But if it is not true, it is not right that any other paper should take from us the credit and reap an advantage which belongs to the Lenger. The public, whose advertising patronage depends much on the circulation of a newspaper, is enti-tled to know the facts. And the paper which pretends to the largest circulation should be able to establish it. We publish that the LEPGER has the largest circulation. We think it is three times as large as that paper. So that one of us is mistaken. Whichever it is should take down the horns. And we now offer to pay over to Col. A slight Insight into the Way the Police Commissioner does some Things.

Ignored.

The disposition of the Metropolitan Police Commissioners to manipulate the city charter to suit themselves is well known. They have already stripped the city of a great portion of its revenue; but a still more glaring illustration of this spirit is shown in the following correspondence, which was read to the Board of Aldermen yesterday afternoon:

Mayon's Oppica, Mayon's Oppica, Manphis, Tenn., August 21, 1867, Gentlemen of the Board of Aldermen:

Section twenty of the amendment to the city charter, passed March 9, 1867. provides that sworn statements shall be made to the Mayor by the Metropolitan Police on the first day of every month, "showing the amount in money or property that they have received, or which has passed through their hands as rewards for services, for captures or seizures, for levies or assessments, or in any manner or for any purpose what-ever, from all persons during the pre-ceding month, giving the names of those from whom received, what for, and the date when received, and account for the whole amount thereof, before they shall be entitled to receive their salaries or compensation as such officer or ap-pointee." The inclosed correspondence on this subject explains itself. The above provision is the safeguard the law estab-lishes and provides against any abuses or malpractices in office, and, unless otherwise instructed by your honorable body, I purpose to have it enforced. Respectfully, HENRY J. LYNK, Mayon's Office (City Hall). Mamphis, Tens., August 17, 1867. Sin: I have the honor to call your attention to Section 20 of an act passed by the Legislature of the State on the 9th of March, 1867, amending the charter of the city of Memphia. You will find the sec-tion of the amendment referred to on page 167 of Bridges' Digest for 1867. I do not find any of the required statements in this office, and I therefore take this occasion to call upon you for them. A copy of Section 20 of the law is here-sioner Metropolitan Police. OFFICE OF SUP'T METSOPOLITAN POLICE, MEMPHIS, TESTS., August 20, 1867.

Hon. Henry J. Lynn, Mayor pro tem.: Sin: Your favor of the 17th instant, came duly to hand, and has been care fully considered.

The question of the Metropolitan Police Act and amendments to the same having been submitted to the Supreme Court, and the amendment to the city charter to section 20, to which you have called my attention, having been treated by the City Attorney as a part of the case, the Board of Metropolitan Police Commissioners claim the right to withhold such action as you claim to be their duty, pending the decision of the Court. Should the law be sustained, the Board of Metropolitan Police Commissioners will not allow themselves to be outdone by the Honorable Board of Mayor and Aldermen in complying with its requirements. Very respectfully, your ob't serv't, S. B. BEAUMONT,

Superintendent M. P. The amended city charter renders it the imperative duty of the Police Commissioners to report monthly, as above mentioned. Acting Mayor Lynn thinks tion with the matter. As thousands of dollars are finding their way into the Police Commissioners' hands, the Mayor respectfully requests these officials to give an account of their stewardship, as this revenue is derived. Col. Beaumont declines to comply, and contemptuously Landing Committee. sneers at the Board.

The answer is a worse than paltry submade groundless charges against the Beaumont in refusing to comply with quoted is imperative. It is intended as a check on the Commissioners should they attempt fraud; and the Superintendent's reply to the Mayor will naturally fasten the belief in the minds of bonorable men that there is something wrong in the police department. An honest public official should not besitate to expose to the public scratiny the operations of his department. The moment he attempts to conceal by resort to subterfuge and legal quibbles, his star of integrity begins to wane in public estima-

It is clear that Col. Beaumont is legally compelled to furnish the aworn statement as demanded by the Mayor. But Companion, Scottish American, Boston | if his tender regard for the law will not permit him to obey it while it remains in ment of that portion which fills the police with that portion which demands an account of what he does with the money? The miserable pretext furntween tweedledee and tweedledum. If agination, when an account of his stewardship is demanded, and extorting to the last cent when he finds it pleasant and profitable to do so, reveals anything else than the spirit which should actuate an honest official. Col. Beaumon't has no right to speak fer the Board of Police Commissioners. Mr. Burditt is in Minnesota, rusticating, and Mr. Richards is in the vicinity of Jackson, fighting mosquitoes. Mr. Richards is a fair lawyer, and Mr. Burditt a business man of strong, common sense, It is hardly probable that either would indorse an action so absurd in law, and so discreditable officially.

TRAGIC AFFAIR. A Burglar Shot Dead While At tempting to Escape from a House.

About half past two o'clock this morning Mr. P. H. Bryson, of McKinney & Co., who resides with his fatherin-law, Dr. Ward, at No. 340 Adams street, was awakened by a noise in the lower portion of the house. Arising and seizing a deringer pistol, he cautiously proceeded down stairs. Once below, sounds issued from the pantry, indicating that some one was helping himself to whatever pleased his fancy. Mr. Bryson was convinced that the robber would emerge from the house through a small alley-way, between the residence and the fence adjoining the house. He accordingly stationed himself at a conveniont point, and awaited the rascal's movements. Presently a negro came out laden with provisions and articles of various kinds, stolen from the house. Mr. Bryson suddenly checked his mertal career by sending a bullet through his skuil. The robber fell dead where shot, and his accomplice, who had been stationed outside, and whom the ladies in the house recognized from the upper windows as a boy discharged from Dr. Ward's employ only yesterday, beat a hasty retreat. His familiarity with the house had doubtless enabled him to instruct the bolder robber as to the proper method of effecting an entrance. Mr. Bryson's prompt action will have a more salutary effect on burglars than a dozen prosecutions in the courts, which are simply farces if the prisoners have money. He has rid the community of one daring burglar, and set an example which will intimidate others of that character.
