

HENRY FORD WILL RUN FOR PRESIDENT OF U. S.

Builder of Flivvers Seeks High Office
And Has a Good Scheme
To Get It

There is no longer any doubt concerning the intentions of Henry Ford, builder of Fords, Fordsons, and manager of a railroad system individually owned, to become a candidate for president.

Ford is smart enough to know that he could not secure the nomination at the hands of either the dominant parties and comes out with his announcement as an independent candidate, and nothing but death can head him off in his desire to run for president.

And Ford will be a contender for the place. With three candidates, he will get a strong labor vote, and no doubt will run well in the farming districts of many states. We would not take his candidacy as a joke by any means, and should his name appear on the ballot, there will be some hustling on the part of both Democrats and Republicans.

MACHINES NOW DIGGING COAL

Inventions Have Wrought Great
Changes in the Methods of Bringing
"Black Diamonds" to Surface.

With the rapid development of labor-saving methods, the coal miner, according to Popular Mechanics Magazine, is being transformed into a keen-eyed operator of a powerful machine which not only mines and loads the coal, but does it in a safer and more economical manner; safer, because the coal is broken down without the use of explosives which tend to shatter the roof and make it dangerous; and more economical, because it produces more lump coal and fewer fines, and does it more rapidly.

One machine developed for this work consists of an undercutting frame with cutter chain and a shearing frame on each side of the machine. In the undercutting frame is a conveyor. There is provided a powerful ram which breaks down the coal onto the conveyor. This ram can be directed at any height of the coal face.

The machine is mounted in a pan and fed forward by means of a steel rope. When the cut has been made, the machine is pulled back in the pan by means of a rope; then this rope is hooked over a sheave on the forward side of the machine and the eye fastened to a jack at the face of the opposite rib. By this means the machine is pulled sideways the width of the cut. This requires about three minutes. The machine is then ready to take another cut.

The machine can be used in combination with a movable storage hopper provided with a loading conveyor. By this system the machine operates continuously during the time the loaded mine car is being removed and replaced by an empty one.

NEW YORKERS' LATEST SLANG

Word "Quaint" Has Found Much
Favor Among Those Who Affect
The Artistic Life.

"Quaint" is the latest word of the world that must have a new and uncommon adjective. It has quite outmoded "amusing" in the slang of the studios and among those who affect the artistic life. The dictionary meaning of the word—"combining an antique appearance with a pleasing oddity, fancifulness, or whimsicalness"—has been quite submerged in the passing craze for its use. When the governor's daughter in "The Tavern" said to the vagabond, "You are the quaintest man I ever knew," she did not really mean what the dictionary says the word means. She was admiring his powers of deduction. But the "latest" word had been worked into the speech and that was the desired thing. The tone always used in connection with "quaint" is patronizing, whether it is applied to a human being, a picture, or what not. The user invariably tries to give the impression that the object thus passed upon could have been done ever so much better if he, or she, had had a hand in making it. To be "quaint" nowadays is to be ever so slightly damned.—New York Herald.

Human Factor Counts.

Lord Teignmouth, in a letter to the London Times, writes: "In the controversy between the advocates of battle or surface ships and admirers of the submarine, one factor, and that a very important one, has been altogether ignored—namely, the human factor. Ships are built to carry human beings; and, as far as present statistics enable one to judge, no submersible vessel has yet been constructed in which men can live for more than a few weeks, continuously, without deteriorating, mentally and physically, owing to the abnormal conditions prevailing on board. Man is an adaptable creature, and possibly, in the course of a century or so, a race of human beings may be evolved which can exist, comfortably, without fresh air, exercise or change of scene. In the meantime, surface ships will be voted the most habitable. Doctor Johnson must surely have had a U-boat in mind when he declared that 'being in a ship is being in jail, with the chance of being drowned.'"

TYNAN RECEIVER HIS FIRE INSURANCE CHECK

Herman E. Drum of Topeka, representing the Twin City Fire Insurance Company was here yesterday to make some adjustments and look after the interests of his company in county generally. While here, Mr. Drum, and Chas. Ellsaesser, local representative, drove to the Ed. Tynan farm southeast of the city to make an adjustment of his fire loss. Fire completely destroyed his fine twelve room house last week, also his light plan and all the contents of the house. There was little adjustment to be made and he was given a check for $6132.50.
