

The Senate, on Wednesday last, passed the bill extending the time two years in which pre-emptors on the public lands in Minnesota, including the lands within the Fort Ridgely and Sioux reservations, are allowed to make final proof and payment. This will be good news to many settlers.

Miss Nellie Grant, who was married to a Mr. Sartoris, a young Englishman, on the 21st, has probably got the sea sickness real bad by this time. The poor child had to undergo the ordeal of marrying a stranger and of receiving several tons of presents. Then she had from twenty to thirty trunks to pack, and was hurried aboard a steamer and carried to England. Yet she seems to have enjoyed it, and there are probably few girls of her age in America who are not willing to pass through the same experience, dresses, presents, twenty odd trunks, Sartoris and all.

We publish elsewhere the Annual Statement showing the financial condition of Nobles county. It will be seen that the showing is very favorable and in marked contrast to that of many of the new counties in this part of the west. Taxes generally are light and there is a disposition to move cautiously and to avoid debt as much as possible until the people have had time to stock up with a few good crops. Those who have taxes to pay on deeded land complain some for the rate is high, but there are few thus far who have tax to pay on realty, and the rate will necessarily go on declining as the area of deeded land increases. Persons locating in Nobles county may count upon moderate taxes and upon the absence of those "jobs" which burden so many counties with a heavy debt. A gentleman of experience recently remarked that it cost more to cut the stump out of the roads in the county from which he came, in Ohio, than it will cost to build good roads throughout Nobles county.

MANUFACTURING AT ST. PAUL.
St. Paul is moving in the matter of manufacturing with her accustomed energy. A Manufacturing Aid and Trust Company is to be organized with a capital of $250,000, the object of which is to loan the creditor or the money of the company to such manufacturing enterprises as promise a large success. The Press claims great advantages for St. Paul over other points on account of their facilities for water transportation. It is claimed that Illinois coal in barges can be laid down in St. Paul at $3.50 to $4 per ton. If this be correct, it settles the question of manufacturing for St. Paul. When it once becomes a manufacturing city, it will double up in wealth and population at an astonishing rate. Cleveland, Ohio, was considered an old city when her business men discovered that she was no longer a commercial city. They promptly turned their attention to manufacturing, giving aid to coal railroads and loaning money and selling ground to manufacturers at less rates than to others. The result was that in twenty years Cleveland increased her population from 20,000 to 125,000, and became one of the wealthiest of the interior cities.

Indianapolis is another example of a city made by encouraging manufacturing. She had no natural advantages and was made by her manufacturing enterprises and her railroads. Her best and most responsible citizens are organized and hold meetings once a week to consider the interests of the city and to offer encouragement as well as inducement to all manufacturing enterprises. Foreign capital has been flowing into the city owing to the liberal interest (the legal rate being ten per cent.) and collection laws of Indiana. Under these circumstances, the city has passed in a few years from a small State capital to a great manufacturing center with a population of from 60,000 to 70,000, and we notice that those who have visited the city this Spring report wonderful enterprise and progress, with large and elegant buildings going up in all directions.

St. Paul is sure to go on growing in importance as a commercial city, and she needs only to add manufacturing upon an extensive scale to become one of the great cities of the West. For a city of less than 40,000 inhabitants, St. Paul is wonderful for her energy, her trade and her metropolitan facilities.

STATE ITEMS.
The Rev. Mr. Neill, of the Reformed Episcopal Church, as soon as a proper place of worship is secured, will preach every Sunday morning in St. Paul. The black leg has attacked the cattle in some portions of Freeborn County, and many deaths are reported. Says the Austin Transcript: "The evidences of prosperity in this city have never been more abundant than at the present time."

The cheese factory at Kasson commenced operations on the 18th inst. The St. Paul Press says immense quantities of lumber are being shipped down the Sioux City road and to regions along the Minnesota River, indicating that building is active.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.
The Rock County Herald completed its first year on Friday last. It is much better supported by the business men of Luverne, in the way of advertising, than the Advance is by the business men of Worthington.

The Jackson County farmers have found corn their surest crop, and are going into corn raising largely. The Sioux Falls Independent estimates that 125 buildings have been erected there during the past year, 28 of which are business houses.

MINNESOTA.

Sale of Col. W. S. Kings Lyndale Herd.
—One of the most remarkable Stock Sales in America—Best Stock State in the World—Minnesota Large Farms.

SALE OF THE LYNDALE HERD.
Letters are frequently written to the proprietors of the National Colony asking whether Minnesota is a good State for stock growing. These letters are uniformly answered in the affirmative. Grass grows luxuriantly and is exceedingly nutritious, while the climate is as favorable to the health of the lower animals as it is to the health of men. We give below the Chicago dispatches announcing the sale of the celebrated Lyndale Herd, of Hon. W. S. King, of Minneapolis, which took place at Dexter Park, Chicago, on the 21st, and invite the attention of our several hundred readers abroad to the facts and comments contained in these dispatches:

To the Press and Pioneer:
DEXTER PARK, CHICAGO, May 21.—This may be considered a proud day for Minnesota. The sale of Col. King's Lyndale herd, which has involved the solution of the problem whether or not Minnesota is adapted to the successful culture of the highest blooded cattle, has proved more brilliantly successful than the rosiest hopes had forecasted. Even King himself, confident and plucky, as he has proved himself through his long fight to secure for Minnesota the short horn championship, is agreeably disappointed at the result of his endeavors. He would last night have taken $100,000 for his herd, which has today netted him $128,530, under the hammer, thus giving to Minnesota the proud title of having been the home, and in most cases the birth place, of a herd which, taking its pedigree into account, has brought the highest prices and secured the largest average of any herd ever offered in the world.

England, the birth-place, and for two hundred years the home, of the short horn breed; Kentucky, the famed blue grass garden of the world; Illinois, the boasted rival of the world in climate, soil and fruitfulness—all have been compelled to succumb to the rare and radiant atmosphere, and the succulent and nourishing grass, which the soil of Minnesota alone affords. Col. King is therefore not only to be thanked, but the State of Minnesota is to be congratulated, for an achievement in short horn animals which will hardly be eclipsed in the present generation, unless the present sale serves as the stimulus for still higher figures.

Altogether the sale was a marvelous success, and Col. King is to-night being congratulated by a large crowd of the most famous breeders in the world, his herd having attracted hither representatives from California, Europe, Kentucky, Vermont, and every section where blooded cattle flourish.

To the Western Associated Press.
CHICAGO, May 21.—One of the most remarkable sales of blooded stock ever held in this country took place at Dexter Park, being that of the celebrated Lyndale herd of short horns, belonging to Hon. W. S. King, of Minneapolis. Fifty-eight cows and twenty-one bulls were sold, the former at an aggregate of $100,615, and the latter at $28,375, being an average of $1,982 each for cows, and $1,207 for bulls.

BEST STOCK STATE IN THE WORLD.
Col. Stevens, former editor of the Farmer's Union, speaking of Mr. King and his herd, says:
"He has bred a herd which, considering its pedigree, sold for more money, by reason of the splendid condition in which they were put by Minnesota climate and grass, than any herd ever offered before in the world; and he has thus added to the reputation of Minnesota of being the best wheat State of the world, that of being the most successful stock State in the world."

LARGE FARMS.
Probably no State in the Union can show a more uniform success in large farming operations than Minnesota. Dalrymple has never had a failure of crop, and in the seven or eight years of his extensive wheat operations he is said to have netted a quarter of a million in crops and the advance in his land. The St. Paul Press recently contained the following concerning two extensive wheat growers:

"Col. E. W. Grover and Wm. Y. Runney, who in the city yesterday for the first time since spring opened so as to permit of grain being put in. They have been busily engaged in sowing wheat, a few acres of ground—1,470 in number—on their farm in Dakota County. Mr. Grover is the largest amount sowed by any one party except Oliver Dalrymple who has in wheat this season something over 1,700 acres. They report the grain all in excellent condition, and at present are engaged in rolling it. Messrs. Grover and Runney went to the city yesterday for the purpose of purchasing the necessary outfit for breaking a farm of 1,000 acres near St. James, in Watonwan County."

The St. James Herald recently contained the following mention of large farms in Watonwan County. These farms are on the line of the Sioux City and St. Paul Railroad about 50 miles northeast of Worthington.
"Watonwan County contains a number of large farms, several of which we have noticed heretofore in these columns. There has been a large amount of grain sown in this county this year, which now looks well and promises a large crop. Among the largest farms planted this year we are told that J. W. Bass has in grain 1,500 acres, J. G. Butterfield, 1,000, H. Wadsworth, 600, Seth Tidowbridge, 600, J. H. Myers, 500, W. O. Sylvester, 500, Joseph Flander, 300, B. C. Kemper, 300, McDonald, O. H. Howe, and many others have large farms, but we do not remember the number of acres cultivated, except those stated above. The Rice farm adjoining this village has upwards of 400 acres broke which we believe is all being cultivated."

A gentleman from Tarrytown, N. Y., has recently purchased some 7,000 acres of land in the neighboring county of Cottonwood, and will begin a large farming operation there. Thus far Nobles County does not run to large farms. The largest operations are those of Miller, Humiston & Co., who are cultivating three farms of a half section each, and one of a quarter section, and Mr. J. Ames who has purchased about 2,000 acres of land, which he is gradually bringing under cultivation.

The Mankato Brick Company are burning their first kiln of 200,000 bricks.

THE SIOUX CITY AND ST. PAUL RAILROAD.

We have a letter from the General Manager of the railroad saying that our article on the "New Rates" does injustice to the company, to the railroad law and to the Railroad Commissioners. The General Manager evidently writes under a misapprehension of the meaning and animus of the article, which was designed chiefly to give his own explanation of why the special wood rates had to be abolished. As the letter just received gives a still clearer explanation, we will let the General Manager speak in his own words. He says:

"The special wood tariff in force on our roads since last September was found to be in conflict with the 'Act approved March 4th' in two particulars. It fixed the charges for a car load of wood at Worthington, for instance, and gave the Worthington buyers the option of taking the wood at Mankato, 92 miles, or at Brentwood, 139 miles, or at any station between those points at the same charge from any of these stations, where wood could be purchased. The act referred to forbids the same charge for a less or for a greater distance.

"The special tariff gave these rates only to certain stations named therein, not including, for instance, Madelia or Lake Crystal, which stations were not dependent on the railroad company for wood and did not need the special rate. The 'Act' would forbid us to haul a car of wood to one station, say 100 miles, for any less rate than to any other station for the same distance. "It is not the intention of the company, nor is it required by the 'Act,' nor by the Commissioners that the average wood rate shall be any higher than the late special tariff rates, but the rates will be so adjusted as to conform to the law prescribing a greater charge for the greater distance. Until a new tariff is prepared and published wood will be shipped under the rates given in our general tariff for coal."

The rates on wood will therefore not average any higher than they did before. And now a word as to the Railroad Company. At this time of general and often inconsiderate outcry against railroads, much injustice is done to railroad managers. We believe that the company which has the management of the line between St. Paul and Sioux City is among the most liberal and just of the railroad companies. The first year they supplied the National Colony with wood at a probable loss to the company. The first winter they spent from $50,000 to $100,000 in an effort to keep the road open, instead of leaving it blocked away with snow, as other roads in the State have done. Each year they have carried trees to the settlers along the line of the road either entirely free or at half rates. Last winter they donated the timber on their lands along the line of the Sioux City and St. Paul end of the road to the settlers, and carried the supplies sent for the relief of settlers without charge. When the new railroad law went into effect, the company promptly accepted the situation, and are making their rates conform to the requirements of the act, and they will of course be governed by the schedule adopted by the Commissioners so soon as that is arranged. In many cases the company might have gained friends by a more liberal policy toward business men wanting facilities along the track, but we believe that the management is generally popular with the business men along the line. President Drake, especially, has always shown a liberal spirit, and generally when any relief or favor from this quarter has been asked a disposition has been shown to grant it. In response to a recent application from our Town Council, President Drake offers, with the Colony Company, to give ten acres on the lake shore to the town for a park, and also to give block 35 in the town plat for school purposes.

This much is due to the railroad company. As we shall not hesitate to speak when we think the railroad company at fault, we shall the more readily speak when there is anything to commend.

The Jackson Republic says that Prof. Humiston has driven the grasshoppers out of Nobles county by a proclamation. They have been making toward Jackson county for several days, as hard as their legs and wings can carry them, and the editor of the Republic is in distress. He admits that the editor of the Advance brought the grasshoppers and the wet season last year by a single wave of his pen, and Prof. Humiston simply issues a proclamation and all the grasshoppers emigrate to Jackson county. Again, at one fell swoop we took the Land Office from Jackson and brought it over to Worthington. And if the Republic is not duly penitent we shall issue a proclamation compelling every man in Jackson county to stop the Republic and take the Advance. We shall turn that "rush of Job work" into our own office, leave that "new brick office" untenanted, and make that "new Court House" and the two or three houses besides, which make up the town of Jackson, a howling wilderness.
