HELPFUL HINTS

AND SUGGESTIONS

From Kansas State Agricultural College
Kansas Council of Defense
U. S. Department of Agriculture

The little green flags on the Kansas plain will scare the Kaiser stiff, ten million acres of bumping wheat will gag his scornful snuff. The farmers are mobilizing from Goodland down to Hutch, and one of these fine summer days it'll rain to beat the Dutch. The Sammies across the water need bread to make them fight, and when Kansas has a job on hand she naturally does it right. Two hundred million bushels of wheat is what the green flags mean; plow deep and early, people, paste Hindenburg on the bean.

Getting deep into the ground is best in wheat raising as well as in trench warfare.

Experience is the best guide. A wheat failure in Kansas always has been followed by a bumper crop in the past 20 years. The signs are right for 1918.

The Kansas farmer is patriotic. He is willing to take the same risk as the business man. The Kansas Wheat Pool gives a fine chance for the two to co-operate in their patriotism and increase the acreage of the state 25 per cent.

Wheat is too valuable to waste on poorly prepared ground. Plow deep and early. If you can't do that, double disk now and plow as soon as you can.

What's the use of wasting a half bushel of $2.25 wheat on every acre of ground. In western Kansas it has been proved by hundreds of demonstrations that a half bushel of seed per acre is plenty if the seeding is done early on well prepared ground.

It takes long green to sow wheat, but the green will be a dozen times longer next spring when it comes out of the ground.

"Dig in" for the big wheat battle. Look out for Kansas, Mr. Hindenburg.
