

The President's Policy in Two Lights.

A WARNING TO ALL TURBULENT PERSONS.

IN MAY.

By the President of the U. States—A Proclamation.—Whereas, certain turbulent and disorderly persons, pretending that Elisha Baxter, the present Executive of Arkansas, was not elected, have combined together with force and arms to resist his authority as such Executive, and other authorities of said State; and Whereas, said Elisha Baxter has been declared duly elected by the General Assembly of said State, as provided in the Constitution thereof, and has for a long period been exercising the functions of said office, into which he was inducted according to the Constitution and laws of said State, and ought by its citizens to be considered the lawful Executive thereof; and

Whereas, the said Elisha Baxter, under section 4 of article IV of the Constitution of the United States, and the laws passed in pursuance thereof, has heretofore made application to me to protect said State and the citizens thereof against domestic violence; now, therefore, I, U. S. Grant, President of the United States, do hereby make proclamation and command all turbulent and disorderly persons to disperse and retire peaceably to their respective abodes within ten days from this date, and hereafter submit themselves to the lawful authority of the said Executive and other constituted lawful authorities of said State, and I invoke the aid and co-operation of all good citizens to uphold law and preserve the public peace.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington, this 15th day of May, in the year of our Lord 1874, and of the Independence of the United States the ninety-fifth.

(Signed)
U. S. GRANT,
By the President,
HAMILTON FISH,
Sec. of State.

The Boston Advertiser, the leading Republican newspaper of New England, says: "That it is the deliberate purpose of General Butler and those who train in his company to taunt and insult the South to the pitch of exasperation and overt acts of retaliation, observant men can hardly doubt. The danger is that the large body of Republicans who sincerely desire peace and justice will too long neglect to rebuke and repudiate the infernal policy of provocation upon which a few of their unscrupulous leaders are bent. If their conduct should sting some of the more hot-headed communities to madness, the future historian, calmly reviewing these times, would rightly blame us and not them." Among those who train in Butler's company is President Grant, and that means the entire administration.

A drunken Chinaman feeling rich and elated at his progress in the American arts, went through the streets of San Francisco crying, "Hoops! hoops! Me all same like Melian man. Hair cut short and drunk like hell!"

A little peppermint is better than brandy when there is any trouble with your "true inwardness."

A Beautiful Love Story.

My Own Dear PEARL—Every time I think of you my heart flaps up and down like a churn dasher. Sensations of unutterable joy caper over it like young goats over a stable roof, and thrill through it like Spanish needles through tow linen trousers. As a gossamer swimmer with delight in a mud-puddle, so swim I in a sea of glory. Visions of ecstatic rapture, thicker than the hair of a blacking brush, and brighter than the hues on a humming bird's pinions, visit me in my slumbers, and borne on their invisible wings, your image stands before me, and I reach out to grasp it, like an old pointer snapping at a blue-bottle fly. When I first beheld your saintly perfections I was bewildered, and my brain whirled around like a bumble-bee under a glass tumbler; my eyes stood open like cellardoor in the country towns; and I lifted my ears to catch the silvery accents of your voice. My tongue refused to wag, and in silent admiration I drank in the sweet infection of love, as a thirsty man swalloweth a tumbler of hot whisky punch. Since the light of your face fell upon my life, I sometimes feel as if I could lift myself by my shoe straps to the top of a church steeple. Day and night you are my thoughts. When Aurora, blushing like a bride, rises from her saffron couch; when the jay-bird pipes his tuneful lay in the apple tree by the spring-house; when the chattering of his shrill clarion heralds the coming morn; when the awakened pig arises from his bed, and goeth forth for his morning refreshments; when the drowsy beetle wheels his droning fight at sulky noontide, and when the lowing cows come home at milking time, I think of thee. And like a piece of gumelastic, my heart seems to stretch clear across my bosom. Your hair is like the mane of a sorrel horse painted with gold, and the brass slide to your immaculate neck-tie fills me with unbounded awe. Your forehead is smoother than an old coat, and whiter than seventeen hundred linen. Your eyes are glorious to behold. In their liquid depths I see legions of little cupids battling and fighting like cohorts of ants in an old army cracker. When their fire hit me in the womanly breast, it perforated my entire anatomy like a load of bird-shot would go through a rotten apple. Your nose is from a chunk of parian marble, and your mouth puckers with sweetness. Nectar fingers on your lips like honey on a bear's paw, and myriads of undeged kisses are there ready to fly out of the parent nest and light somewhere like blue-birds out of their parent nest. Your laugh rings on my ears like the wind harp's strain, or the bleat of a stray lamb on the bleak hillside. The dimples in your cheeks are like bowers in beds of roses, or like hollows in cakes of home-made sugar. I am dying to fly to your presence, and to pour out the burning eloquence of my love as a thrifty housewife pours out the hot coffee. Away from you I am as melancholy as a sick rat. Sometimes I can hear the June-bug of despondency buzzing in my ears, and feel the cold lizards of despair crawling down my back. Uncouth fears like a thousand minnows nibbling at my spirits, and my soul is pierced through with doubts as an old cheese is bored by skippers. My love is stronger for you than the smell of the old butter, sweeter kase, or the kick of a mule. It is purer than the breath of a young crow and more unselfish than a kitten's first caterwaul. As the son-bird hungers for the light of day, the cautious mouse for the fresh bacon in the trap, as a lean pup hankers after new milk, so I long for thee. You are fairer than a speckled pullet, sweeter than a Yankee doughnut fixed in sorghum molasses; brighter than the top-knot plumage on the head of a Muscovia duck. You are candy kisses, raisins, pound-cake, and sweetened toddy, altogether. If these few remarks will enable you to see the inside of my soul, and me to win your affections, I shall be as happy as a woodpecker in a cherry tree, or a stage-horse in a green pasture. If you can not reciprocate my thrilling passion, I will feel terrible bad, and I will pine away like a poisoned bed-bug, and fall away from the flourishing vine of life, an untimely branch. And in coming years when the shadows grow long from the hills, and the philosophic frog sings his evening hymn, you happy in another's love, can come and drop a tear and toss a cloud upon the last resting place of

THE SUN.

DAILY AND WEEKLY FOR 1875.

The approach of the Presidential Election gives unusual importance to the events and developments of 1875. We shall endeavor to describe them fully, faithfully and fearlessly. THE WEEKLY SUN has now attained a circulation of over seventy thousand copies. Its readers are found in every State and Territory, and its quality is well known to the public. We shall not only endeavor to keep it fully up to the standard, but to improve and add to its variety and power.

THE WEEKLY SUN will continue to be a thorough newspaper. All the news of the day will be found in it, condensed when unimportant, at full length when of moment, and always, we trust, treated in a clear, interesting and instructive manner. It is our aim to make THE WEEKLY SUN the best family newspaper in the world. It will be full of entertaining and appropriate reading of every sort, but will print nothing to offend the most scrupulous and delicate taste. It will always contain the most interesting stories and romances of the day, carefully selected and legibly printed.

The Agricultural Department is a prominent feature in THE WEEKLY SUN, and its articles will always be found fresh and useful for the farmer.

The number of men independent in politics is increasing, and THE WEEKLY SUN is their paper especially. It belongs to no party, and obeys no dictation, contending for principle and the election of the best men. It exposes the corruption that disgraces the country and threatens the overthrow of republican institutions. It has no fear of enemies, and seeks no favors from its supporters.

The markets of every kind and the fashions are regularly reported.

The price of THE WEEKLY SUN is one dollar a year for a sheet of eight pages, and fifty-six columns. As this barely pays the expenses of paper and printing, we are not able to make any discount or allow any premium to friends who may make special efforts to extend its circulation. Under the new law, which requires payment of postage in advance, one dollar a year, with twenty cents the cost of prepaid postage added, is the rate of subscription. It is not necessary to get up a club in order to have THE WEEKLY SUN at this rate. Any one who sends one dollar and twenty cents will get the paper, postpaid, for one year.

We have no traveling agents. THE WEEKLY SUN—Eight pages, fifty-six columns. Only $1.25 a year, postage prepaid. No discount from this rate.

THE DAILY SUN—A large four-page newspaper of twenty-eight columns. Daily circulation over 120,000. All the news for two cents. Subscription, postage prepaid, 50 cents a month, or $5.00 a year. To clubs of ten or over, a discount of 20 per cent. Address, "THE SUN," New York City.

"THE LOST CAUSE."

A MAGNIFICENT Picture, 30,000 copies already sold. It is 14x18 inches in size, printed on heavy plate paper, beautiful in design and artistic in execution. It represents a Confederate soldier after the war returning to his home, which he finds lonely and desolate. In front of the ruined cottage, telling a sad tale of the miseries of war, are two graves with rude crosses, on one of which some friendly hand has hung a garland. To the right the river and rising moon indicate peace and content. The stars seen between the trees represent the Southern Cross. It is a picture that will touch every Southern heart, and should find a place in every Southern home. Sent by mail, mounted on a roller, and post paid, on receipt of 25 cents, or three for 50 cents.
