TWENTY-TWO ARRESTS IN WHOLESALE RAID ON SUNDAY SELLERS AND "SPEAK-EASIES"

Detective Peltier With Assistance of Local Police Made Haul for Prosecutor Here Yesterday

ACCUSED HELD FOR GRAND JURY

Thirteen Saloonkeepers, One Bottler and Eight Proprietors of "Speak-Easies" in Net—Other Cases.

Evidence of Sunday selling secured during the past four weeks by County Detective Richard A. Peltier, the local police and a force of detectives of the Fed. A. David Detective Agency, of Newark, led to the arrest yesterday afternoon and this morning of thirteen saloonkeepers, a beer bottler and eight men charged with conducting "speak-easies."

Under orders from Prosecutor Booram warrants for the arrest of the men were drawn last week and were issued yesterday by Justice Isaac B. Esberg acting in the absence of Recorder Harold E. Pickersgill. Last night those charged with maintaining "speak-easies" and selling liquor without licenses were arraigned before Justice Esberg and held in $1,000 bail each for their appearance before the grand jury. One man's bond was increased to $1,200 on an additional charge of gambling. The saloonkeepers were arraigned this morning before Justice Esberg and held in $500 bail each.

Names of Saloonkeepers.

Following are the saloonkeepers arrested for Sunday selling: Joseph Laskowski, 683 State street; Anton Gadek, 792 State street; Anton Ejk, 797 State street; Adam Wodzenski, 456 Mechanic street; Steve Melko, 62 Washington street; George Kozusko, Hall avenue and Catherine street; Steve Lovasz, 671 Catherine street; Steve Segulinsky, 753 Parker street; Alexander Poter, 238 Hall avenue; Herman Chemelink, 186 Hall avenue; Adam Cypulski, 200 Hall avenue; William Harding, Hall avenue and State street; and Joseph Galada, of 430 New Brunswick avenue.

Selling Without Licenses.

Arrested for selling liquor without licenses were Samuel Natoli, thirty years old, grocer, 435 New Brunswick avenue; Luigi DeToro, thirty-eight years old, grocer, 253 New Brunswick avenue; Louis Pelligrini, thirty-seven years old, terra cotta worker, 289 Washington street; Joseph Guffre, thirty-six years old, grocer, 428-430 Washington street; Frank Lauro, twenty-eight years old, and Nicholas Valoni, thirty-nine years old, restaurant proprietors, 339 Washington street; John Cappaccone, thirty-nine years old, baker, 293 Washington street; and Eugene Fagioni, twenty-two years old, grocer, 8 Smith street.

Arrests in Roosevelt.

John Ezunoy, forty-four years old, a beer bottler, of 709 Catherine street, was arrested charged with violating the excise ordinance. An additional charge, that of gambling, was preferred against Pelligrini.

Last night the detectives raided three places in Roosevelt, securing, they allege, evidence against each. The proprietors arrested are: Raello Garlo, "speak-easy," P. Preis, pool room, Houston street, and Giuseppe Sica, "speak-easy," Blazing Star road. All three were arraigned this morning and held in $1,000 bail each. Throughout the week, Detective Peltier says, other arrests throughout this city and the county will occur.

Local Detectives Assist.

Detectives Sargeants John Huff and Lawrence Long assisted County Detective Peltier in serving warrants for the arrest of the unlicensed bar proprietors. Patrolman Charles Quinn and William Calvin, in plain clothes, visited several of the places yesterday afternoon, gained admittance, ordered liquor and placed the proprietors under arrest. Ferd H. David, of the David Detective Agency, of Newark, had his force of nine men, who have been securing evidence against the proprietors, on hand yesterday and they aided in securing evidence.

The "speak-easy" arrests were made almost simultaneously. Patrolmen Calvin and Quinn were notified Saturday afternoon to appear in civilian dress at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Detectives Huff and Long were given orders to do likewise. At 4 o'clock the force,

MANY LIVES ARE LOST J. J. FLYNN FOR CORONER

Special by United Press Wire.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 22.—With two-thirds of the city of Wallace, Idaho, a mass of smoking ruins, the probable outcome is developing. Local voters are wondering whom the republicans intend to place in the field to oppose Mayor Bollschweiler. Since the refusal of John Hanson to run the republican city executive committee has been "up a tree" and at a loss to agree on a candidate. A meeting of the committee was held Saturday to finish up the affairs of the clambake, and incidentally, politics were discussed. What transpired, is a matter of mystery to outsiders, but it is believed that former City Commissioner John Ten Broeck will not officially endorse, was spoken of as the probable candidate for the mayoralty.

Need To Save Lives.

Special by United Press Wire.

Missoula, Mont., Aug. 22.—"The need now is to save lives, not timber. More than 200 rangers and fire-fighters are in peril on the Idaho side of the divide and have not been heard from," declared Associate Forester Wilcox today. "We need army pack trains equipped with field hospital supplies. The high wind today is driving the fire at greater velocity than ever before."

Facilities Are Inadequate.

Special by United Press Wire.

Washington, Aug. 22.—Associate Forester Potter, in charge of the forestry bureau here, issued a statement today declaring that the facilities for fighting forest fires are critically inadequate. The war department today agreed to send army pack trains to Missoula to be used in rescue work.

(More about the forest fires will be found on Page 2, third column.)

WOODEN PIPE MAY BE USED ON MEADOWS

Water Commissioner Grieve, appointed as a committee of one at the last meeting of the Board of Water Commissioners, inspected the main at Atlantic City over Saturday and Sunday with the object of ascertaining the cause of the pipe's softness, a condition similar to that of the two local mains where they cross the South Amboy meadows.

M'FARLANE BOY BROKE LEG ON CONEY CHUTE

Edward McFarlane, twelve-year-old son of Douglas McFarlane, of Smith street, is in the city hospital suffering from a broken leg while sliding on a chute at Coney Island Saturday. The boy went on the Washington Hose Company's excursion. After receiving medical attention at the Island, McFarlane was brought to the city hospital here.

HARMONY TO BE KEYNOTE OF PRESIDENT

Taft Will Try to Lull Temperament Within the Party in His Letter.

TO AVOID CONTROVERSY

Pay No Attention to What Correspondents are Writing from Oyster Bay.

DEFINES A REPUBLICAN

Man Who Supports Party Platform Pledges—"No Reading Out of Party."

Beverly, Mass., Aug. 22.—Determined to do all he can to harmonize the discordant elements in the Republican party, President Taft in his forthcoming "keynote" utterance intends to repeat his declaration that no man has the right to read any other man out of the Republican party.

The president believes that no man can be read out of a party who is a Republican. This belief he will set forth, according to his present plan in the letter which he is writing for insertion in the Republican campaign textbook.

The president's definition of a Republican is one who has supported the party platform pledges. In this letter and in his coming speech to the conservation congress at St. Paul early next month, the president probably will define the attitude of the administration on questions of the day. He is not expected to reply to apparently inspired statements from Oyster Bay in either the letter or the St. Paul speech, but it is believed that in making his attitude known he will show the country what his position has been and has been in recent years of importance. It is highly probable that he will show that he has not had and does not have any desire to mix in state political fights, and that he does not consider that the president of the whole country can turn himself into a party leader in any particular state.

It is also said that the president will not dwell at great length on the benefits of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law. It was intimated that Senator Crane of Massachusetts, Colonel William R. Nelson and others close to Mr. Taft have counseled him recently to subordinate the tariff as much as possible in his forthcoming utterances. Vice President Sherman on leaving the Evans cottage showed that he did not regard the Payne-Aldrich law as the best tariff bill ever passed. The vice president had been consulting with the president about the letter for the campaign textbook.

In a speech in Washington last winter the president defined the way in which the administration regarded the insurgents. That same night Attorney General Wickersham, speaking in Chicago, read the insurgents out of the party. Such a difference of opinion is not likely to be expressed simultaneously this fall. Good Republicans from the insurgent country have informed the president that although called insurgents many of the western congressmen still wish to be regarded as Republicans. The president, it is said, is in accord with these views and will say so.

WORKMAN IS BADLY HURT ON CLAY CAR

TROLLEY CARS IN COLLISION NEAR CADEK'S

Passengers on cars Nos. 759 and 1,250 had a narrow escape from injury about 9:45 o'clock last night, when a rear end collision near Gadek's switch knocked in the rear platform of one car and considerably damaged the forward part of the other. The accident, it is said, was occasioned by the failure of the motorman on the second car to apply his brakes in time.

Several passengers on the cars at the time of the accident were considerably shaken up. The wrecking car and crew were required before the damaged car could be taken to the car barns.

David Spitzer, of 132 Lewis street, seated in the forward car, was thrown against the back of the seat when the cars met, sustaining a severely wrenched neck. Dr. G. W. Tyrrell was called and attended the injured man. He is now confined to his home.

FLAMES CAUSE MUCH DAMAGE

Apartments of Samuel Fine at 399 State Street Gutted Last Night.

STARTED IN THE CLOSET

William Pollino, Barber, on Third Floor Asleep During the Excitement.

In the smoke-filled rooms of a three-story building at 399 State street, last night, firemen were compelled to battle for over an hour with flames that, at one time threatened the destruction of the entire or greater part of the house. Starting in a closet in the apartments of Samuel Fine and family, all of whom were absent at the time of the blaze, the flames spread to the walls and ceilings of the suite, destroying furniture, bed furnishings, carpets and pictures. It is estimated that the damage is little less than $1,000. Insurance to the extent of about $700 was carried on the furniture.

The building is owned by Eliseo Ricci, of 401 State street. Woodwork and trimmings, destroyed by fire and water, he believes will mean the loss of several hundred dollars. The fire began at about 8:15 o'clock. How it started is not known, but Fine believes several matches left in a pocket of an old coat self-ignited, setting fire to other clothing hanging in the wardrobe. When discovered, the fire had already gained much headway. It was noticed by persons in the street and an alarm was turned in from box 65, at State and Commerce streets.

Smoke filled the apartment and hallway when the fire fighters arrived. They were compelled to cover their nostrils with handkerchiefs to keep out the stifling smoke, and to work in relays that they might reach open windows for hasty breaths of fresh air.

In attempting to save the furniture and interior woodwork, little water was used. Chemicals extinguished the blaze, with the aid of a few buckets of water applied before the fire companies arrived. The parlor and bedroom furniture of Fine's apartment, however, were considerably damaged. A piano which was individually insured, was not damaged.

A peculiar incident of the blaze was the failure of William Pollino, who resides on the floor above, to awaken with so much disturbance directly beneath him. While excitement reigned on the floor below, on the street without, Pollino slept peacefully on, not awakening until stirred from his bed when the apparatus was returning from the scene and several firemen went to the upper floor to search for any further fire. Had he not been brought out of his slumber, however, Pollino would probably have suffered ill effects from the dense smoke that filled his room.

In the absence of the fire chief or his assistants, Foreman Joseph Massey, of Protection Hook and Ladder Company, directed the firemen.

ASHES FROM FIRE SET BED ON FIRE

John Selliox, a Hungarian, fell asleep in bed at his home, 365 Madison street, shortly after 1 o'clock today with a lighted pipe in his mouth. The tobacco fell from the pipe and set the bed clothing on fire. Selliox was awakened by the flames and attempted to smother them with a blanket. An alarm was sent from box 84, at Lehigh avenue and Stanford street. The firemen responded, but the blaze was extinguished before they arrived. The damage is about $5 to mattress and bed clothing.

NICARAGUA INSURGENTS FOLLOW THEIR VICTORY

BOLD HOLD-UP ON THE ROAD NEAR MORGAN

Two Highwaymen Wearing Masks Stopped Auto Party With Red Lantern.

GOT $12 FROM AUTOISTS

Party Later Warned Willis Fisher Who Was Riding Toward South Amboy.

HE PUT ON ALL SPEED

Also Saw the Signal But Did Not Stop—Police Were Notified.

Special to the EVENING NEWS.

South Amboy, Aug. 22.—Two masked men held up an automobile party near Seidler's Beach, on the road between South Amboy and Keyport, about midnight Saturday night and secured $12. The party was going toward the shore. After the robbers got all the money they could find in the party they disappeared into the bushes by the side of the road. The auto party proceeded.

Further down the road the party met Willis Fisher, of Sayreville, who was riding toward South Amboy. They told Mr. Fisher of the hold-up. They said that the robbers swung a red lantern in front of them as they approached. When they stopped they covered the party with a revolver and demanded money.

Fisher was on his guard as he approached the spot. As he drew near he, too, saw the red light. Being warned, however, he only put on the more speed and escaped the band.

Upon reaching South Amboy the matter was reported to the police. An investigation is being made, but there is little hope of catching the highwaymen.

The party which was robbed of $12 did not leave any names.

POLE KILLS HIMSELF AT ROOSEVELT

Coroner Fred Garretson, of this city, was called to Roosevelt yesterday to investigate the death of Charles Ginder, Pole, twenty years old, of 82 Charles street, that place, who according to witnesses, shot himself early yesterday morning with a revolver, the shot penetrating near the region of the heart. According to the story told the coroner by witnesses Ginder had worked steady up until last Wednesday in the steel works at Roosevelt. Since that time he had been drinking and about 2 o'clock Sunday morning came to his boarding house under the influence of liquor.

The bed occupied by Ginder at the boarding house was used by five other boarders. When Ginder came in they were in bed asleep. It is said that Ginder, after he had entered the room, walked to a window and fired a shot outside. He then walked down stairs and two more shots were heard. At first the five men said they were afraid to go down stairs in the dark, but waited until it became daylight, when they found Ginder on the lower floor of the boarding house, shot in the breast near the heart.

A physician who was summoned and the man was placed in a wagon to be taken to a hospital in Elizabeth, but he died before the hospital was reached.

One of the five men at the boarding house was Michael Ginder, a brother of the dead man, who told the same story as the other men to the coroner. They assert that there was no quarrel and no one else heard any of the shots fired.

Coroner Garretson is not satisfied yet with the story told by the men and has the matter still under investigation.
