He that hath no music in his soul, And is not moved by concord of sweet sounds, Is fit for treason, stratagems and spoils. Let no such man be trusted.

So spoke our favorite English bard, and we believe he told the truth; for, we never knew a notoriously vile person that was a lover of music. It no doubt, has a refining influence on the human race. This puts us in remembrance that our handsome looking and popular young friend J. S. Hulck, agent for the firm of D. H. Baldwin & Co., of Cincinnati, is selling organs in such numbers as they were never sold before. He also sells pianos and other musical instruments. Nearly every day an organ is sold. From this we infer that the state of Vinton county society is being raised to a higher grade. If anybody wants an organ let them apply to Mr. H., who lives at the Hulbert House, but is often found somewhere on the road delivering organs.

THE editor of the McArthur Enquirer is informed that the Record is not devoted to blackguardism, especially it is not tempted to introduce the silly kind that appears in the Enquirer. We do not intend to use that kind of weapon, either offensive or defensive, but we employ a far more effective one—the clean truth. We do not court any controversy with the Enquirer or its nominal editor. A man whose history is written in the court records of Jackson county as having, 'by his consent and procurement' given away his wife's virtue, is too low for a decent man to have a controversy with, or, to notice. We feel a good deal as George Washington did about the skunk—the more you fool with it, the more stink you'll get.

If the aforesaid editor is not yet satisfied with his blackguarding, we will introduce a few plain truths for his benefit next week.

PIANOS AND ORGANS.

I am agent for the sale of Smith's American, Geo. Wood & Co.'s, Spang's, and Skoninger & Co.'s ORGANS.

I am also agent for STEINWAY'S, BACON & CARR'S, F. C. LIGHT & CO.'S, J. F. HARRIS & CO.'S, AND BRADBURY'S PIANOS.

This list includes all the different grades of pianos and organs made, some of them being excellent instruments at very reasonable prices.

During the vacation of longer, I will offer these instruments lower than they can be obtained elsewhere. I invite my friends and the public generally to examine the stock and prices of dealers in the city and elsewhere, as I can afford to and will sell cheaper than parties who are at a heavy expense in traveling about the country with organs, or are paying enormous rents and insurance for palatial stores. Not being at this expense I will give purchasers the benefit of that fact in making sales.

Give me a call at my residence, and I will guarantee satisfaction in price, durability, tone and finish of all instruments sold. All instruments warranted in every respect for five years.
