

DEMPSEY NOW FINDS ONLY JOKE IN LAND OF HUN IS MONEY

(Associated Press Night Wire) BERLIN, May 1.—"I'm a millionaire in Germany," chuckled Jack Dempsey today as the paying teller of the Deutsche bank gave him a bale of marks in exchange for a few American dollars. The champion was up early and started out on a shopping tour which wound up with the purchase of a police dog, jewelry opera glasses and an assortment of other souvenirs. Germans who shook hands with him expressed amazement at the size of his hands. "What an awful fist!" exclaimed a prominent political leader who stood in line in the lobby of the Hotel Adlon waiting for a cherished introduction to the fighter. Dempsey is filling only social engagements during his visit to Germany, and said today that he proposed stopping his dieting regulations.

CAMPBELL TO BE "PRIVATE" IN NEXT WAR

Governor on Tour Given Surprise Party at Safford and Announces Hope he May Serve His Party in Ranks This Year

(Special to the Journal-Miner) SAFFORD, Apr. 29.—Tom Campbell will enter the fall campaign as a private in the ranks of progress and not as a candidate for office, he told some 50 friends at a surprise banquet tendered in his honor this evening. "I will enter this campaign more confident than even of republican success," he said. "For our administration has been one of performance. The expense of state government has been large, but we have gotten a dollar's worth for every dollar expended. Not a single dollar has been squandered."

The Governor and Mrs. Campbell, accompanied by J. K. Campbell, brother of the governor, and the governor's son, Allen, are enroute by automobile to the state industrial school at Fort Grant, returning to Phoenix via Tucson.

This evening's reception was planned by friends of Governor and Mrs. Campbell when they learned he had left Miami for this place, the occasion being an expression of friendship and good will on the part of citizens of this town, which incidentally is the home of Mit Simms, democratic candidate for governor in the last campaign. R. A. Armstrong acted as toastmaster.

BUCKAROOS DEFEAT KIRKLAND 16 TO 12

The Kirkland Cowboys were defeated in a whipping finish by the Prescott Buckaroos Sunday at the valley town. Until the seventh inning the game slipped along easily with Prescott always about a run to the good. Then with two down and the sacks densely populated, Kirkland got ahead of one of the straight ones and went ahead, 11 to 8 as the home-runner crossed the bag. But the Buckaroos, despite the perfectly unique rooting section of home folks, pulled out of the hole and wound up with a score of 16 to the Kirkland 12. The Prescott team was carried to Kirkland in cars donated by the Arizona Bus company.

CHIEF TELLS TRIBE MRS. HARDING, GOOD WOMAN, NOT PROUD

(Associated Press Night Wire) YAKIMA, Wash., May 1.—Two thousand Yakima Indians met Sunday at a newly built "long house" at Wapato which was dedicated with a great feast of which elk, deer and salmon provided the main ingredients. Chief George Meninyak spoke to his people, advising them as to the rules for the annual fishing at the Prosser dam, telling them of his recent trip to Washington on their behalf. He urged the women to pattern after Mrs. Harding, whom he characterized as "a good woman, a good woman and not proud."

FARMERS ARE PROGRESSIVE

Secretary Wallace of Agriculture Department Reviews past and Present Conditions in the Field of the Farm.

PHOENIX, May 1.—Arizona farmers are among the most progressive in the country in seeing that the future welfare of agriculture demands co-operation with other industries, in the opinion of officials of the Arizona Farm Bureau Federation, whose attention was called to an article in the April "Farm and Fireside" by Henry C. Wallace, secretary of agriculture.

Mr. Wallace, after reviewing the past and present conditions in agriculture, in discussing the industry's future, had the following to say in regard to co-operation: "In short, we have come to the time when team work is needed; yes, imperatively. There must be sympathy, understanding, and co-operation between agriculture, industry and business. They are alike necessary to a well rounded national life. They must work together for the good of all."

A few paragraphs later Secretary Wallace says:

"Without meaning that they shall be all-inclusive, I venture to suggest certain things that ought to be done to foster our agriculture, not for the selfish benefit of the farmer, but for the benefit of all the people. In some cases legislative action will be required; in others, administration by government and state agencies; and still others, co-operation both between the farmers themselves and between farmers and other groups."

Arizona farmers are perhaps the first in the nation to actually carry out the secretary's idea of co-operating with industry and business. The Arizona Farm Bureau is included in the Arizona Industrial congress, through which its members are working with all other branches of industry and business in the state to advance the common interests of all by co-operation. The results already obtained have proved that Secretary Wallace is correct in saying that the future welfare of all demands co-operation between agriculture, industry and business.

Aside from this there is but little of interest to report, as practically no development work is in progress and no construction work is going on or at present contemplated. Cash on hand April 1, 1922, $1,056,709.66

HOLD SWAIN FOR A SHORTAGE IN FUNDS

(Associated Press) DENVER, April 27.—Alva A. Swain, Colorado politician and at one time administrator of the I. N. Stevens $200,000 estate, was released in $50,000 bond today to appear in the county court when ordered following his appearance on a citation issued by Judge Luxford.

Application for filing Swain into court on a charge of contempt was made by Miss Julia Lathrop, attorney for the executor of the Stevens estate, and representatives of the internal revenue collector's office and the state inheritance tax office. Miss Lathrop declared in court that a check of the estate showed shortages approximating $19,000.

FOREST USERS FORM SOCIETY TO MEET HERE

Cattlemen with Permits to Graze Seek Protection of Interests in Organization Separate From Cattle Association.

(From Tuesday's Daily) In the offing and due to arrive among realities within the next few months is a forest states cattle growers' protective association.

Completion of the preliminary work of forming a society of permittees on forest lands at Phoenix last Saturday night, was announced here yesterday by Harry Knight, president of the Yavapai Cattle Growers' association, who attended a meeting of representative stockmen from all over the state. The organization of a corporation with one share of stock each for the 1,600 livestock raisers who hold permits to graze their herds and flocks on national forest lands, will be completed with the permanent officers selected at a meeting to be held in Prescott on one of the four days of the Frontier week this year.

Charles P. Mullen of this county was made chairman of the temporary organization, F. S. Hildreth is secretary and Harry Kay is treasurer.

A representative of the permittees will be stationed in Washington under a salary to form a channel of communication between the cattlemen and the government, Mr. Knight said. The complaint of the cattlemen is that of suffering from reductions in grazing permits and failure to reach any authorities in the forest service to whom appeals can be taken.

Judge Shute of Gila county, who spoke before the preliminary meeting at Phoenix, is mentioned as a possible candidate for the office of official representative at Washington. Judge Shute is wise in the ways of the cattle business, having been in it for years, and in addition is said to be qualified for the post by reason of his legal and political knowledge.

New Mexico stockmen who attended the Phoenix meeting declared that that state would soon follow the example of Arizona, and with this encouragement, the organizers began to dream of an interstate association to cover all the forested areas.

"The state cattle growers' association has been helping to treat the hand," Knight said, "but we feel that there should be a separate organization of forest land users, with a special mission. And this is it." The inspiration for the new association came at the Globe cattlemen's meeting, and the mid-year convention of the association here in July will undoubtedly witness the permanent organization.

MAN AND WIFE BEAT HER UP, WOMAN SAYS

(Associated Press Night Wire) PHOENIX, May 1.—"I am here to force an issue on the matter of a secret indictment which I am led to believe by rumors and newspaper reports was returned against me by the federal grand jury almost a year ago." This statement was made last night by United States Senator Ralph H. Cameron, who arrived yesterday from Washington and immediately instituted a probe into the affair which he says was never officially brought to his attention.

F. C. Jacobs and H. L. Partidge, attorneys of Globe, are assisting him to bring the matter to a conclusion. As a first step in the proceedings Senator Cameron went to his legal representatives and with his office of United States Marshal Tom Sparkes and asked if there was a warrant there for him. He was informed that no request for a warrant had ever been submitted to that office.

The senator next went to U. S. Commissioner John B. Hencke and asked that bond be arranged to cover any proceedings which might be taken. Although no complaint had been brought to the attention of the federal commissioner, the request was complied with and a bond was furnished.

FOOD EXPERT TELLS ROTARIANS ABOUT IT

Radio has nothing on the human bean for broadcasting, according to E. J. Samson, food expert, who talked to the Rotary club yesterday on the chemistry of eating. In ten minutes he had the Rotarians wondering why they did not explode like a depth bomb from some of the high-powered articles of diet the ordinary human being instills.

The senses, the speaker declared, convey to the stomach the warning of food and tummy proceeds to provide the proper secretions to handle the affair. Success in life is rather closely mingled with correct eating, too, for, as one writer said, back of every example of inefficiency is an example of indigestion.

STUDENT OPERA WILL BE GREAT MUSICAL EVENT

Under Direction of Musical and Dramatic Faculty of High School, Over Sixty Glee Club Students Will Present 'Sylvia'

(From Tuesday's Daily) An event in local high school circles will be the presentation at the Elks theater Thursday afternoon and evening of the operetta "Sylvia," upon which the Badger and the Badgerette Glee clubs have been working hard for some time past under the supervision of their teachers. It is understood that this will be the most extensive musical or dramatic production yet undertaken at the high school. The costumes for the principals have been secured from the Chicago Theatrical company, while the 55 students who will make up the choruses have made dazzling costumes of their own.

The production has been carried forward under the supervision of Miss Marjorie Nelson, supervisor of music in the city schools, and the direction of Miss Frances Keen, instructor in public speaking and dramatics at the high school. Miss Nelson directed the musical rehearsals, while Miss Keen directed work in the libretto and the dancing. Assisting in the presentation will be Miss Ethel McMurchie, soprano; Miss Juanita Morrison, contralto; Miss Almiria Luebke, accompanist, and Mr. Lawrence Ingraham.

"Sylvia" is considered one of the cleverest and most tuneful of the light operas, and the care which has been taken with its production assures that the presentation will leave nothing to be asked. The cast will be as follows:

- Prince Tobbytum—Joseph Heap.
- Sylvia—Miss Ethel McMurchie.
- William—George Raitt.
- Sir Bertram de Lacey—Mr. Lawrence Ingraham.
- Betty—Miss Juanita Morrison.
- Molly, Dolly, Polly, friends of Betty—Edna Sims, Nadine Murray, Esther Devin.
- Arabella, lady-in-waiting—Alicie Nelson.
- Araminta, her sister—Kathryn Hart.
- Choruses of hymakers, farmers, daughters, and farmer lads.

SENATOR SUDDENLY APPEARS IN PHOENIX TO CLEAR UP CASE

(Associated Press Night Wire) PHOENIX, May 1.—"I am here to force an issue on the matter of a secret indictment which I am led to believe by rumors and newspaper reports was returned against me by the federal grand jury almost a year ago." This statement was made last night by United States Senator Ralph H. Cameron, who arrived yesterday from Washington and immediately instituted a probe into the affair which he says was never officially brought to his attention.

F. C. Jacobs and H. L. Partidge, attorneys of Globe, are assisting him to bring the matter to a conclusion. As a first step in the proceedings Senator Cameron went to his legal representatives and with his office of United States Marshal Tom Sparkes and asked if there was a warrant there for him. He was informed that no request for a warrant had ever been submitted to that office.

The senator next went to U. S. Commissioner John B. Hencke and asked that bond be arranged to cover any proceedings which might be taken. Although no complaint had been brought to the attention of the federal commissioner, the request was complied with and a bond was furnished.

Summing up the situation, Senator Cameron said that although he had never been officially notified of charges pending against him nor given an opportunity to examine such charges nor served with a warrant, nor requested by any authority to return to the state for any court action or other reason, he deemed it advisable to force the issue and bring to light any indictment which may have been returned secretly against him.

REPUDIATES $38,000 NOTE

(From Saturday's Daily) Fen S. Hildreth Declares Items Were Included in Instrument He Did Not Agree to in Negotiation for Credit.

That things were written into the blank spaces on a note that he did not see and approve, is the basis of a suit to void the instrument, filed yesterday by Mr. and Mrs. Fen S. Hildreth against the Commercial Trust and Savings bank.

The amount involved is large—$38,600.

Hildreth alleges that around December 28, 1921, he was negotiating a deal for the security and protection of certain creditors, and on that date the defendant presented him a form of note and mortgage. He says he signed the note under certain conditions, but that counsel for the bank never delivered the note to the bank. Later, the defendant filed in the recorder's office, a mortgage containing items written in subsequent to his signing that he did not approve. Meantime, he was indebted to Morgan Adams on a note and it was partly for the purpose of paying interest to Adams that the note in question was negotiated. The defendant, it is alleged, did not pay certain sums to Adams as stipulated, and this has caused an undesirable state of affairs. The plaintiff therefore prays that the note be held void.

GUILD MEETING

(From Tuesday's Daily) St. Mary's Guild will meet this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Dr. Roper on South Mt. Vernon street.

BUY AT HOME WEEK MAY 22-27 STARTED BY A. I. CONGRESS

(Special to the Journal-Miner) PHOENIX, April 28.—The first concerted movement to awake the people of Arizona to the business advantages of buying in their home-towns was announced today in the statement that a statewide "Trade at Home—Buy Arizona Products" week will be held May 22-27 in every part of the state.

Announcement of the week was made at headquarters of the Arizona Industrial congress which will conduct the statewide movement in co-operation with the merchants and civic organizations of practically every city and town. The farm bureau also will assist in the movement in the country districts.

"Your living depends on your town; your town depends on its business; its business depends on you," is one of the arguments which is to be emphasized in the campaign. The future prosperity of every town in the state depends on the business that is done in that town, and to increase that business the general public must be shown that it is to its own advantage to trade with home merchants and home business men.

The week of May 22-27 was selected as coming just before the summer vacation period when most people are considering buying goods of some sort. While urging the people to trade at home, it is planned to have the co-operating civic organizations emphasize the fact that to keep their home business the merchants and business men must offer prices and values as good as may be obtained elsewhere. Most business places in the state are following this policy, however.

At the same time the people are being urged to patronize their home business houses they will be urged to use Arizona agricultural and manufactured products wherever possible. These two things, trading at home and using Arizona products, go hand-in-hand in increasing the general prosperity of the entire state.

The announcement of the campaign declared that preliminary plans have been received with enthusiasm by business men to whom they have been sent, and that the public at large is expected to receive the campaign with the same desire to advance business in Arizona and hence improve all conditions.

Detailed plans for the movement are being completed and will be announced probably next Monday.

PRAISES WORK OF BIBLE CLASS FOR SICK VETS

(From Saturday's Daily) A good word from an authoritative source has been received to encourage the activities of the Fellowship Bible class, the largest organization of its kind in the state. No less a personage than H. S. Cumming, surgeon general of the United States, has declared that the wholesome effect of the work of this class among disabled ex-soldiers at Fort Whipple is to be counted among the important and commendable influences in the lives of the men.

A communication from Dr. Cumming, addressed to Walter Hill, teacher of the Fellowship Bible class, says that the head of the public health service has always considered the matter of spiritual instruction a very necessary adjunct to the care and treatment of the disabled soldier. Such instruction, Dr. Cumming continues, also tends to increase the morale of patients at a hospital and this is extremely valuable in cases of tuberculosis.

"Aside, however, from any therapeutic value which can be claimed for spiritual instruction," the communication ends, "I feel that your work is a great one and you may be sure that it is appreciated by the bureau." The letter was made public by friends of Mr. Hill, who was the prime mover and is now teacher of the institution. The class numbers about 150 young men and a large number of them are stationed at Whipple Barracks. The study is carried on at the Marina Street Methodist church, but the class is not a denominational one, but is open to young men of all church affiliations. So important are the Sunday classes considered that the post provides transportation for its men to come in for the meetings.

ECONOMISTS DISCUSS RAILROAD PROBLEMS

(Associated Press) NEW YORK, April 28.—The problems facing the railroad system of the country since its return to private ownership under the transportation act of 1920 and their relation to business prosperity were discussed today at the semi-annual meeting of the Academy of Political Science in the Hotel Astor.

The meeting brought together a large gathering of prominent public and railroad officials, economists, financiers and business men, together with numerous representatives of groups of railroad employees. Their purpose, as outlined in an announcement of the meeting, was to prepare the public for readjustments in the railroad situation which would safeguard public interests, promote the efficiency of the railroads and permit the transportation industry to perform its proper share in the restoration of American business to normalcy.

Six of the first board of directors of the Prescott Rotary club were returned to office at yesterday's annual election and to the list was added John H. Robinson.

- Harry Heap
- Harry Southworth
- Frank Brown
- Mose Hazeltine
- Lester Ruffner
- John Robinson
- Russell Jones.

In not making a speech at the eve-side of his administration, President Heap declared that the Rotary club had performed wonderfully during its first part year; it has achieved many of its ambitions. It worked through other organizations and had avoided constituting itself a mere organization for the passing of resolutions.

HOSPITAL SITE TO BE CHOSEN

(From Saturday's Daily) Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen to Hold Convention With Selection of Place as Part of its Program.

Selection of a site for the proposed hospital of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen probably will come up for settlement at the triennial convention of the order to be held in Toronto, Ont., Canada, within the next week or two.

While it is not definitely known locally that action on the matter will be taken at that time, it is believed by local railroad men that the choice of a site for establishment of the proposed hospital in the southwest will be considered and probably settled definitely. The committee having the matter in charge will report to the convention, which will be attended by delegates from B. R. T. locals of the entire country.

Representing the Prescott local at the convention will be James A. Mulvenon, who is also chairman of the order in this city. He and Mrs. Mulvenon with their young son left on yesterday's noon train for Kansas City, Kans., where they will visit Mrs. Mulvenon's mother for a few days. Leaving their son with his grandmother, they will proceed to Ontario. Following the convention, which will last about four weeks, they plan to journey into the north-eastern states, where they will enjoy a vacation tour of about six weeks.
