TWO BIG GAMES FOR HASSETTS

Girls Play Tonight on Cathedral Hall Floor; Rosewood Tomorrow Night

At Cathedral Hall to-morrow night the Hassett five will meet Rosewood. This contest is an important one in the local champion-

If the Hassetts succeed in capturing this game it will place them one step nearer the city championship. Both teams are working hard in preparation for the game and the battle will, no doubt, be a stiff one. Regular Lineup Hassett will use their regular lineup of El. Sourbier, Houston, forwards; Ed. Sourbier, enter; Gough and Bihl, guards. Rosewood will probably use Killinger, Devine, langle and Tittle, but just who the fifth man will be has not been announced.

The usual dance program will fol-w the game. Music by Delone's orchestra.

To-night the Hassett girls will play the Lebanon Valley Co-eds. This game promises much interest. The local lineup includes several young women who have been playing a star game. Miss Emanuel is one of the best field goal shooters in Central Pennsylvania. A large dancing program will follow the contest.

State League Will Start

Wilkes-Barre, Jan. 16.—John H.
Farrell, president of the New York State League, bust back from the Cincinnati meeting, does not believe that the minor baseball clubs will be put out of business this year. He intimates that an effort will be made to open the state league, but he said there is a chance of the state league and many minor organizations opening as in other years. He calls attention to war conditions and says that it will be possible for the minors to make a start. If they g along a short time and find that the war has taken the edge off, the sport operations may be suspended and the territorial rights and rights to service of players will be protected
the same as if the season were finished.

WILLARD WANTS ALL FIGHT CASH; CUTS MANAGER

Chicago, Jan. 16.—Jess Willard will promote his next championship match all by himself. "I'm not going to let any of the 'Forty Thieves' get anything out of my next fight," declared the champion. "I'll stage it myself, and the public will get a better run for its money than it would if a professional promoter handled it.

"I have two or three propositions under consideration and expect to make a decision within a few days. Fred Fulton will be my opponent unless Miske or Moran lick me. In

DRAWN IN DRAFT

Ready to Answer Call; If He Goes to Army Deal May Be Cancelled

Philadelphia, Jan. 16.—Grover leveland Alexander has been drafted for government service, and the deal between the Phillies and Chica-go Cubs, which stirred the baseball world, may be declared off, causing the Philadelphia club to lose the bulk of the $50,000 reported as the purchase price for Alexander and Kill-efer. After being informed that Alexander had been called in the draft. an official of the Chicago club said that Killefer would not be affected by Alexander's case, as his was a separate sale.

The news that he had been drafted was given out by Alexander, who has been spending the winter months in Omaha, Neb. In admitting the authenticity of the report, Alexander said he had received his card from his home in St. Paul, Neb., and that he had been placed in the first class, division A. He also said he had wired President Weeshman, of Chicago, to find out how the drafting would af-fect his standing in the deal.

"Alex." Is Willing

feet his standing in the deal.

"Alex." Is Willing

In commenting upon the news. Alexander said the drafting would make little difference to him, as he did not intend to play with Chicago unless he received a share of the purchase money. When asked if he was ready to go with the troops, Alexander repiled, "I'm no slacker."

The articles of the sale of Alexander reprovided that the deal was off if he was drafted inside of thirty days prior to the start of the regular playing season, so that if he is unable to report, he will once more become the property of the Phillies. There is a chance, however, that, although he has been drafted, he may not be called into active service for some time, and in this case the sale was compelled to quit the Cubs after the season started.

President Weeghman, of the Cubs, was not at his office in Chicago when the news reached there, but one of the officials said that some new agreement might be reached by the Philadelphia and Chicago clubs. The refusal of Alexander to report to the Cubs would not have affected the Sale, as no conditions providing for this was included in the agreement between the two clubs, and it would have been up to Weeghman to satisfy Alexander regarding his being paid a part of the purchase price.

Notre Dame University will be met again taking Howard Berry's place, who at present is in training for a comin an intersectional contest, next season's game being scheduled for mission at Camp Dix. Heretofore it has been the custom to elect only those men who have run either one or two years on the varsity team.

This year, however, with unusual conditions and with anything but settled times, the honor fell to Landers, who is a member of the sophomore class, having won his numerals in freshman track last year, when he was acknowledged among the best pole vaulters in collegiate ranks.

Landers is a product of the Oregon High school, of Oregon, Ill., where he established a world's scholastic record in the pole vault, going over the bar at the height of 12 feet $1/2 inches.

If has been decided that the team will leave about the middle of March, but the exact date and the number of of players to be taken to St. Petersburg has not been fixed. These matters will be settled at the conference on Thursday. Those players who derive to leave from Philadelphia or Thomas and the Phillies will club proves by this smile that he is an optimist. He recently returned to New York from the west after a vain the first to buy players to strengthen his club. It looks now as though he do not not be the first season of his New York management with a club that promises nothing better than the second division.
