At the White House. While friendship's eyes with tears are

And all the world is wet with tears, To whom a week seemed more like fears. Still sweeter waters well for him And soothe his soul like heavenly dew, Love's sunshine beaming thro' them all

Til lo! not long the big drops fall— Heaven in her eyes ne'er hid from view-Ere hope's bright rainbow on her brow

So like a tranquil sky appears, Behind it bars the bitter tears, The while a few sweet drops do flow.

The heart's crushed flowers what incense make! In words the wires and cable call, Whose silent showers, thro' death-like pall, The lingering lovers overtake

In that first meeting of the pair Since fort of bliss like Eden's sent, Yet not, thank God! to banishment, For His kind presence still is there. Ah! when disaster's bolt had burst, And borror seized the nation's skies, Behold, what peace in love's sweet

And faith unshaken from the first. D. M. JONES. WILKESBARRE, July 13, 1881.

The Scmi-Weekly Wing and advertiser has always been a favorite with country readers. It contains from twenty-three to twenty five solid columns of reading matter, including all the leading editorials and all the news from the Daily except minor local items. Its market reports are full and accurate, being frequently and thoroughly revised and corrected. It is a newspaper whose acquaintance being once made will mover be dropped, as our mailing lists for years past will show.
