There seems to be a mistaken idea that the new bridge being agitated by Freeholders Haney and Glenn, over Staten Island sound, is going to cost Middlesex county something. Even as wise a sage as the editor of the New Brunswick Home News fell into this misapprehension, at first, but it 18 noted that he corrected the mistake when one of his correspondents made reference to it in a recent issue of his paper. As a matter of fact, the bridge will not cost the county a cent. It would be built between two States and the States would have to pay the project and they should be encouraged rather than ridiculed. At first thought the bridge would seem a little too much, but there is nothing like trying. The bridge would be a nice thing and as long as there is hope, push it along. Surely the county ought to have no objection since it is in no wise concerned except to have one or two of its freeholders at the

It begins to look as if the local Democrats were going to be split as badly, if not worse, than the local Republicans. With two tickets in the field, they would divide their vote sufficiently to let the Republicans walk in hands down. From present appearances, it would seem that the Republicans were going to have the chance of their lives to get a hold in the city government this fall, anyway. The new tax assessments have not set very well with a great many. No one realized the effect this would have on the voters better than the Democrats themselves. It has been known for several years that the city must have cost. Messrs. Haney and Glenn have more money and the only way to get made good progress thus far in the it was through taxation, but it was also realized that the party in power, when the valuations were raised, would have to suffer and the evil day was put off as long as possible. At last the deed was done and the result will be known ay after election five dollars.
this fall, the Democrats need to stand by each other as never before this fall, if they want to hold their own. If the Republicans will put inferences to help smoke good cigars. away their knives they may be able to break up the solid democratic majority in the council.

The floods at Paterson have ceased of Atlantic county have opened the to be a wonder. It now seems evident way for a split among the southern the city will be partly submerged counties in selecting a gubernatorial every time there is an unusually candidate and thereby the northern heavy rain for a portion of the land section of the State will be given an is only a few feet higher than the opportunity to step in and steal the river. The committee susped, but the effect of the cool proposition was no looked for. Instead of jumping at the chance Mr Cash buttonholed his interlocutor and Occupation and Nationality. A comparison of the occupation of the population of the following countries is of interest. The per cents. in Hungary are: In agriculture, 38; in industries, 32; in commerce, 6. In Great Britain the figures are: In agriculture, 15; in industries, 54; in commerce, 10. In Scotland they run 14, 58, 10. In the United States, 36, 24, 16. It is noticeable that the proportion of agriculturists is smallest in Scotland, and largest in Hungary; that Scotland has the largest proportion in the industries. and that the United States has the largest number in commerce.

A Barren Coast.

Newfoundland, according to the census of 1901, has a population of 220,984. The main industry is fishing. The seacoast along which most of the people are settled is the most sterile and unproductive portion of the island, where only potatoes, turnips, cabbage, hay and oats are raised.

How Glaciers Run Mills.

Switzerland and southern France are using their glaciers to turn their mills. At certain altitudes in various localities these mighty fields of ice and snow as they come booming down the mountain side melt into slush and water. This is now diverted into pipes and ducts and carried thousands of feet to the electric plants and mills in the valleys below. Hydraulic engineers in France say that the water power in the mountainous districts of that country alone can produce electrical energy equal to 10,000,000 horse-power.-London Mail.

Blind Fish Now Sec.

In a cave in Silesia a pool was filled with sightless fish. About a year ago the place was utilized as a store, when the electric light was installed. Since then many of the fish have actually developed normal-looking optics. Formerly, when the cave was pitch dark the eyes of the creatures were covered with a thick film.-Nature.

Interest in orange culture, always an bsorbing topic, has much increased since the recent announcement of the United States department of agriculture that after much experimentation an orange has finally been developed that can stand many degrees more cold than the varieties that have heretofore been known. Californians are eagerly inquiring about the new variety, for it means the enlargement of the citrus section of the Golden state. Even before the discovery of the new orange the citrus industry of California had grown until it has now exceeded the wildest dreams of the early orchardist .- Jane L. Sheaff, in Four-Track News.
