BREAK DOWNS.—This morning about 7 o'clock, while the neighbors were enjoying their breakfast, a crash was heard which resounded from one end of Walnut street to some distance. Some timid persons thought that an earthquake had occurred, while the more sober-minded thought that somebody's house had fallen—in which report they were correct. Upon examination it was found that County Constable Gladney's residence, which he was trying to raise above sump water mark, without success, had fallen, and in the fall endangered the life of his wife, who had just arose from her bed in the room that the chimney had fallen into with a great crash, breaking up the bedstead, crockery, and, to use an expression not altogether elegant, raised the dust generally. No one seriously hurt.

SPORTING CLUB.—Some twenty-five of the live men of Cairo that are fond of sport, met last evening in the rooms over Robert Smyth's and Co's store, to organize the Cairo Sporting Club. There was a large attendance, and all entered heartily into the work of arranging it. A similar organization was in existence in Cairo several years ago, but for the lack of interest of the officers the organization collapsed. The new one starts out with a good sum in the treasury, and expects hereafter to have a sufficient amount of greenbacks on hand to pay all bills and make the thing creditable, both to the members and the city. All are pleased to hear of this reorganization. It is something that has been needed in Cairo, and from the men that are at the head, there can be no such thing as fail. The club has accepted an invitation to meet the sporting men of Mount City this afternoon and engage in a pigeon shooting match. Success to our sportsmen.

The following officers were elected: F. Kent, President; Robert Smyth, Secretary; James Garland, Treasurer.

BIRD'S COURT.—One case before Justice Bird this morning. This was a case of assault, Samuel Clark defendant, and Charles Peoples complainant. Both are colored water haulers. Constable J. E. Gladney made the arrest. There was a large number of witnesses examined, and much loud talk indulged in, which did not do much to enlighten the jury. All the evidence was about of the nature, and all went to show that Clark visited the residence of Peoples with an axe on his shoulder, with the intent to do him bodily injury. Peoples tried in every way to cool down his angry passions, without effect, the assailant steadily advanced with the deadly weapon raised, and when within striking distance, let out. Mr. Peoples received the blow on his arm and breast, fortunately doing no serious injury, merely bruising his arm and making a slight wound on his breast. Constable Gladney, who happened to be in the vicinity, arrested Clark. Judge Bird fined him fifteen dollars and cost. Total, Twenty-three dollars and ten cents.

THE C. & V.—The new time card of the Cairo and Vincennes railroad, taking effect the 5th, contains some new features and affords unusual facilities to the traveling public.

The Indianapolis and Vincennes road has changed its time table to conform to the new card of the C. and V., so that passenger trains leaving Cairo at 5 o'clock a. m., now makes close connections at Vincennes for Indianapolis, arriving the same evening.

Coming south from Indianapolis close connection is also made at Vincennes, arriving at Cairo at 10:30 p. m. Trains connect at Indianapolis for eastern points via Pan-handle route and with all eastern and northern roads. Passengers have time for dinner at Vincennes both ways.

The connection with the E. and C. railroad for Terra Haute, Chicago and the north, and the daylight run between Cairo and Cincinnati and Louisville are still kept up. Passengers leaving Cairo at 5 o'clock in the morning are in Cincinnati or Louisville the same evening; returning leave Cincinnati or Louisville in the morning and reach Cairo the same evening at 10:30. This run gives our people an excellent opportunity to attend the exposition, and the C. and V. advertises tickets for one fare for the round trip, good during the exposition, both here and at Mount City.

At Cincinnati connections are made with the Atlantic and Great Western and Erie roads, the favorably known broad gauge route to the east.

The former connection at Carmi for Evansville, by way of the Southeastern road, is still maintained.

On this card trains stop for breakfast at Stone Port.

We are glad to know that the efforts of the present management are being rewarded by increased business. We predict that the C. and V. will eventually be the favorite route between the southwest and the east.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

The public schools opened yesterday morning, under the most favorable auspices. The day was beautiful, and the attendance for the first day was much larger than in former years. There was necessarily much work, as there always is at the commencement of a school year, but our efficient principal and able corps of teachers were equal to the emergency.

When we visited the schools this morning all GRADES HAD BEEN CLASSIFIED, and each room appeared to be in good running order, everything working harmoniously. We give the number of scholars in each room. The number will be increased by over one-third before the end of the week. This is not the fault of the superintendent and teachers. They have used the press and urged personally upon parents the necessity of having their children present promptly Monday morning at the opening of the schools, thereby saving much trouble to the teachers, and saving the children the trouble of catching up with the classes to which they will be assigned.

We believe, from our observations and conversations with the teachers, and from noting their discipline and manner of teaching, that our schools to-day are in as good hands as any in the land, and expect by the end of the term to hear a good report from the scholars and the approval of the parents.

The superintendent and teachers have much work, and many responsibilities to contend with, and our citizens should take a lively interest in everything pertaining to the schools, and endeavor in every way possible to help and encourage the school board, the worthy superintendent and the teachers under his supervision. If they do this, and show their interest by visiting the schools occasionally, it will do much to stimulate both teachers and scholars to their work.

We have known Mr. Alvord by reputation for many years. From what we know and have learned of him, we look forward to a successful school year, and believe that if our people will give him their encouragement that they will find everything turn out to the best, and Cairo schools compare favorably in every way with those of other cities of the land.

ELSEVETH STREET PRIMARY. This school, situated on Eleventh street between Washington avenue and Walnut street, we found in tip top running order with Miss A. Rogers in charge. It is not necessary for us to say one word in favor of the excellent teacher. She is too well known in Cairo, having had charge of the same school last year and gave the very best of satisfaction. Miss R. has 101 scholars enrolled on her books, about the same number as attended last year, and anticipates about 25 more before the end of the week.

THIRTEENTH STREET SCHOOL. Miss Annie E. Houston, of Metropolis, Illinois, has charge of the fifth and sixth grades, intermediate department of this school. Miss H. came to Cairo highly recommended. She is a teacher of several years experience, and a student of the Illinois state normal school, located at Normal, Illinois. We found enrolled fifty-two pupils, with the prospect of a few more.

THIRD GRADE PRIMARY. This room is under the supervision of Miss M. Aubrey, a lady that is not a stranger to the people of Cairo. We found everything working nicely in this school. Miss A. counted forty-nine names on her register.

THIRD GRADE (PRIMARY). We found an unusual large attendance in this room, but all working along in the very best order. No confusion, as would naturally be expected on the second day of the school year. Miss Annie Phillips, the teacher in charge, seemed to have all well in hand, and to one that had not known that it was the second day of the session, would take it at a glance that there had been no vacation. Miss Phillips was born and raised in Cairo. Every one in the city is familiar with her qualifications, and we could not add one word that would be of benefit to her on that score. Scholars in attendance, 73.

FOURTH GRADE INTERMEDIATE. Miss Ida Harrell has charge of this room. Miss H. is a graduate of the Cairo high school and well-known to our people. This is her first experience. We remained in her room some time and were pleased with the way in which she controlled and instructed her scholars. Number of pupils enrolled, 38.

HIGH GRAMMAR. This room is in charge of Miss Kate A. Thomson. This is her third year in Cairo. She came to this city from Syracuse, Illinois, and has a good reputation as a thorough teacher and good disciplinarian, and has the supervision of all schools in this building and is ably assisted by Miss M. E. Powers. Scholars, 42.

PRIMARY. This school is located on Washington avenue, between Eighteenth and Nineteenth streets. Miss L. Walbridge is the teacher. The attendance is not quite as large as last year, but will be increased by twelve or fifteen before many days. Miss Walbridge had charge of this school last year. From our observations while there, we should think that she understood her business fully, and appeared to have good control over, and the regard of her scholars. Number in attendance, 32.

COLORS SCHOOL.—GRAMMAR GRADE. This school is in a flourishing condition and starts out with a large attendance. We first visited THE GRAMMAR GRADE, in charge of Miss M. E. McBride. This is her first year in Cairo, formerly residing at Munford, N. Y., and is a graduate of Oswego, N. Y., normal university, and is said to be a good teacher; number of scholars, 42.

FIRST PRIMARY.—THIRD AND FOURTH GRADES. Miss K. K. Copeland (colored) is the teacher. Miss C. is a native of Circleville, Ohio, and a graduate of Wilberforce university. Scholars in attendance, 43.

FIRST GRADE PRIMARY. This school room was full and will have to have additional seats. Miss Nellie Banks has been assigned to this room, but the school is in the temporary charge of Mr. Edward Natt. 47 scholars.

THIRD PRIMARY. Miss Virginia Copeland (colored) a sister of the lady in the first primary, also a resident of Circleville, Ohio, and a graduate of Wilberforce university, is the teacher in this room. 61 scholars enrolled.

HIGH SCHOOL PROPER. The high school proper starts off with a larger attendance than ever before at the commencement of the school year, and expect to receive a large addition before many days. Prof. Alvord makes this room his headquarters, and does his full share of the teaching, etc. In the absence of one of the teachers, Mrs. Alvord is helping him out temporarily. A great deal of interest seemed to be manifested on the part of the pupils, and Prof. A. anticipates a larger attendance in this room by twenty per cent. than last year. FIRST AND SECOND GRADE PRIMARY.—HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING.
