Appointment of Delegates to the Charleston Convention.

A grave difference has arisen among the Democracy of the State of New York, with respect to the manner in which delegates to the Charleston Convention are to be chosen. Their State Central Committee meets to day at Albany, to make the annual call for the State Convention. Under ordinary circumstances the proceedings of this committee attract but little attention. The fact, however, that a portion of the Democratic party in which it is supposed a majority of the Committe concur, desire that the next State Convention shall appoint a delegation to the Charleston Convention, gives more than ordinary interest to the meeting of this body at the present time. All the States, so far as they have acted, have imitated Ohio in appointing delegates, by allowing each Congressional District to chose its own delegate. This method alone will secure a true representation of the interests and opinions of the different sections of the State, and is free from the objections offered to a general Convention. In meetings of that character, experience has shown that more or less unfairness will be practiced by the friends and wire-workers of the several candidates, and that the actual will of the people is but unfrequently expressed.

The old method of appointing delegates has been abandoned in Ohio, and most of the States are following her lead. A very large majority of the press in the State of New York are opposed to the selection of delegates by the State Convention. Some fifty papers are in favor of their appointment by districts, while only six or eight are so far against it. They are supposed to represent a proportionate number of the people; who have become disgusted with the old method. The majority of them are opposed, for prudential reasons, to the introduction of national politics in any form in their next State Convention, and are in favor of laying the whole subject over until after their State election. It is to be hoped that the Central Committee will follow their advice, and adopt the district system.

☞The letter of Judge Spaulding to Judge Gholson, in regard to his opinion of Judge Swan's decision, is not very well received by Republicans in the southern part of the State. Spaulding's word and opinion are held to be law and gospel in Cleveland and thereabouts, and he is looked upon as one of the main pillars of the organization.

A writer in the Cincinnati Gazette, came out the other day, denying that he was an expounder of their doctrines, and came down rather hard, considering that he is a member of their own party. Oberlin has to swallow Gholson, but his Cincinnati are determined to insist upon it. A storm is evidently brewing among the opposition which will cause some disturbance before the election. The extreme wings of the party find it a difficult matter to agree upon the "nigger question," and we may expect to witness some sport before the matter is settled.

REPUBLICAN OFFICIALS KIDNAPPING SLAVES. The Republicans of Chicago are sorely exercised because a couple of their Republican detective police officers, aided by a negro kidnapped three fugitive slaves, the property of Captain Frost, of St Louis, and run them out of the State without legal process, for which they were paid a reward of $2,500.

The reward offered was too temptingly large for a Republican to stand, and hence their "colored fellow citizens" were sent back to slavery.

A NIGGER IN A MESS.—A day or two since, in Xenia, a cow belonging to a white man broke into a patch of corn owned by a negro. Being an advocate of Gov. Chase's Oberlin higher law doctrines, the negro pitched into the white man with a "meek and humble" higher law weapon and cut him severely. Higher law reigns supreme. Go it, Oberlin and Chase.

☞The twenty leading papers of Mississippi strangely advocate the re opening of the Slave trade, and Mr. Buchanan's Collector of Customs, at Vicksburg, officially urges it as a party measure.—Gazette.

And the Oberlitton Republicans of Ohio have nominated a slave trader of Mississippi (Judge Gholson) for Supreme Judge, in opposition to Judge Swan, an honest, consistent anti slavery man, at the dictation of the Oberlin junto and Governor Chase, and Chase's fourth Corporal swears it's all right. What's the price of niggers?

☞The Painsville (Ohio) Telegraph (Abolitionist) says of Mr Corwin:

Mr Corwin at the State Convention, undertook to change the Republican party into a party of honors But Republicans are not to be driven, to be used for any body's purpose nor bought or sold. He was listened to for what he had been, but none seemed to support his old fogy notions.

Since Tom could not get the Republicans to come to him, he has gone to them, and the Telegraph, in view of that fact, says "he is coming up again."

☞The Kentucky election will take place on Monday next. Governor, State officers, Members of Congress and State Legislature are to be elected. The democratic press of Kentucky confidently predict an old fashioned union, Clay-democratic victory.

☞The Sunday question has been settled in Philadelphia. Judge Thompson, of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, has decided that it is unlawful to run street railroad cars on Sunday. Considerable excitement prevails on the subject.

Past and Present—Plain Talk.

A practical education is needed to make any progress in any pursuit, and unless it is practical our students only waste their time and money. All of our ablest divines, legislators, jurists, artists, mechanics and men of science, have risen to eminence from the most obscure walks of life. In the West we have Thomas Corwin, Thomas Ewing, John McLean, Orme by Mitchell, Hiram Powers, and a host of other distinguished men of mark who received the rudiments of their education on the farm. They were early taught to labor physically and mentally, and they have been hard workers all their lives. Had such men devoted their entire time to scientific farming we might have witnessed many improvements which are yet undeveloped.

In our legislation, jurisprudence in medicine, in the mechanic arts, in sculpture, and in all of the sciences, great progress has been made, but in theology we do not seem to improve. It is true that in preaching, the terrors of the law are not so often adverted to, but good, plain, practical truth uttered by good, plain, practical men, and seldom heard. A great many of the ministers of the present day, when compared with those of the past, are quite a different order of men. The time was when the "Heralds of the Cross" were meek and lowly; who labored a part of the time with their own hands during the week, and preached extemporarily on the Sabbath to attentive congregations, in plain, comfortable churches. Every body used to go to Church for there was room for every body who wished to be instructed in the great truths of the Bible. Now we often meet one of our most fashionably dressed gentlemen in the street, or on the rail road cars, and upon enquiry find that he is a minister! Formerly we could have recognized him by his plainness of attire. Now a minister to be respected must conform to the fashions of the world for fear of being called singular or eccentric. Formerly we had good, plain, substantial, capacious churches, with comfortable seats for all who wished to meet together in heavenly communion to worship their Creator in spirit and in truth. Now we often find many of our Churches furnished in the most fashionable and luxurious style. The pulpit is occupied by a fashionably dressed gentlemen.

The pulpit is furnished with costly carpets, velvets, tassels and luxurious sofas and chairs. It is a model of good taste and creditable to the enterprise and liberality of a fashionable congregation. The minister reclines on an elegant ottoman, and after his flock have taken their seats, he gives out his hymn. This is sung by a choir in the gallery led by an accomplished musician. Formerly all the congregation united in singing audibly the songs of Zion. Now but few are thought qualified to join in this exercise without a great deal of instruction. Those that have not taken lessons in music, and have not a hymn book, are frequently at a loss to know what all this means. They hear an organ, melodeon, flute or big fiddle, and very pleasant sounds, but to the unsophisticated it is all Greek. Next the minister offers up a fervent and eloquent prayer, which gives the ladies of his congregation an excellent opportunity to scrutinize each other's new bonnets, dresses, etc. Another hymn is then sung, when the minister unrolls before him a manuscript sermon which he has composed during the past week, and reads it to his congregation. This piece of composition may be a "masterly effort," and full of rhetorical flourishes, but it is not that kind of preaching the age requires. The pioneer missionaries of the Cross in this country were plain, practical men, who understood the English language, and studied their Bibles, boldly proclaimed the truth and became acquainted with their congregations. When their congregation assembled they knew exactly where the sinners were, and what to say to them Not till then could they tell what kind of spiritual food was needed. They then addressed themselves to their hearers, were listened to attentively by women dressed in calico, with sun bonnets, and men in homespun. All joined in singing and all felt benefitted with the services of the day. Now our churches are erected at an immense expense by good meaning, liberal congregations, but they do not draw to the house of God those that most need instruction. They are too fashionable, and filled with too many fashionable people. Hence the poorly dressed and most needy stay away. Satan and his minions are ever busy and entice them to places of dissippation, houses where they are taught to despise the fashionable churches, and all connected with them. This is a most deplorable state of public opinion, and how to change it engages the attention and deliberation of the friends of Christianity in every part of our Republic. Thirty years ago capital offences were extremely rare, and when committed were deeply deplored by the people from Main to Georgia Now these offences are almost of daily occurrence and the details are too sickening to be read. Why this increase of crime? Religious sects and churches are constantly multiplying; men are highly educated in Greek, Latin, Hebrew and other languages for the ministry; but the great mass of the people do not attend to their ministrations. We do not believe christianity a failure, nor do we believe any nation can long maintain its freedom without its citizens believe in and practice the great truths of the Bible. Our forefathers acknowledged this during their revolutionary struggle, when the "Father of his country" first invoked the blessing of God upon our arms before he entered into a conflict with the enemies of freedom

To provide for the spiritual wants of the great multitude who now neglect to attend Church street preaching has been undertaken in many places; but how much more successfully could this be done by erecting suitable houses of worship at one fourth the expense of many of those now poorly attended? Let the pulpits of these houses be supplied by good, plain, practical preachers—let it be understood that none should attend but those plainly attired, and that the rich, the poor, the halt, the lame and blind, should be invited to attend together without any distinction, for the purpose of worshipping the God of their fathers, and not to exhibit their fine clothes, hear good music or indulge a vain curiosity. Such churches would do good, and many a poor famishing soul would be revived and led to seek everlasting happiness. Ministers can be found to willingly co operate in this work, and all may be by this means led to seek a knowledge of the truth.

A Fiend in Human Shape Attempting to throw a Train off the Track.

The Rochester Union of Friday gives an account of a narrow escape of a mail train, filled with passengers from being thrown from the track on the Auburn Division of the New York Central Railroad, and down an embankment, in consequence of a fiend in human shape by the name of Wright placing one of the heavy T rails along side of the track in such a position as must necessarily result in a crash up. Fortunately, the scoundrel was seen, and the rail removed in time for the mail train to pass. Wright was arrested, and laid his crime to bad liquor When taken to Pittsfield, where he was examined before a Justice, the excitement against him was so great that it was proposed to hang him, but better counsels prevailed. The proof against him is strong, and he will be punished to the extent of the law.

THE GOLDEN SALVE—A Great Healing Remedy. It is with much pleasure we announce the advent of this new article in our city, which has met with such signal success in Lowell, where it is made, that the papers have teemed with cases of truly marvelous cures. They chronicle one where the life of a lady was recently saved—a case of broken breast; another where the life of a child was saved—a case of chafing; another of a lady whose face was much disfigured by scrofulous humor, which was brought to a healthy action in a few days; also, another of an old man, who had a sore on his foot for twenty years—cured in a few weeks.—Our citizens will not be slow in getting at its merits, and will herald it over the world.—[Boston Herald.
