[ To be Communed ]

We publish the following communication, that we may not be charged with unfairness or misrepresentation. We founded our remarks upon what we considered reliable authority. Of course our columns will be open for a rejoinder, if solicited:

PLASTER BED, July 20, 1852. EDITOR FREMONT PREEMAN: - Having teen shown an article in your paper, and one in the Democrat also, speaking disparagingly of our efforts to make the excursion on the 5th met, a pleasant one to the company, we are induced to make a brief statement of the affor.

We requested a triend to get notices posted up in your town for a public ride at 75 cents per ticket. Some days after, we received word that the hand only were suppressed, and that a select company were forming to charter the boat, &c. One of the co amittee of arrangements wrote as Jun- 29, stacing that he hoped we would comply with his intentions. as cards of invitation, dec, had been issued. and that great disappointment would be oceasioned, if their arrangements were thwarted. He also stated there would be at least 40 paying couple at $1 50, making not besthan $60 for the excursion or ride of the party. Refreshments were ordered also for the party. first for 50, and afterwards "for nearer 60 couple. Tickets to be one dollar for diner, and tity cents for supper per couple.

Having no conveniences for providing for such a number, we arranged with Mr. P. J. Gillett, lately of the Townsend House, (who was highly recommended to us for such an occasion,) to furnish and manage and a great many can be cured after they have the matter exclusively, stipulating the prices to be one dollar for dinner, and lifty cents for supper, as above ordered.
So far as we have heard, no fault was found except that the band were called spon to pay their meals. This is not true, as ten tickets for the band were procured by the committee, who afterwards complained that it was hard for some three or four of them to foot the bill alone. While being talked over in a friendly manner, some of the band overhearing our conversation, began to make a fuss about it, and threatened to pay themselves, &c. It was ended by our agreeing to pay $5 towards their bill, and one of the committee the bul-

Wish what justice fault can be found with $60 for the party's ride; we got only $50.-Second, we stated to Mr. Gillett our orders to have meals for 50 to 60 couple provided for. On settling up, we ascertained but 46 couple only, including 9 of the band, had paid, towards which we contributed the $5. Our earnings, without a single invitation on our part, therefore, amounted to $45-no great sum after all, but no fault was ever found by us, though we believe our original intentions of a public ride would have doubled it. Nor do we believe that any of your respectable citizons, who fully understand the matter, express dissatisfaction. Still, we think it necessary to have a fair statement of it known.
