steal home. The Belview reds insisted that Jones' force worked against both Bradley and Dickinson and that both should be retired. The tickets limited for return to Oct. 15, ump held that only Bradley was 1903, and good going one route and out and that Dickinson running in returning another, with stop overs in was safe. Col. Allen of Morton and the Morgan Band Pleased With the Park.

Col. Allen of the Morton Enterprise, accompanied by his daughter, were among the visitors at the band concert at the lake park pavillion on the afternoon of July 12th, and he was delighted with the enchanted spot. In his paper of last week he touches up the park and concert.

(Morton Enterprise.) Sunday we drove to Redwood Falls to see the park and lake we have heard so much about, and it is a delightful spot and reflects credit on the fore-sighted men who planned and executed it. The lake was made by damming the river. It is deep, clear, and surrounded by beautiful wooded banks that will shelter thousands of summer resorters in the next ten years. The park out there is reached by the launch and is one of nature's beauty spots. Natural timber shades the grounds, on the side hill are springs of clear, sparkling water and all nature has combined to make it a resting place. In time you will see the banks of that lake lined with summer houses of people from south Sunday we drove to Redwood summer houses of people from south and east and Redwood Falls take its place as one of the delightful spots of Minnesota for summer tourists.

Some may criticise this Sunday business, but the world is filled with hustling, hard working men and women, whose only chance for recreation or an outing is Sunday and it would be cruel to say that they should not enjoy it moderately. Sunday at Red wood Falls, over one thousand persons sat in the shade and listened to the music of two fine bands and how the kids enjoyed the many swings and teeter boards erected for their pleasure, all without money or price. The proprietors of that enterprise are building themselves a monument that will last (Morgan Messenger.) The Morgan cornet band, 18 members strong, accompanied by about fifty of our townspeople, went up to Redwood Falls Sunday and participated in a sacred band concert with the Redwood band at lake park. The boys form one of the best musical organizations in this part of the state and acquitted themselves in a very favorable manner. C. H. Porter, leader of the local band, says the members have only words of praise for the treatment accorded them and were well impressed with their visit to the county seat.
