An Old Message With a New Meaning

"Do your Christmas shopping early" is an old text with an entirely new meaning this year. The Council of National Defense has wisely decided that Christmas giving is not to be discouraged. But it has recommended that the holiday shopping season be extended this year so as to take in the months of October, November and December. We have anticipated your desire to comply with this request of the government and are ready for you now.

This extension of the shopping season is an absolute necessity. We cannot employ an extra force of salespeople to handle the holiday trade, but must endeavor to spread the business over the entire period from now until Christmas. We must endeavor to encourage the buying of useful gifts, although there is no objection to the purchase of the countless playthings which delight the heart of childhood and without which Christmas would not be Christmas.

We are ready to help you. Are you ready to help us by making such purchases from time to time during the weeks intervening between now and the holiday season as you have been accustomed to make in former years during the last two or three weeks before Christmas? It is up to you. The holiday shopping season is now open.
