The Galveston Midland Review, which is one of the handsomest papers we receive, now flies the name of Mr. Al. L. Donnaud as editor, and its columns scintillate with the productions of his brilliant mind and remarkably facile pen.

It is removed that there is a movement on foot to compromise the differences that have existed in the congregation of the Catholic Church of Ascension during the past year. The success of such a project would be a welcome consummation.

Mr. Fred P. During the storm that occurred here four weeks ago a flatboat loaded with 51% cords of wood was swamped in the river just above Fort Butler. The wood belonged to Mr. Paul Oberkamp, who only succeeded in recovering twelve cords. He estimated his loss at $90. The boat was the property of Mesars. M. Bradford and L. At a primary election held in the parish of Lafourche on the 8th of March the following candidates were nominated as the choice of the Democracy: For District Judge, A. F. Knoblock; District Attorney, E. A. O'Sullivan; Representatives, H. N. Coulon, Dr. W. F. Harang; Sheriff, Theophile Thibodaux; Clerk of Court, E. E. Le-Blane; Coroner, Dr. John Gazzo, Jr. Over 1000 votes were cast and the only contes was over the office of Coroner.

On the fourth page of this number of the CHIRP will be found a lengthy communica-tion from an East Baton Rouge correspondent, giving a comprehensive and suc cinct statement of the troubles existing in the ranks of the Democratic party in that parish. Our editorial opinion on the subject is asked for, but lack of time and space precludes us from saying anything more at present than that we do not believe any expression of ours could add to the weight of the strong argument made by Esto Per-petua in favor of the legality of the socalled Randolph organization.

Horse Race.—The race between Mr. V. Maurin's pony "Mark Twain," and Mr. Henry F. Braud's bay horse "Harry," which had been arranged for the 16th inst., proved a comparative failure, Mr. Brand's horse becoming fractious and jumping the track several times. Finding it impossible to induce the horse to keep the road, the rider of the pony was instructed to drive over the track and the race and stakes were awarded to Mr. Maurin. Another trial of speed between the same horses was arranged for last Sunday, but it was postponed on account of bad weather. The race will probably take place to-morrow afternoon, either in front of the Ascension or Riverside place.

Prof. James A. Sewell, A. M., M. In pregnant women it has been rotained when every other articles of food was rejected. Palatable and easy of diposition." (Take no other,)

STAGE OF THE RIVER.

The river reached its highest point at this place between midnight and daylight this place between middingst and daying the last Monday morning, the 24th inst., when we are reliably informed that the water touched the mark of 1862, which was five-eighths of an inch higher than that of the flood of 1874. The rapid rise Sonday night ereated the profoundest alarm, but barring the little break at Donaldsonville the levees of Ascension remained intact, though they had to be raised in many places to keep their crowns above the crest of the swollen river. Since Monday morning there has been a fall of some six and a half inches elieving the general anxiety of the people in a great measure, but the danger is by kept on the levees day and night. The river has been at a standstill since pesterday at this point. It is slowly fall-ing below Memphis and slowing rising above. We are confident the flood has reached its maximum here, and that we shall not have it again as high as it was last Monday, but it will be several weeks before the decline will set in that will carry the river below the danger line.

ACTION OF THE SUGAR CONVEN-

TION. We briefly referred two weeks ago to the ignificant stand taken by the sugar planters of Louisiana in their second convention held at New Orleans on the 12th of March, and the appended resolutions, adopted on that occasion, will better illustrate the position assumed by the representatives of Louisians's most vital interest than any editorial synopsis or explanation we could give. We commend these sound arguments and ringing utterances to the serious consideration of every thoughtful reader-and particularly every Democratic reader-of the

First resolution, adopted on motion of Mr. Dymond:

WHEREAS, Large invostments have been made by the planters and manufacturers of American grown sugar and rice, consisting of lands, buildings, machinery and plantation stock, and are being annually made in heavy expenditures for labor and the incidental cost of improvement and cultivation; and whereas, the doctrine of incidental protection and the constant agritation of tariff reform, involving as they do our complete rain, both dependent upon the flactuating policy of a national revenue are too precarrous and uncertain elements to justify a continuance of the desperate strangie which the people of Louisana are making against periodic immediation and slave grown products without the fostering care of the General Government; therefore, be it Resolved, I. That it is the sense of this convention, expressed after mature deliberation and full consideration of the subject matter, that the time has come when the subject matter, that the time has come when the support planters and manufacturers and rice growers of Louisians should demand that came sugar and rice be included among the products of America industry which are entitled to adequate and permanent protection by a sufficient duty on imported sugars and rice to justify a continuance of these cultures upon a footing of determinate security.

ported sugars and rice to justify a continuance of these cultures upon a footing of determinate security.

2. That in order to obtain the required protection for these industries of our State, we should apply and enforce the golden rule of reciprocity, and that in consequence we deem it indispensable that our Senators and Representatives in Congress should be willing to favor protecting any and all articles of American product essential to the welfare, prosperity and independence of our common country.

3. That we reiterate the resolution adopted at the previous convention, to-wit:

"That we especially urgo upon our Senators and Representatives in Washington the importance of protecting and guarding our interests, which should be held superior and paramount to all party efficients." And we further declare, as our fixed and irrevocable opinion, that those who have in charge the mandato of our people before Congress, should hold these interests more scared than the dictates of party, or of party caucases; and we emphatically protest gainst our industries and their protection being subordinated to any other consideration. Himming that we are entitled to be safeguarded by our Senators and Representatives first, last and everywhere, regardless of all political necessities or requirements.

Between 11 and 12 o'clock last Tuesda night a break occurred in the levee front ing the plantation of Mr. Philemon Guidry, on the right bank of the river in St. ies parish, about a mile below St. James post-office. The crevasse was due to that fruitful cause of such disasters, an old rice new levee, and as the breach widened, the rushing waters undermined the elbow of the new embankment and caused a second crevasse, the first break attaining a width of twenty feet and the second about eixtyfive feet. Measures were taken to protect the ends of the broken levees as much as possible from the wearing action of the water and proved entirely successful. As soon as the right kind of material could be procured forces of men were put to work at each break, with Messrs. Gentil and Darton directing the operations at the larger gap and Messrs. L. E. Poché and Landry at the smaller. These gentlemen were relieved and assisted by others whose names we have not yet ascertained. The ferryboat Bella Israel went down from Donaldsonville Wednesday evening, taking Capt. Dar-ton's pile-driver and a quantity of lumber along. Twenty-five thousand sacks were ordered from New Orleans and arrived Thurs day night, together with a large quantity of lumber, giving an ample supply of material for the work in hand. During Thursday night we learn that a portion of the cribbing gave way, but the damage was promptly repaired, and this morning we receive the welcome intelligence that both breaks are under control and will doubtless be closed before this is sue of the CHIEF is printed. Messrs Kock Bros. and other Assumption planters assisted those of St. James in providing means for stopping these crevases, and the Police Jury of Assumption appropriated $500 for the purpose and placed it in the hands of Mr. P. Klopman of Donaldsonville for disbursement. About half past 11 o'clock yesterday

crawfish hole in the levee of Mr. Beirne' Ascension plantation, five miles above Donaldsonville, on the right bank of the river, led to a break about twenty feet in width, through which the water poured in stream three or four feet deep that soon flooded the greater portion of the place. Responding quickly to the alarm that was raised, the planters of the neighborhood gathered an adequate force of laborers and supply of lumber and sacks and set about the task of closing the crevasse. Fortunatey there is a wide batture of hard ground in front of the broken levee, and as the water is very shallow, the construction of a cril around the gap has progressed as rapidly as could be desired and the work has shown no tendency to give way. When we heard from there this morning there was ever prospect that the crevasse would be safely closed at an early hour of the afternoon. A large number of new breaks have occurred on the right bank of the river, including thirteen gaps in the Lake Concordia levees, a big one at Waterloo, in Points Coupée, where two young men were drowned, and one at the Australia place, Iberville parish, about six miles above Pla quemine. The last named may be closed, but the others are beyond control, and it is now apparent that the area of country that will be overflowed will equal, if it does not exceed that of 1882. Half a dozen breaks are said to have occurred on Bayou La-fourche this week, but two or three of them have been closed.

Advices have just been received that th crevasse at the Ascension place was closed at 2 r. m. to-day. The larger break at the Guidry place has also been closed and it is considered certain the smaller one will be stopped by to-morrow morning.

PLATFORM AND RESOLUTIONS Adopted by the Republicans of Louisiana,

1. That we reaffirm the principles adopted by the Republican National Convention of 1890, and we invite the cooperation of all the political elements which favor protection to home industries and material aid in the main-tenance of the Mississippi levees. 2.
