Feature of the Day in the Stock Market Was Heavy Foreign Liquidation.

GOLD EXPORT RUMORS DEPRESSING.

Four Millions of Gold to Be Shipped —Break in Prices Conspicuous in Railway Lists—Steadier Tone in the Afternoon—Wheat Loses 1 in Value—Corn Lifeless.

New York, Dec. 19.—The feature of the trading at the Stock Exchange today was the heavy liquidations for foreign account. London cables received here before improving showed material declines in our stocks, and this was followed by selling orders of large proportions in Louisville and Nashville, St. Paul and other American shares listed abroad. This foreign selling led to sales by local operators, and the result was a drop of anywhere from ½ to 5⅝ per cent in prices. Rumors of heavy gold exports by Saturday's steamer were put afloat and this added to the depression. It was said at one time that the exports on the day named would reach ten millions, but this is an exaggeration, and good authorities do not look for shipments of anything like the amount stated. Up to the close of business only $500,000 had been engaged. It is known, however, that arrangements are making for the export of about four million of the metal, and that this will be announced to-morrow. In the break in prices which followed the early London selling, Consolidated Gas, Cleveland Lorain and Wheeling preferred, Pullman Palace, Jersey Central, Baltimore and Ohio, and the Southeasterns were most conspicuous. The Vanderbilts were also lower, notwithstanding the declaration of the usual dividends on New York Central, Lake Shore, Michigan Central, and Canada Southern. In the afternoon a steadier tone characterized the market, the delay in the Senate on the matter of the Venezuelan commission having been favorably interpreted. London houses changed front and bought a little stock and this had a stimulating effect on prices, which recovered 1@3½ per cent. Money was a little more active, and late in the day rose to 5 per cent. The advance, however, had no influence on stocks, which left off steady to firm in tone. Net changes show losses of ¼ to 2⅝ per cent, in the active railways and 1@5 per cent in the specialties.

The bond market was active and heavy in sympathy with the weakness of stocks. The sales footed up $2,141,000.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 19.—Another loss in value took place in wheat to-day. The decline was not due to any remarkable or forcibly convincing bear argument, but rather because the bulls were unable to furnish any reason for an advance. Expected heavy shipments of gold to Europe were discouraging, of course, but they were not considered enough so to cause the extreme weakness which was noted. The trade now looks upon the Venezuelan controversy as opposed to strength in cereal prices as the consequence of an open rupture would be to shut off the export demand. Local scalpers were the traders to-day and their business did not exhibit great activity. Liverpool cables were quiet.

An utterly lifeless session was passed in corn. Up until noon the price of May was 28⅛, with an occasional variation from bid to asked, and with only a few trades in small lots taking place. Wheat, making a dive lower about noon, carried corn off to 28 for May, after which it rallied to 28@28⅛, where is closed, a shade below the final quotation of yesterday. Liverpool cables were quiet. The Cincinnati Price Current reported the interior movement of corn slightly enlarged.

The monotony of the other markets was not relieved by anything that transpired in oats. The tone averaged fairly steady. May closed a shade lower than yesterday.

There was a little pretense of activity in provisions as there was in any of the other markets. The morning business consisted mainly of cleaning up old trades, with the shorts buying more than the longs. So, the natural result was to produce a firmness in prices, but a slow, heavy feeling ensued and the slight gains were lost. The close was 2½ cents under yesterday for May pork with May lard a shade higher and May ribs unchanged. Domestic and foreign markets were quiet and steady.
