GRENADA SENTINEL.

J. A. SIGNAIGO, Editor.

Saturday, March 21st, 1868.

LOCAL.

DROWNED.—A gentleman lost two very fine mules on Monday last while attempting to ford them across the Yalobusha. Rather a dangerous practice this trying to ford the river at its present stage.

THE FARMER.—The whole country between Coldwater and the Yalobusha river is pretty well inundated by the heavy rains of the past few weeks. This may, if it has not already, interfere in the planting which our farmers had commenced about the time the freshest set in.

THE RIVER.—The Yalobusha is full—running out of its banks—and flooding the entire lowlands. The "dogue" is also pouring in its torrents of waters and the prospect is that the Yalobusha will be swelled to an unprecedented height.

RECEIVING STOCK.—Dr. May has received a large and splendid stock of drugs and medicines, comprising every thing in his line of business, which he sells at Memphis prices. Those in need of drugs and medicines will do well to call and examine his stock.

WE SURRENDER.—A considerable portion of our space is to be dedicated to the boxes and bales of Convention in relation to taxes. As the people will be compelled to pay this tax, we give the ordinance entire to that they can inform themselves of its provisions.

PROVING.—We notice that our farmers, between this place and Oakland, are busy hounding the plow. We were pleased to see a great number of white men at the handle. This is as it should be. Let those who can do their own work and the times may soon be more prosperous.

TAX COLLECTION.—As will be seen in today's paper, Gen. Gillem has issued his order for the collection of the Convention tax, and ordering the sheriffs of counties to collect the same. Sheriff Wilson has notified us that he will be in Grenada on Tuesday next and will remain until Friday evening, during which time he will receive the State, County and Convention tax. All tax payers are notified to come forward and settle immediately, and are also requested to bring up their State and personal receipts for the year 1866.

THROUGH PASSAGES.—Passengers are now going through from New Orleans to Louisville and New York, via Mississippi and Tennessee railroad, making close connection with the Memphis and Huntsville road, being transferred from the former to the latter train free of charge. Passengers by this route can at the Gayoso or Overton Hotel at Memphis, where the omnibus wait on the passengers till after dinner, and then take them to the train of the Louisville road.

SPRING AGAIN.—We are now in the midst of most genial spring weather. Nature is beginning to assume a most pleasant aspect. The trees are putting on their most beautiful green dresses, the flowers are budding into blossoms, and everything, save man, smiles on the beautiful aspect of things, while he is troubled with a touch of spring fever, Congressional blues and conventional frowns. When will man smile again? When Rumps and Conventions are things of the past—not before.

THE OVERTON HOTEL.—This splendid hotel at Memphis is unsurpassed by any house in America. The table perfectly groans under all the good things the markets afford; the beds are new and elegant, and the rooms contain all the modern improvements. Billy Barlow, good-looking and popular, Mr. Mayne, clever and social, and young Robbins, the best looking man in Memphis, can all be found "behind the counter" of the Overton, and we venture the assertion that three more genial, courteous, and whole-souled gentlemen cannot be found anywhere. If you go to Memphis give the Overton a call by all means.

UNFORTUNATE ACCIDENT.—A very unfortunate accident occurred at the beginning of this week near Tullahoma, some twelve miles from this city. A farmer, whose name we could not learn, was returning home with his wagon heavily laden with produce and groceries, driven by six mules. On pulling the team on board of the ferry the hind wheels of the vehicle caught the end of the boat which was sent out in the current of the stream. The hind wheels thus precipitated pulled the animal, with the loss of all the goods except two barrels of flour which were saved in a damaged condition. We are told the wagon contained over two thousand pounds of goods.

THE STORM.—Monday last was a very warm and sultry day. The clouds, however, that darkened the heavens clearly portended that a gale was being hatched up somewhere. At night, between eleven and twelve, a heavy wind and rain came on, that for awhile seemed to hold a high carnival of its own. It swept across the country with the fury of a hurricane. We have not learned of the entire damage done, but understand a new house, which was being built in the western portion of the city was demolished. Many who planted their gardens the day before will have to do so over again, for the rain and wind completely undid the work of the day previous. We are told that in the country there were torn up by the roots, and that wherever the gale swept it has left pretty clear marks of its ravages.

ESCAPE EXTRAORDINARY.—A horse thief, named Allen Davis, who had been sentenced by a military commission to five years in the penitentiary, made his escape day before yesterday in a manner which proves he must have had outside assistance. He was taken on Tuesday evening to the depot for transportation to Jackson in shackles—there being no handcuffs handy. By some accident to the road, the train did not come down that night and Davis was kept under guard. The next day he was put to work properly guarded by two soldiers. The entire party of three have disappeared and nothing has been heard of them since. The military are making every exertion to capture the scoundrel, and it is to be hoped they will succeed in their efforts. Some strange stories are told of this mysterious disappearance which, if they turn out true, may throw some light on matters that will surprise the community. For the present we will only say that the military authorities have left no stone unturned to capture them.

THE BALL AT SARDIS.—The grand soiree which came off at the Veranda Hotel, Sardis, on Wednesday evening last, was one of the most pleasant affairs which ever took place in this section of the country. The music was the very best that Memphis afforded—the celebrated string and brass band of Prof. Smith, which can not be surpassed in the South. The supper was sumptuous; everything that the surrounding market could produce was served to the guests. Chasley Richards may well be proud of the manner in which everything was conducted, for he proved himself to be a host of unsurpassed liberality. The dancing commenced early in the evening and continued until the gray dawn told every one it was time to seek repose. We do not remember having attended a more pleasant party, or where things were conducted in a more recherche style. We are under many obligations to Charley Seigel and Marion B. Geer for courtesies extended to us on the occasion. We trust Richards will give another soiree soon, and we want him to do as he did on this occasion to allow none to enter the house except those he invites. One of the principal attractions of ball-room was little Leah Hinn, a child of six years. She tripped the light fantastic toe with a grace and elegance that would have done justice to a professor.

SEN TO THE STREETS.—The following, Order No. 43, issued by Gen. Pennepacker, and properly authenticated by Lieut. S. P. Humason, Post Adjutant, was promulgated on the 16th inst. It is interesting to all our citizens, and comes in good time for the protection of health in the city:

"The municipal authorities of the city of Grenada will take immediate steps to have the streets of the city put in a more thorough state of police. All refuse and garbage will be carted away, and burned or buried. The 'Square,' and the smaller streets in the eastern portion of all the cities, more especially require attention.

"The Mayor of the city will at all times consider it his duty to suppress any brothels, or disorderly houses, upon their being reported to him. If military assistance is required, he will make known the fact to the adjutant of the Post.

"The unauthorized discharge of firearms is positively forbidden within the limits or vicinity of the city. The attention of the Mayor is called to this, and also to General Orders, No. 38, series of 1867, from headquarters 4th Military District, prohibiting the carrying of concealed weapons.

"These irregularities can be corrected, it is suggested, by the issuing of a stringent city ordinance, imposing the requisite fines and penalties."

KU-KLUX-KLAN.—The peaceable denizens of Grenada were thrown into no little excitement a few days ago by a little negro boy handing a friend of ours the following order from the Grand Mogul of the Ku-Klux Klan. We seized upon the precious document and gave it to our readers. The "Klans" are spreading rapidly, and have become a perfect terror to the loyal leagues and plugging darlings. From what we read of them, the "Cy-clones" are harmless to honest people of all kinds but a perfect scourge to unpatriotic criminals. The idea of having a counter order to the loyal leagues in our State has caused a considerable stir in the minds of the "trooly loyals." We are told that carpet-bagging has become on the decline. There is the pronouncement of the "Klan."

OFFICE G. M. C. LYON'S DEY.
Second Dark Moon, Last Quarter, 1868.
To the members of the Abolition League, Emancipation No. 2, Division of the Yalobusha, Greeting:

"I have scented the bloodhounds, and vengeance is on the track. Prime your muskets and sharpen your knives! The guilty must perish! We be unto the wicked! The Cy-clones are ready! The sword of justice hangs over the head of the criminal! Death to the traitors! They will find us when they least expect us! Members will be at their right heels in the Den on the last night of the Second Dark Moon, properly armed and equipped for the work. By order of the
"GRAND MOGUL,
"C. A. E. No. 1, D. Y."

NEWSPAPER CHANGE.—Our friend David A. Brower, one of the spiciest editors in Memphis and for a long time the popular local of the Ledger, has changed his base. He is now at the head of the local department of the Arkansas, where he intends to remain until the Ku-Kluxes drive him away. He can beat the world on writing a local or de-vouring a "square meal."

PERSONAL.—The gallant Major General Hancock passed through Grenada on Tuesday morning last, en route for Washington, to assume command of the Department of the Atlantic. A valiant soldier and a generous hearted gentleman—the service can boast of no nobler soul. He is in every sense of the word a true man. Wherever he goes he carries with him the love and respect of the people of the South, who will ever wish him God speed in his good work.

Our personal friend, Col. Tom Manlove—noble hearted Tom—of the editorial fraternity of Vicksburg, was on the same train, and is now in this city. He has been at Oxford defending J. J. Hyde, arrested and charged with assault and battery, by the military. His client was admitted to bail under the writ of habeas corpus. Col. Manlove has but recently returned to the practice of law, and has become one of the most successful practitioners before military commissions in our State.

Col. James Drane, ex-senator from Choctaw, was also in the city during the week.

THE TRIAL OF JEFF DAVIS.—At the last calling of the United States against Jefferson Davis, in the Federal Court in this city (last November), the trial was postponed to Tuesday, 26th instant, in order, as was stated, to afford the Chief Justice of the United States an opportunity to be present and conduct the trial. It was also agreed between the counsel of the respective parties and the Court that if as the day approached, it should be ascertained that the Chief Justice could not attend on the day named, the case should be informally adjourned to some other day, without requiring the presence of the accused or his counsel. If we are correctly informed, a letter was received here some days ago from Judge Chase, stating that it would be out of his power to be here on the 26th of March, and suggesting a postponement to the 9th of April. But since that letter was written the impeachment proceedings against the President have been instituted, requiring the presence of Judge Chase in Washington for an indefinite period. It is therefore impossible to say when the case of Mr. Davis will be tried. Probably never; almost certainly not till after the Presidential election. — Richmond Whig.

IF THE DEMOCRATS CAN'T GET JOHNSON as their candidate for the Presidency they can nominate John C. Breckinridge, of Jerusalem, late of Confederate X Roads, State of Kentucky. We advise the National Democratic Committee to telegraph to the Holy Land immediately. — Nashville Press and Times.

IF THE RADICALS CAN'T GET THAD STEVENS for the Presidency they can nominate the Devil. We advise the National Republican Committee to telegraph to hell immediately. — Baltimore Bulletin.

THE PLEASANT says that "the several orders issued by Gen. Hancock for the holding of the constitutional election, on the 17th and 18th of next month, are conceived with the evident desire that the voting shall be full, free and fair."

MARRIED.
BAKER—KEARNEY.—On the morning of the 12th inst., near Vernon, Madison county, by the Rev Mr. Andrews, Mr. J. A. BAKER to Miss CORINNE KEARNEY.

We wish the happy couple a life of unbounded prosperity. Our young friend Baker may well feel proud of his young and beautiful bride, and we trust they may never know a less happy moment than the one which plighted their faith. May they walk in sunshine and flowers, where nothing but the odor of happiness is breathed, for we know they can say to each other.

"There's not a look, a word of thine
My soul hath ever forgot;
Thou'lt never have asked a pledge of mine
Round which our fond affections twine;
That I remember not."

LAKE-MULLINS.—At Evergreen, on March 18, at the residence of the bride's father, by the Rev. W. F. Miller, Mr. A. W. LAKE to Miss ANNIE MULLINS, all of this county.

In this instance nobleness has been united to loveliness. One of the sweetest and fairest roses of our country has placed her affections in the charge of one who will not only appreciate, but understand how to cherish the love which is confided to his keeping.

As beautiful as the smile that lights the lovely face of the bride, your pathway on earth. Joy be always your companion—clouds pass away as you advance, that your future may finally open out to the bright genial sun of Eternity.

"Clear be the sky that is o'er you,
Sunny the path of your day,
Bright be the future before you,
Sweet as are heavenly lays,
Freighted forever the breeze,
Freshly that blow in your way,
Full of the meekness of Jesus,
All of the odors of May."
