OLD FOLKS.

Ah, don't be sorrowful, darling.
And don't be sorrowful, Fragi
Taking the year together, my dear,
There isn't more night than day.

Tis rainy weather, my darling, Time's waves they beavily run: But taking the year together, my dear, There isn't mure clouds then sun.

We are old folks now, my darling.
Our sade are growing gray:
And taking the sour focether, my dear,
You will always find the May.

We have had our May, my darling, And our roses long are: And the time of year is coming, my doar, For the silent night and snow.

And God is God, my darling,
Of night as well as day;
And we feel and knew that we can go
Wherever He leads the way. Aye, God of the wight, my darling— Of the night of death so wrim: The gnie that leads to to if ife, good wife, Is the gaie that leads to him.

OFFICE—No. 33 Mouros street, between Main and Second.

Respectfully. G. W. McLOED, M. D.

The duty of gentlemen toward ladies on street cars is just now attracting con-aiderable attention and discussion. "Corry O'Lanus," the quaint humorist, in discussing in the Broklyn Eagle "wheth-er the ladies ought to have seats," says: I believe they ought. I always side with the ladies.

When I am in a crowded car, and a lady comes is, I think it is the duty of some other man to get up and give her his seat.

I look around the car to see if any man in the crowd looks like making a move in that direction, and when I see them all keep their seats, I bury myself in my newspaper and blush for my sex. Some of your male correspondents think the ladies ought to thank us for giving up our seats.

Ladies, don't you be imposed upon by any such idea.

Get the gentlemen in the habit of being thanked, and they'll expect it Stick up for your rights, ladies, and stand on your dignity.

Dignity is a good thing to stand on when you can't get a seat.

But seats are your rights, whenever you can get them.

When ladies attain the privilege of voting and send members of their sex to Congress, we'll have the Constitution amended to prohibit male creatures from being seated in the presence of ladies.

I think the fashionable style of pantaleous will tend to promote a greater degree of politeness to the ladies in cars and ferry boats. They are so tight that you cannot sit down in them with any degree of com-fort or safety.

The Alabama Claims --- A New Proposition by Mr. Seward.

From the London Owl, March 20. The American Government have not received with anything like cordiality the proposals of Lord Stanley for an ar-bitration on the Alabama claims. They even object to our first proposition, that the precise points to be submitted for decision to an arbitrator should be first decision to an arbitrator should be hear definitely agreed to by the Americans and ourselves. Not only this, Mr. Sew-ard actually makes a counter proposi-tion, that the first question to be referred should be "Whether the English Gov-ingtified in recognizing ernment were justified in recognizing the rebel States as belligerents?"

This, of course, is a proposal so mon-st-ous that it is impossible to entertain it. Although, however, on the surface the relations between the two governments are not apparently such as we could wish; nevertheless, it is certain that the Cabinet at Washington neither designs nor is in a position to assume an attitude of hostility. By leaving the pending questions to the wearing influence of time and the industrious firing away of diplomatists, we may be certain that ultimately the matters in discussion will be satisfactorily settled.

The Democratic members of the Pennsylvania Legislature caused a saluto so be fired over the Connecticut election from the same gues which thundered over the Radical victory last April, and the Radical members of the Legislature attribute their signal defeat to the effort of Congress to force pegro suffrage upon the Sorthern States.
