YESTERDAY IN COURT

Detective Richardson Loses Another Case.

But Not Through His Own Fault.

THE CORPORATION AND OTHER COURTS

To Petition the Governor—An Expensive Ride—Judge Burroughs Gets Judgment Against Messrs. Bolton and Verdier—Deeds Recorded and Suits Entered.

Justice Seneca had a very small and unimportant docket to dispose of yesterday.

RICHARDSON AGAIN LOSES.

Detective Richardson, who has been so uniformly successful lately in having the cases conducted by him dismissed, witnessed another dismissal by the Justice in the Police Court yesterday. This was not, however, due to any fault of the detective, as the dismissal was solely due to compassion for the prisoner's paralyzed mother, who needed the accused to support her and which caused Justice Seneca to let the man off. The accused was a colored man, named William Jones, whom the detective had arrested for drunkenness. Jones stated the condition of his mother as he did not have the money to pay his fine, and would be committed to jail. His Honor took pity on the mother and released him.

THE BLACK SHEEP.

A young and intelligent looking man, named John J. Stevenson, stood before Justice Seneca yesterday charged by Officer Fraser with being a suspicious character. The officer testified that he had seen the young man around Mr. N. B. Joyner's place, on Church street, on several occasions and kept his eye on him. On Friday night he located the young man in an out house just back of Mr. Joyner's place, and as he could not give an intelligent account of himself, the officer took him in. The boy, who is remarkably good looking, testified that he was the son of a prominent Philadelphia Magistrate; that his parents were rich and of high standing, but that he was the black sheep in the flock, as he was the only member of the family who was wild. He hereupon pulled a picture from his pocket, showing his alleged family, taken in a group, the "black sheep" among them. He claimed that he came here expecting to get work, but had been disappointed and was out of funds. He did not wish to beg, so he went into the shed to sleep. He denied that he had committed any violation of the law, and as none was proven, Justice Seneca dismissed the case.

RECOGNIZED THE SHOES.

Mr. Nicholas Albano, who keeps a shoe shop on Granby street, near Charlotte, swore out a warrant on Thursday charging a young colored boy, named Walter Wilson, with stealing a pair of shoes from his shop. In the Police Court yesterday Mr. Albano testified that he missed the shoes some time ago and upon going into a barber shop where Wilson was employed, he recognized the shoes on the boy's feet, and remembering that the accused had visited his shop at about the time of the loss, he swore out the warrant against him. The boy swore that he bought the shoes three weeks ago from a colored man, who keeps a shop on Queen street, and contended that if given time he could bring witnesses to prove it. Justice Seneca thereupon continued the case until next Tuesday for additional evidence, and the boy was bailed in the sum of $25 for his appearance.

AN EXPENSIVE RIDE.

John Cobb, colored, attempted to steal a ride from Norfolk to Lambert's Point on Friday, on a Norfolk and Western coal car, but Special Officer Barrow detected him and placed him under arrest. In the Police Court yesterday Cobb's only excuse was that he was promised work at Lambert's Point and was endeavoring to get there. His Honor evidently remembered that Lambert's Point is within walking distance, so he fined Cobb $25 and he went to jail in default. The prisoner wishes now that he had walked.

CHARLES ORMSBY'S CASE.

When the case of Charles Ormsby, charged by the young boy, Bernard Harris, with assaulting him, was called in the Police Court yesterday morning both sides appeared with counsel and fought the case for all they were worth. The evidence was conflicting and His Honor, wanting time to consider it, took the case under advisement.

MINOR OFFENSES.

John Cobb, colored, unlawful trespass; fined $1 and costs.
Albert Eggleston, colored, suspicious character; continued to 5th.
Albert Eggleston, colored, carrying concealed weapons; continued to the 5th.
Walter Wilson, colored, larceny; continued to the 5th.
D. O. Thomas, colored; breach of the peace; continued.
William Jones, J. R. Peeden, colored, drunk; dismissed.
C. R. Simpson, F. Smith, G. Gordy, white, drunk; fined $1 and costs.

Corporation Court.

The argument on the motions for a new trial in the cases of Pat. Dooker, who was fined $500 for violating the liquor laws, and Alex. Romani, who was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary for feloniously shooting Thomas Harris, colored, was continued until the November term of the court by request of counsel. The prisoners were convicted at the last term of the court. The bonds in the following cases were declared forfeited by Judge Hancock, the accused failing to appear for trial:
J. G. Gray, forgery; Abe Jordan, assault; Emma Bell, carrying a saw to her husband in jail to aid in his escape; Alex. Grant, petit larceny; Robert Gray, carrying concealed weapons.
Matt M. Lewis, colored, keeping a disorderly house, bailed in the sum of $100, J. C. Ashbury surety.

Judge Hancock granted new trials in the cases of James Ballard and William Hines, both convicted of fornication.

Court of Law and Chancery.

The hung jury in the case of Frey vs. Burruss is said to have stood eleven to one in favor of giving the plaintiff the full sum sued for (about $3,700), but that one held out and they could not agree.

DR. NEWBILL WINS.

Judge Martin, in the Court of Law and Chancery yesterday gave judgment in favor of Dr. C. F. Newbill for $160 against the Norfolk Street Railroad Company. Dr. Newbill sued the railroad company for $500 damages on account of the ruin of his horse and carriage by one of the electric cars of the company in Atlantic City ward some time ago.

JUDGMENT FOR JUDGE BURROUGHS.

Judgment in favor of Judge William H. Burroughs for $79.50 against Commissioners Verdier and Bolton was rendered by a jury in the Court of Law and Chancery yesterday. The suit was to recover from the defendants $167 claimed to be due the plaintiff for legal services rendered in the suit of Veillies vs. Verdier and Bolton. The gist of the defense was that Mr. Verdier did not participate in the engaging of Judge Burroughs as counsel, and was not, therefore, liable and that Mr. Bolton was simply acting in conjunction with a reform committee and believed that Judge Burroughs was contributing his services gratis on account of his sympathy with the reform movement and reform committee; that he was not formally engaged as said counsel.

Damages were laid at $500, but $167 was the actual amount asked for by the defendant.

Suits Entered.

The following suits were entered in the Court of Law and Chancery yesterday:
Mrs. Mercedes De S. Edwards vs. J. T. Cannon and J. T. Cannon, Jr., to recover $100 damages for injury to plaintiff's eye, caused by an explosion of fireworks in front of defendant's store, on Church street, last Christmas.
Damon & Peet vs. Bennett, Rowson & Dege; in assumpsit; damages, $1,200.
B. M. Batchelder vs. Lella H. Clay and T. W. Clay; in assumpsit; damages, $150.

Deeds of Bargain and Sale.

Mrs. John T. Howard to Julia O. Collins, a lot and buildings on Clay avenue, near Hamlin avenue; consideration, $3,100.
Lydia V. Hudgins, trustee, to Mrs. M. J. Veillies, a lot with improvements thereon, on Lovitt avenue, near Park; consideration, $3,200.

Will Petition the Governor.

Mr. Julius T. Saunders, attorney for the four shop-lifters who were convicted a short time ago by Justice Burroughs and sentenced to terms in jail, appeared before Judge Hancock in the Corporation Court yesterday and asked that the Judge would investigate the case of Mary Barnes, one of the women, as he proposed to petition Governor O'Ferrall to release her commute her sentence to fifteen days in jail in consideration of the woman's physical condition and other mitigating circumstances, and he would request the Judge to endorse the petition if he thought the facts justified him in doing so. Judge Hancock stated that he would investigate the case on Justice Burroughs' return home. Mr. Saunders also stated that he will ask for a reduction of the sentence imposed upon Julia Hinton, in consideration of the services she rendered the Commonwealth by turning out the prisoners.

SCHOONERS STRANDED

Three Vessels Blown Ashore in This Section

by the High Wind Yesterday Morning.

TWO OF THEM ASHORE AT OCEAN VIEW

The Three Master E. F. Northam Stranded at Cape Henry—The Crew Saved by the Breeches Buoy—Several Ladies on One Wrecked Boat—Washed Ashore.

The three-masted schooner E. F. Northam, Capt. E. P. Johnson, stranded abreast of the Weather Bureau office at Cape Henry yesterday morning at 3 o'clock. The schooner was on her way from Philadelphia to Norfolk in ballast and was en route to the Norfolk and Carolina Chemical Company, to load guano at the company's factory at Pinner's Point. She had a crew of seven men, all of whom were rescued by the Cape Henry Life-saving crew, with the aid of the breeches buoy.

The wind was blowing at the rate of thirty-six miles an hour from the Northeast at the time the vessel stranded and the sea was very heavy. Late yesterday afternoon she was resting easily and apparently in good condition. Assistance was sent from this city, but the boats had to return on account of the heavy weather.

The Northam was owned by George Harris, Sr., of Philadelphia, and was built eleven years ago. She was of 500 tons burthen. She will probably be floated. In the meantime the crew is being taken care of at Cape Henry station.

The two-masted schooner Lizzie S. James went ashore at Ocean View, about a mile from the hotel, yesterday morning at 3 o'clock. The vessel was in command of Capt. G. G. Howard, and was on her way to Newberne, N. C., with coal consigned to Charles D. Norton. Besides the crew of seven men on the schooner there were the captain's wife and two children, Miss Ellen Culworth, of Wilmington, N. C., and Miss Lizzie Howard, of Ocracoke, N. C., all of which were taken care of on a trip to Boston and other places.

All were taken ashore in a small boat and are stopping at the Ocean View Hotel. The vessel will probably be saved.

WEATHER REPORT.

Forecast for To-day.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2, 1895.

For Virginia—Fair; warmer in the afternoon; northerly winds, shifting to southerly.

For North Carolina—Fair; slightly warmer; light, variable winds.

The barometer has risen rapidly on the Atlantic coast except to the northeast of New England, where it has fallen. A storm of considerable energy has moved northeastward from the North Carolina coast during the day, and dangerous northeast gales now prevail in southern New England.

Showers have prevailed on the Atlantic coast north of North Carolina, followed by clearing weather south of New York. Fair weather continues in the Central Valleys and Southern States. It is colder on the Atlantic coast and warmer in the Mississippi Valley.

The indications are that warmer, fair weather will prevail in the Southern States, the Ohio Valley and the Middle Atlantic States, and the lower lake region on Sunday.
