THE BEY'S GUEST.

He Was Ready For the Emergency and Conquered the African.

A show of force is often the best kind of diplomacy. A writer in the Paris Temps tells a story of the French admiral Dupetit-Thouars, who had been intrusted with the mission of exacting reparation from an African bey who had insulted a French consul.

As Dupetit-Thouars' demands were supported by the forcible argument of the admiral, the bey acknowledged that he had been too hasty and proffered profuse apologies. He even invited the admiral to his table and had a sumptuous repast prepared for his guest.

The consul warned the admiral to be on his guard. "The bey is inclined to be malicious," said he, "and when he strokes his beard and smiles you may be sure that he is concocting some mischief."

"We shall see," was Dupetit-Thouars' reply.

He reached the bey's palace in good time. Profuse compliments and salutations were exchanged. All at once the admiral's foot met some soft, hairy substance lying on the carpet under the table.

He bent down and saw a huge lion showing his formidable teeth. The bey smiled and stroked his beard.

Dupetit-Thouars did not wince, but called his dragoman.

"My pistols," was all he said.

The servant saluted, retired and brought back a pair of pistols on a silver tray. The admiral took them and placed them on the table before him.

But the bey, still smiling, continued to stroke his patriarchal beard.

"Tell the commander," he said to the dragoman, "that if those pistols are for the purpose of blowing out my lion's brains they are quite insufficient and perfectly useless."

Then, like a skilled fencer countering his opponent's thrust, after the bey's ironical advice had been translated Dupetit-Thouars replied:

"Tell his highness that my pistols are not there to kill his lion, but to blow his own brains out at the first movement of this objectionable carpet."

Gravely, but a little pale, the man interpreted.

The smile died away on the bey's lips, and he no longer stroked his beard.

"My lion," said he, "is too well trained even to scratch one of my guests, but since he is not wanted he shall be sent away."

At a word from the bey the lion slowly and heavily left the room, like an obedient dog.

No More Cradles.

"A cradle?" said the salesman. "Oh, no! You don't want a cradle."

He smiled.

"First kid, isn't it?"

"Yes," admitted the young father, frowning.

"I knew you weren't experienced, or you wouldn't ask for a cradle," said the salesman. "You see, they've gone altogether out. We don't sell two a year."

"Why did they go out?"

"Because they're unhealthy, bad for the kid. They lower the temperature, hurt the heart and bring on nausea, colic, regular seasickness. It stands to reason that the violent rocking of a cradle can't be good for frail little baby any more than the violent rocking of a ship in a storm is good for the passengers. Moreover, they keep somebody busy rocking the baby to sleep. Now the baby goes to sleep of its own accord."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Unprecedented Sale of Women's New Neckwear

Never before have we planned a Women's Neckwear offering of such magnitude. The most charming, newest and most fashionable products of foreign and American designers are included. Every piece, among the thousands, is fresh and desirable. There are the plaited guimpes with long sleeves, now so much in vogue, chiffon scarfs, princess yokes and chemisettes, Dutch and linen collars, and pretty neckpieces in bewildering variety. Many factors contribute to the importance and economy of this Sale—the purchase of importers' and manufacturers' surplus Spring stocks, and large orders specially placed—all at one-third to one-half below the usual value. Here are some of the chief groups:

Plaited Net Guimpes

Long sleeves. Fine quality of net. Regular price, $1.05, at 95c.

Long Sleeves. With combinations of Valenciennes and imitation of Irish crochet lace. Regular price $3.50, at $1.95

Wanamaker - Men's Store

New Building. Store Opens at 8:15 and Closes at 6 P. M.

A New Price-level Reached by These Men's Overcoats at $12.50

Formerly $15 to $22.50

Tomorrow we begin operations, on a new price-basis, on the remainder of our Men's Handsome Winter Overcoats that formerly brought $15, $16.50, $18, $20 and $22.50.

They are a collection of broken size-ranges, of course, but they present, all in all, a very satisfactory assortment of styles, and all sizes in one model or another. There are plain black and fancy colored coats, including some of the popular long "Protector" coats that young men fancy so much this Winter. Particularly good picking among the black and Oxford coats for men taking sizes 40 and 42. The schedule:

Size	28	30	32	34	36	38	40	42	44	46	48
Black	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1
Regular	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1
Long	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1

More Good News for Saturday

Prime picking, still, among the Men's $16.50 to $22.50 SACK SUITS at $12.50 particularly among the sizes 32 to 36 and 42 to 46, and the

Men's $30 to $38 OVERCOATS at $22.50

Black and Oxford gray, mostly silk-lined and a few fancy colors.

Men's $20 to $30 SACK SUITS at $18.50

Fancy mixtures and plain black. Main floor, New Building.

Some Men's Shoes at $2.90

About three hundred pairs will be ready tomorrow of Men's Shoes that usually sell for $3.90 to $5 in our regular stock. Practically every size is in the lot in styles and weights suitable for present wearing. $2.90 a pair.

Another group of interest is composed of remainders from styles we have closed out, including $5 and $6 shoes, and sporting shoes that are rarely sold under price—tomorrow all at $3.65 a pair. Not on sale today. Main floor, New Building.

A Sale of Razors and Razor Strops

Good news for the man who shaves himself—and for barbers, too, who need a new supply of implements.

We shall offer tomorrow the travelers' samples of a noted maker of razors and strops, at so much below their regular prices that it is like finding money.

The RAZORS are of fine quality steel, with assorted handles, and half, five-eighths and three-quarter-inch blades, full and double concave—all perfect—

75c each, regularly $1.25 to $2.50 each

The STROPS in a variety of efficient qualities.

20c each, instead of 25c to 50c

50c each, instead of 75c to $2

Ready tomorrow, NOT on sale today. Main floor, New Bldg.

Smart Veilings at 25c a Yard

A clearance offering opportunity for a few "extras" in the way of fresh, dainty, new veils at very small cost, for these stylish mesh veilings represent values from 35c to 50c. There's a large variety of colors and plenty of blacks, browns, and semi-white grounds, with small dot effects. 25c a yard, regularly 35c to 50c.

These goods ready tomorrow. Not on sale today.

Main floor, Old Building.

Belts Be-littled in Price

Right in every other respect and full of beauty and merit, an importer's surplus stock which we secured at price-advantages.

At $1, regularly $1.50 to $4—Silk elastic and fabric Belts, in plain or embossed effects, in a variety of colors, some steel-studded, with fine gold-plated, French gray or gun-metal finished buckles, many set with jewels.

At $1.50, regularly $2.25 to $5—Belts of steel-studded elastic, two and three strands, with steel clasps and back-piece to match.

These goods ready tomorrow. Not on sale today. Main floor, Old Bldg.

Saturday is CHILDREN'S DAY In the Shoe Store

It's a good day to bring the little people for their new footgear. And it's a good place, too, for here they can be sure of getting comfortable, healthy shoes, accurately fitted by experts, as well as shoes that are handsome in style and excellent in wearing qualities. Notable groups:

$2 a pair for gun-metal calf, button or Blucher lace Shoes, with welled soles—a very natty last. Same price for kidskin button Shoes, in sizes 11 to 2. Smaller sizes are $1.75; larger, $2.50.

$3 for tan Russia calf, extra high-cut lace shoes; a popular style that can also be had in button style, either calfskin or patent leather.

$2 for calfskin Blucher lace Shoes, made especially for small boys; service and good looks are deftly combined. Sizes are 10 to 15. And every other style of shoe and slipper that children need. Main floor, Old Building.
