IMPROVEMENTS.

The two fine dwelling houses in the Queen Ann style which are being built by the Minu. Loan & Inv. Co., in their addition, are now being rushed to completion by S. Allen, the contractor. The larger one has already been purchased by Lieut. Plotts. It has ample cellar with cistern, and on first floor has double parlors, dining room and kitchen. Second floor, two large bed rooms for family use, and three small ones, with closet to each room. Above, under the quaint roof, is a large loft, which can be used either for sleeping or storage room. There are five windows of stained glass in the building, the larger ones having 72 panes.

F. G. Martin's new house in the same addition will soon be ready to occupy. Mr. Hart, on lot 5, block 5, same dition, is gathering materials for his house. Mr. Green, engineer, at the water tank, is building a neat house on his lot on 2d-av. adjoining Chas Hecox's. David Anderson is putting up a goodsized house on the lake shore, between 4th and 5th avenues.

D. E. Fish, the blacksmith, has sold his lot on 2d-av. to Mrs. H. Davis, for $1,005 and has bought a lot on same avenue on the old circus ground. He is now moving his house and shop to

C. Dana has purchased the Darling house and lot, corner 10th st. and 7th av. and is moving in. Mr. D. will improve the property. Yesterday was April 18th, the anniversary of the raising of the blockade in the spring of 1881. On Sunday, April 18th, a freight train got through and brought in supplies. Drays and wagons turned out and began to haul at once, merchants received and opened their goods and there was a general feeling of relief.

This year the snow is gone by the 18th, the lakes are open, farmers are nearly through seeding wheat, and the grass is along far enough in low places to attract a cow.

Parson Lathrop, the pastor of the Methodist church just below the AD VANCE office, is now editing the Globe, Real Estate and Prohibition paper owned by bankers Day & Thompson, and run solely in their interest. He is therefore able to speak knowingly about Methodist matters and sets us right in last week's issue. He says there were only three Methodists on the ticket and not five as the AD-VANCE reported. Well, now, either you "shook" two of them, or they "shook" you. How is this? Perhaps the other two were what we used to call "lobby" members. They hang around the vestibule and furnish the money while the wife and family go in and spend it. And then when election time comes, the preacher says "they are not members. Oh, no, sir. Not Methodists."

Really, it doesn't make any dif-ference whether Methodist or Catholic unless you overdo it. In this vil age matter, we have yoted for both Methodists and Catholics, but we don't like to see half a dozen of one kind put on and then see the preacher try to squirm out of it.

The Governor has appointed Satur-April 28th, as Arbor Day, and earnestly urges people to plant trees, shrubs and vines on that day. We hope peo-ple will find it convenient to observe the day. Much has been done in the past on that day in this county. Worthington owes a good deal of her beauty to trees planted on Arbor Day.

A man said to us the other day that when he saw the picture of Worthington he thought it was exaggerated. He came, saw and was conquered. He is now a resident of the place, and thinks the picture don't do it justice. The "Arbor City" of the state ought to observe Arbor Day.

Our criminal and penitentiary neighor, the editor of the Rock County Herald, says that "by miserly habits" we have made a living. He just gnashhears of our "brick block" and of the over-crowded prosperity of the AD-VANCE. And the beauty of it is we made it all by hard work and economy. No rich relative or friend to help us to a cent. This hard work and economy, the young criminal of the Herald calls "miserly habits." Well, we didn't accept any bribes to support politicians as he was reported by nearly every paper in this district to have done; we didn't swindle anybody out of the printing office we own, as he is said to have swindled Hardwick out of the ne he controls; we don't charge $5 more for a legal ad. than other printers do and swear it through, as he is said to do No. no, we got it honestly and against odds which would have driven him from the field in six months.

Besides, we didn't commit any "revolting" crimes as he has been charged with doing by the affidavits of promiinent citizens of Luverne.
