

THE VALUE OF A

DIAMOND!

Perfect and Pure Diamonds are safer to buy than real estate, because the value is steadily advancing and convertible into cash anywhere in the civilized world. A small investment in our Beautiful Diamonds delivers enjoyment as well as security. We scale our prices on Diamonds, the same as we do on all other goods—just as low as we can possibly make them. We are showing New and Exquisite Offerings in Diamond Jewelry.

THE VOGUE OF COTTON BOLL SOUVENIRS

THE story of a southern woman's success in utilizing cotton bolls and egg shells and making them into picturesque souvenirs for northern tourists has been repeatedly told in the woman's building at the fair in answer to the numerous inquiries about the quaint negro heads in one of the exhibits.

Mrs. E. C. Ward of Eutaw, whose ingenuity conceived the idea of combining a cotton boll and an egg shell decorated with negro heads, began making these souvenirs a few years ago, and now she derives a good income from their sale. She disposes of hundreds every year in northern markets, and at the fairs and exchanges in the south these cotton boll souvenirs attract many purchasers.

Mrs. Ward, finding cotton at 5 and 6 cents a pound insufficient to support a family, concluded to exercise her talent and sell her cotton by the boll as well as by the bale. She selected the old southern daisy as her subject, and every open cotton boll represents a negro head. Her subjects are "Uncle Remus," "Daddy Jack," "Old Uncle Ned," "Old Dan Tucker," "Old Black Joe," "An' Dinah," and many others.

The cotton boll is gathered with the stem on and is fully opened, and the head of the negro is made of a painted egg shell.

The half of an egg shell is painted to represent the green watermelon, the upper part the red meat; this is fastened in the open cotton boll, the white, fleshy stalk surrounding the green watermelon. Into the shell is then introduced another shell painted as a perfect likeness of "Sambo"—red lips, white teeth, rolling eyes and the top of the head covered with veritable black kinks. The likeness is excellent. This fits down into the empty shell until Sambo's mouth just rests upon the juicy red of the watermelon.

There are many other "types," each as interesting and worthy of a "story" as "Sambo."

Mrs. Ward is well known in Alabama. This modern "slave-trader" is a granddaughter of Judge Turner Reeves of Gainesville, Ala., so noted through this section before the war.

Mitchell-Smith Wedding.

Miss Estelle Mitchell and Mr. J. G. Smith, both of Woodward, were married last night at the residence of Mr. Blocker Williamson in West End. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Williamson for a few days after which they will be at home in Woodward.

Finklea-Stone.

The marriage of Miss Mary Conway Stone and Mr. Henry Lee Finklea of Virginia, took place last evening at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. A. J. Dickerson.

The wedding was a beautiful event, and was witnessed by a number of friends.

The Rev. Dr. A. J. Dickerson, pastor of the First Baptist church performed the ceremony and Mr. Finklea and his bride left immediately for Virginia.

Miss Stone was a traveling gown of black cloth with a hat matching her costume and carried white roses.

Mr. Finklea's best man was his brother, Mr. O. Finklea of Buena Vista, and Mr. Clarence Stamps of Birmingham was groomsmen.

The house was beautifully decorated in autumn foliage and flowers and palms. The wedding was of great interest throughout the state where both Mr. and Mrs. Finklea have hosts of friends.

Informal Cotillon at the Club.

The informal gaily characteristic of the Southern club entertainments made the cotillon last evening a charming event socially, assembling a congenial contingent of the dancing set.

The cotillon, led by Mr. Yeatman, was one of the prettiest ever danced at the club, and was the first of a series of informal cotillons that will add to the social life of Birmingham this winter.

The "small and early" dances so in vogue in other cities have never proven very popular in Birmingham, but with the informal entertaining at the club this season there will be more inducements for the "small and early," and they will grow in favor among Birmingham's "smart set."

Church Markets.

The ladies of the South Highland Presbyterian church will conduct a market every Saturday at Williams' grocery store at Five Points.

The members of St. Agnes Guild will conduct their usual market tomorrow at Dietrichs.

Notes and Personals.

Mrs. Huggins and Miss Marie Huggins will go abroad the first of November for an indefinite stay. They will sail with Mrs. Joseph McEster and the Misses McEster.

Master Leroy Percy is at school in Geneva, Switzerland.

Mr. William Buck Ross will not be the guest of Mr. Joseph L. Meade on account of the sudden death of the Hon. William B. Ross of Mobile, grand-father of Mr.

Ross, whose friends in Birmingham will be sorry to hear of his bereavement. Mr. Ross will probably visit Birmingham at Thanksgiving.

Mr. Patrick Calhoun of Atlanta, who has been the guest of his son, Mr. Charles A. Calhoun, has returned home.

Miss Annie Williams will return today from New York. She spent the late summer in the Adirondacks.

Mrs. Eugene Dismukes of Harrisburg, Pa., is the guest of Mrs. Turner Weakley.

Mrs. Claude DuVal Gilliam of Annapolis is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Pauline Wittichen. Mrs. Gilliam is recovering from a recent severe illness.

Mrs. R. H. Carter will entertain the Quess club this afternoon.

The Edgewood will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock with Mrs. A. I. Dexter at her residence on Avenue G.

Miss Anna Stillman will entertain the Amaranth club this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Charles A. Stillman, 1020 South Eighteenth street.

The Rev. Dr. Thomas J. Beard is in Atlanta at the Aragon.

Mrs. Richard Fell will entertain the Clinician club this afternoon at her home on Huntsville avenue.

Mr. Pascal Shook has returned from New York.

Mrs. Lula E. Jones of Gadsden is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Raymond G. Green.

Mrs. E. J. Magruder of Rome, Ga., is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Leath.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. McTae, who recently moved to Memphis, will regret to learn that Mrs. McTae has been dangerously ill for several weeks in Dr. Sanford's infirmary. She is now free from fever and it is hoped will soon regain her health.

Miss Lucy Dwyer and Miss Kate Smith, accompanied by the officers of the Seventh cavalry, were attractive figures in one of the boxes at the matinee performance of "Ghosts."

Mrs. Evans J. Dunn will entertain the Cadmean circle this afternoon.

MISSING MAN IS FOUND.

Was Believed to Have Been Drowned, and Insurance Co. Investigated.

Denver, October 22.—W. S. Love of Savannah, who has been missing from his home for several months, and who was reported to have been drowned, has been located in this city, where he has been working as a bookkeeper. An eastern insurance company in which Love held policies delayed payment upon them until an investigation into his reported death could be made.

Jordan W. Garrison was detailed to make the investigation, and while in Denver on other business accidentally met Love on the street and recognized him. Mr. Garrison said that he does not believe that there was an attempt to defraud the company in Mr. Love's disappearance. Mr. Love says he made no effort to conceal his identity since coming here, but used his real name, and in seeking employment gave the names of Savannah business men for reference.

Clerk Pleads Guilty.

Charlotte, N. C., October 22.—In the United States court at Greensboro today, D. G. Hart, a former clerk in the post-office at Spartanburg, pleaded guilty to charges of robbing the mails. Judge Brawley sentenced him to one year in the federal prison in Atlanta.

Football Player Dies.

St. Louis, October 22.—The first fatality to occur on a local football field had its climax today when John Withnell, quarterback of the St. Louis university eleven, died after an operation. Withnell's injury was sustained in practice Tuesday.

IS YOUR STOMACH ON A STRIKE?

There is Nothing to Prevent You Employing a Substitute to Do Its Work.

There is such a thing as forbearance ceasing to be a virtue even in the case of one's stomach. There is no question but that some stomachs will stand a great deal more wear and abuse than others, but they all have their limit and when that limit is reached, the stomach must be reckoned with as sure as fate. The best way and really the only effective way to treat your stomach when it rebels is to employ a substitute to do its work. This will give the weakened and worn out organ an opportunity to rest and regain its strength and health.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets relieve the stomach of its work by taking up the work and doing it just as one set or shift of workmen relieves another. They actually digest the food in just the same manner and just the same time as the digestive fluids of a sound stomach can do. In fact, when dissolved in the stomach, they are digestive fluids or they contain exactly the same constituents and elements as the gastric juice and other digestive fluids of the stomach. No matter what the condition of the stomach is, their work is just the same. They work in their own natural way and without regard to surrounding conditions.

The stomach being thus relieved by Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, is restored and renewed by nature and the rest of the human body does not suffer in the least by reason of its failure to perform its work.

A Wisconsin man says: "I suffered the pangs of dyspepsia for ten years. I tried every known remedy with different results until I was told of the remarkable cures of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I bought a box, began taking them, and forgot I had a stomach. Three boxes cured me completely. I have had no trouble whatever for a year and have an appetite like a harvest hand and can eat anything that is set before me without fear of bad results."

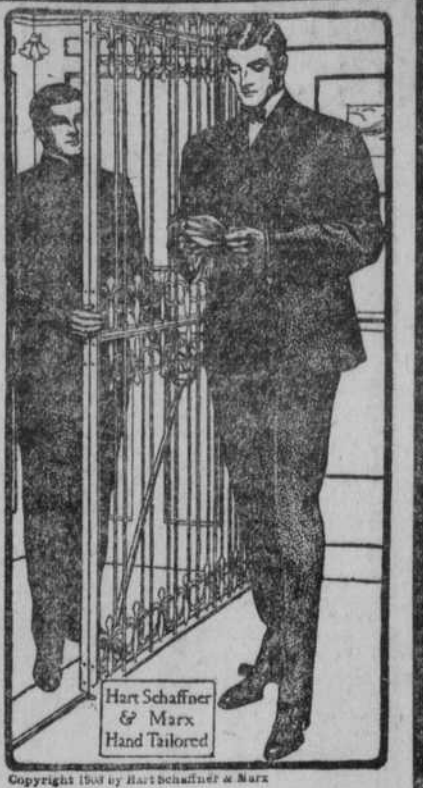

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists at 50c a box. The druggist never fails to have them in stock, because the demand for them is so great and so pronounced that he can not afford to be without them. People who could not get them of one druggist would go to another and would get them in a habit of buying them other drugs there as well as their Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

We cater to regular patrons and hold their trade by serving the best of all kinds of drinks and high grade confections at lowest prices. Andrew Colias, 21st St and First Avenue.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

If It's a Mouth Filler It May Signify a Good Deal.

From London Answers.

It has recently been laid down that people who are lucky enough to have their front—or "Christian"—names of what is really a surname in direction, and really, a glance at the lengthening list of our celebrities goes some way in the support of the assertion.

Take literary lions, for example. How obliquely filling are the names of Clarry Russell, Conan Doyle, Christie Murray, Hall Caine! Nobody would ever think of the knight-novelist as "Arthur Doyle," while to rob the depoter of "their respective lines of business," would be to confuse him with another of the same name, but a landscape painter, Stanley Weyman, Cutcliffe Hyne and Pett Ridge are other notable examples.

Collins is not a very distinguished name, front of it, and it recalls either thrilling mystery stories or dainty love idylls, while preceded by "Churton" it stands for expert literary criticism. Bell, again, is somewhat commonplace, but how changes when you hit "Moberley" or "Currier" to it! Morley Roberts sounds rather superior to Arthur or John of that ilk, though the bearers of the last two names have been not undistinguished in "their respective lines of business."

There are a few more instances showing how a well-sounding front name can lift the bearer out of the ruck. Lloyd is adopted by a Lucase and a Hadon, and the ear is gently tickled by such names as Byam Shaw, Stanhope Forbes, Yeend King, Napier Henry, Caton Woodville, Britton Riviere, Mortimer Menpes and Onslow Ford.

The stage provides us with not a few examples of the value of a surname to lead off one's style with. The examples among the ladies and gentlemen of the drama are too numerous almost to record.

Why He Admires Wagner. From the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"There's one great beauty about the Wagner music."

"What's that?"

"It's so blamed loud you can't hear the society people chattering in the boxes."
