A THIRD VICTIM.

John Rolla Taken from Jail and Hanged at Booneville, Ind.

Booneville, Ind., Dec. 17.-John Rolla, the third of the colored men implicated in the murder of Hollie Jackson, was hung to a tree in the courthouse yard by a mob of about 100 men from Rockport, at 6:30 o'clock this evening.

A few minutes after 6 o'clock a body of men marched through the principal street of the town to the jail and demanded that the prisoner be turned over to them.

Sheriff Benjamin Hudson was out of town and his deputy, Raymond Cherry, was in charge of the jail. He had heard that a mob was on its way here, and at once made an effort to get the prisoner out of town and take him to Evansville, but before this could be accomplished the mob had arrived and the facility of the attempt became apparent.

He declined to give up the keys to the jail, and the members of the mob at once began to batter in the wall of the jail with a telegraph pole, which was handled by a dozen or more men. As soon as a hole large enough to admit the body of a man was battered through the wall, six members of the mob crawled through with sledge hammers and broke down the door of Rolla's cell.

When the men reached his cell he protested his innocence in loud tones, begging piteously to be spared. The men working at the door of the cell might have been deaf, judging by the attention they paid to the wailing of the negro.

Little time was used in breaking into the cell, and very soon the thoroughly terrorized negro was in the hands of his executioners, who placed a rope around his neck. All left, crawling again through the hole by which they had entered, dragging the negro after them.

A few minutes' time was consumed in the march to the jail yard, where the rope was thrown over the limb of a tree and a hundred willing hands pulled the rope and sent the negro's body flying into the air. The loose end of the rope was tied to a tree and as soon as the members of the mob was sure that their work had been completed they left in as quiet a manner as they entered the town.
