Methodist Notes

The annual election of the Board of Trustees will be held Wednesday night January 9th at the close of the regular prayer meeting service. Every member over 21 is entitled to a vote.

The fourth and last Quarterly Meeting for this Conference year will be held on Friday night at 7:30; Jan. 11. Rev. R. A. Dadisman district Superintendent will be present. He will preach, conduct the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper, and afterward preside at the Quarterly Conference. Every member should especially plan to be present.

Mrs. Clara Fick Perkins' recital of Enoch Arden last Sunday night was greatly enjoyed. She did it in a masterful fashion, and in the spirit of a true artist. Her articulation and inflection was splendid, and with her charming personality, and true simplicity of manner she made the selection easily understood by everyone present. The effect was grand. Miss White as accompanist at the piano throughout the entire selection by her careful and sympathetic following added much to the beauty and effect of it all.

The new 1918 Sunday School Officers are to be installed next Sunday morning. Seventy people made a record of perfect attendance during the past quarter.

GENERAL KNOWN AS DANCER

Man Who Is Leading Italian Drive "Upstairs to Vienna" Favorite Member of Royal Circle.

When the world on this side of the water reads of General Cadorna's thrilling onward smashing drive toward "upstairs to Vienna," as the Italians express it, no one thinks of this foremost Italian diplomatist and soldier as Queen Elena's favorite member of the royal dancing circle—the man to whom her majesty most frequently accords her infrequent honor of extending her hand for his kiss. General Cadorna is accounted the best sixty-seven-year-old dancer in his country, and it is whispered that he not infrequently even at this time, with all of his martial cares heavy upon him, indulges in a waltz or a polka as a half hour's recreation from his steady strides toward that "upstairs to Vienna," upon which he is bent.

The Countess Cadorna, still lovely, was known until far past her fiftieth year as a famous beauty, and to this adds the rare gift of tactfulness, a fine attribute in its way for the wife of any man, even though, as in the present case, he is the idol of his men for what they account his greatest charm, "politeness of the heart."

VALUE OF CHEESE AS A FOOD

Experts Seek to Overcome Prejudice Caused by Comic Paper Jokes About Welsh Rarebit.

Some long-cherished notions about food, food values and food effects have been upset within the last few months, and the American housewife, in recent weeks, has learned more about food than she ever knew before, says an exchange.

Not long ago most of us were convinced that cornmeal dishes were out of place in summer. We believed they were "heating." The experts have declared to the contrary. Now they want us to eat more cheese, and they assure us that we can partake of this nourishing food in generous quantities without any disarrangement of the digestive tract.

A pound of cheese supplies more than twice as much energy as a pound of fowl or of round steak, and almost twice as much protein as the same amount of fowl or ham. It is accordingly a cheaper food than meats, and it is palatable and wholesome. We shall be the gainers if we forget some of the comic paper jokes about Welsh rarebit and begin to partake of the cheese as a real food and not merely as an appetizer.

REMINDED OF GRANDFATHER.

Justice Pendleton of the New York supreme court was examining applicants for citizenship recently when a band in the park began playing "The Star Spangled Banner." It was written by Francis Scott Key, Justice Pendleton's grandfather. The justice turned his head toward the window, and the hubbub in the court ceased. Then the justice rose to his feet, and the men who were seeking the right to take the flag as their own rose with him. Everybody faced the flag that was draped on the courtroom wall. Not a soul moved until the music ceased. Then the justice bowed and resumed his seat, and the work of making citizens went on again.

WHERE WAITING IS WISE.

"Pa, why do so many marriages come off shortly after Easter?"

"It would be a rash man, my child, who married before his intended had bought her Easter outfit."

APPROPRIATE.

"Jaggs kept insisting that he saw a lot of snakes and they were all black snakes."

"But, then, Jaggs is in mourning."

RIGHT IN LINE.

"My foreign friend is always prattling about the crown of jewels."

"Bring him out and show him our own local diamond."

THE LIMIT.

"Bill's a terrible sponger."

"Yes?"

"Even laughs at your expense."—Purple Cow.

MUCH TO BE THANKFUL FOR.

"Mammy, what you goin' to gib me on mah birthday?"

"Nuffin, if yo's a good child."—Brooklyn Citizen.

MINERS LONG IN SERVICE

Some Diggers Have Been Working Underground for More Than Sixty Years, the Records Show.

Some interesting facts on longevity among coal miners have been compiled by the anthracite bureau of information in Wilkesbarre. The recent retirement from active service of W. D. Owens, superintendent of the Lackawanna division of the Lehigh Valley Coal company, serves to call attention to the number of workers who have filled out long careers in the anthracite mines. Owens has served as foreman and superintendent for 39 years, and, although he has turned over the active duties of his position to his successor, is to remain with the company in an advisory capacity.

A few weeks ago occurred the death of John T. Williams of Lansford, a pioneer miner in the Panther Creek valley. He was seventy-five years old, and had spent 67 years as an employee in the mines, and had been with the Lehigh Coal and Navigation company for 65 years. During the last year, because of deaths in his family, Thomas Parry of Nesquehoning decided to move from the anthracite field to make his home with a relative. The decision to quit the mines came after a period of 62 years had elapsed since he first commenced work in them as a boy. A long stretch of time marks the service period of Robert T. Smiles of Pittston, who lately resigned his position with the Pennsylvania Coal company after being continuously employed for 61 years. Smiles began work as a report boy, and had filled most of the positions in and about the mines. For 34 years he had been continuously employed as an engineer at one mine.—Providence Journal.

A $10,000 MAP.

In the lobby of one of Chicago's large office buildings is a huge relief map of the European countries where the war rages, exhibited to the public and lectured upon by a former war correspondent. The main map is 10 by 20 feet, but owing to its convex construction it contains an area of 300 square feet, says Popular Science Monthly. It is a segment of a 90-foot globe. It was made by William Robertson, with the assistance of ten men. It took them nine months to make it, including labor and materials, the cost of the map is estimated to be $10,000.

CURIOSITY WAS NATURAL.

"I spent the first part of my vacation on a motorcycle."

"And in what hospital did you spend the last part?"

HIS CLASS.

"Your husband is always chaffing me, isn't he, Mrs. Comeup?"

"Yes, indeed. I tell him he is quite a chauffeur."

TOO HIGH FLOWN.

"Shall we have some osculatory diversions?"

"Oh, no; just let's have some plain kissing games."

QUESTION OF TIME.

"Was that Jack I saw, with his arm around you?"

"I don't know. How long ago did you look?"

A PROOF TO THE CONTRARY.

"Electricity was not well known to the ancients."

"Why wasn't it? Didn't Noah have arc lights?"
