The Postmaster General Explains Why He Will Not Take Hayes' Cabinet—What the South Wants.

The United States postal commission, which is now on a visit to Charlotte, North Carolina, was accompanied to that town by Postmaster General Key.

My Friends—The position I occupy is an anomalous one. Ten months ago to the best of my ability I was canvassing in Tennessee, urging the election of Samuel J. Tilden to the presidency of the United States, and now I find myself, to my own surprise, and I have no doubt to yours also, a confidential officer and member of the cabinet of Rutherford B. Hayes.

Each boat makes close connections at Cairo with Evansville, Louisville, St. Louis, Memphis and New Orleans, and at Evansville with the E. & C. R. R. for all points North and East, and with the Louisville Mail Steamers for all points on the Upper Ohio, being through routes on freights and passengers to all points tributary.

For further information apply to JAMES HIGGINS, Passenger Agent, HALLIDAY BROS., Agents. J. M. HILLIPEP, Agent. G. J. GRAMMER, Or to Superintendent and General Freight Agent, Evansville, Indiana.

These Yankees are wonderful people. One of the gentlemen has told you how they get their appropriations from the government, how they establish these post routes, how they make the stage driver a postmaster at one point and the hostler at another. Every route they so procure leads to an appropriation of money.
