For Beautiful Hair, Nutrit the Scalp

Dandruff must be eliminated and the hair restored to its normal condition by proper treatment. The reason for dandruff is in most instances due to an unremoved, temporary condition of the scalp, which may be caused by an expression of the blood or in certain cases by an excess of perspiration or by a hereditary tendency. It is easily remedied by using a hair treatment, which removes the condition, exerts a stimulating and toning effect, and makes the hair grow. The treatment is prescribed by your physician and must be used as directed.
