MISS CURTIS ADAMS Who is One of the Artists to Appear Under the Auspices of Pelham Chapter Next Week

English women of title have blazed many trails of talent development followed by women in other walks of life. Now a titled beauty is announced as the author of photo plays, the first in England to openly declare her authorship of a moving picture drama. The Marchioness of Townshend has lately completed a play which will be shown at the picture theatres early in March, and is to be congratulated on a double claim as pioneer.

For not only is Lady Townshend, says an exchange, the first peeress to write for the cinema, but by the prestige of her authorship she has broken through the bad custom of anonymity that up till now has been against the best talent developing the dramatic idea on new and interesting lines.

Sharing the belief of Sir George Alexander and others, that wide moral and educational possibilities exist in the picture play, Lady Townshend is also convinced that a great artistic future is in store for it. The poetic play, for example, will have a vast scope for beauty now that the latest improvements have entirely done away with the once distracting "flicker." And, above all, a fascinating and hitherto unexplored region lies ready in stories lending themselves to fairy, ghost and goblin effects, for which the biograph can achieve the needful illusions.

Some little while back Messrs. Maskeyne and Devant produced a short play by Lady Townshend, who thus gained practical knowledge of the phantom as dramatic asset—an experience quite off the beaten track of the ordinary playwright. Holding that the film has a power to convey the eerie, up till now overlooked by materialistic proprietors, this ingenious lady has planned the adaptation of a series of ghost stories with unique sensations of the vanishing and apparition description.

The "moving picture" screen has, like any art, its limitations. Obviously, it lacks the spoken word. With the idea of

WASHINGTON SOCIETY HAS NEW SET OF LOVELY YOUNG LEADERS

By C. E. STEWART

Washington, March 12.—(Special)—Second only to the interest in the new administration and the many important political changes that are sure to come, is the interest among the society people of Washington in the wives and daughters of the President, vice president and the members of the cabinet. By virtue of the political prestige enjoyed by their husbands and fathers, these ladies take the lead in social affairs at the national capital, and the change of the administration means just as much to social Washington as it does to political Washington.

The most beautiful as well as democratic set of girls representing the daughters of cabinet officers, which the capital has known for three administrations at least, is the one which last week assumed the lead in social Washington with the advent of the Wilson administration.

Numerically not so large as the cabinet officers' daughters' set for the last 12 or 15 years, the young women now dominating Washington social circles are younger and of different temperaments than their predecessors.

The daughters of President Wilson's cabinet officers are not exclusively society girls, as each of them devotes at least a part of her time to art, music, literature, or social settlement work. Miss Mona McAdoo, Misses Sydney and Lucy Burleson, and Miss Agnes Hart Wilson. Strictly speaking, these are not the daughters of cabinet officers, but of the daughters of cabinet officers during the present administration. Secretary and Mrs. Lane have a very pretty little daughter, but she is very much of a school girl yet. However, there are three other young ladies who may be counted as girls of the cabinet circle. Two are sisters-in-law of the Secretary of the Navy, Josephus Daniels. They are Misses Belle and Ethel Bagley. The other is the only daughter of the late William Bagley, the only naval officer killed during the Spanish-American war.

Miss Caroline Howland, a visitor in Washington, is by courtesy another daughter of the cabinet. She is an Indianapolis resident, is the daughter of the late friend of the wife of the vice president, and she is now visiting Mrs. Marshall.

Miss McAdoo will be the youngest hostess of the administration, and will have an advantage over the other daughters of cabinet officers in the fact that she will be the hostess in her father's home, Secretary McAdoo being a widower. Except for a brief visit the week before the inauguration, Miss McAdoo is a stranger in Washington. She is 19 years old, and of proper dignity, very graceful in appearance. She is a remarkably pretty young woman.

The daughters of Secretary Burleson, true daughters of the south, are even younger than Miss McAdoo. One is 15 and the other 16. The Burleson sisters have been students at Sweet Briar college, near Lynchburg, Va., but they have rebelled against a continuance of their studies there now that their father is in the cabinet. Mrs. Burleson had planned that they should go to the University of Texas, of which she and the Postmaster General are alumnae. But the young ladies have indicated that they will protest against any plan exiling them from Washington.

"They have written me that their affection cannot stand the strain of separation," said Mrs. Burleson laughing, "but we know the Burlesons have a taste of official life here. One cannot blame them."

Mrs. Oscar W. Underwood and Mrs. D. Clayton and Mrs. Hugh Dent of the Alabama delegation are all active in the social life of the capital, but recently Mrs. Underwood has not been well, and it is her intention to spend while in Florida with her father as soon as the Floridians sufficiently make the trip.

A Victrola concert will be presented.

PERSONAL NOTES

Mrs. and Mrs. Robert McDavid have as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Louis Walters of Texas.

Dr. and Mrs. George Morrow are expected home Saturday from Galveston, Tex., where they have been guests of their son, Lieut. George Morrow.

MORE DESCENDANTS OF NAPOLEON FOUND

San Francisco, March 12.—While the Crittenden Memorial society was running down a grandson of Napoleon Bonaparte in Los Angeles yesterday other reputed descendants of the great Corsican came to light around San Francisco bay.

All are children of the late John Gordon, a San Francisco jeweler, who the Crittenden society affirms was the son of Napoleon, born at St. Helena.

Agitation against the removal of bodies from an old cemetery here resulted in the discovery of Gordon's neglected grave. It was established that five children of Gordon are living in the United States, as follows: William Gordon of Los Angeles, Mrs. Susan Delaney of Oakland, Mrs. Annie Nickerson and Mrs. Kate Bode of San Francisco and Mrs. Martha Chapman of New London, Conn. Regarding the identity of Gordon's mother, there is a difference of opinion between his grandchildren and the historians.

THE LAW AGAINST LOTTERIES AFFIRMED

Jefferson City, Mo., March 12.—The state supreme court today affirmed the constitutionality of the law prohibiting lotteries, policy games or betting when it confirmed the sentence of Edward A. Hilton to three years' imprisonment for conducting a policy game in St. Louis. The court also affirmed the conviction of Joseph Cummings for betting on a horse race in Louisville, Ky. Attorneys for Cummings raised the point that it was not lawfully that the race on which Cummings received a $2 bet was conducted at Louisville. In answering this argument Supreme Judge Brown said in the opinion:

"A court that would solemnly decree that it cannot judicially know facts which are well known to all its constituents would furnish thereby substantial reasons for its recall."

TO INVESTIGATE GOLD STRIKE

Skagway, Alaska, March 12.—Dr. Young, member of parliament and provincial secretary of British Columbia, arrived today with dogs and supplies to make an investigation of the reported strike of placer gold at Teslin lake. All the steamships arriving are crowded with prospectors.

Nothing definite concerning the value of the new diggings is known. The report of the discovery was made by an Indian, Skookum Jim, who has staked claims. The new diggings are 180 miles east of Atlin.

TOW DISABLED SHIP TO PORT

Colon, Panama, March 12.—The Spanish liner Montevideo, whose engines became disabled by the blowing out of a cylinder head while the steamer was 300 miles north of Colon, is being towed to this port by the steamer Turrialba according to a wireless message received today from the disabled vessel. The Montevideo left Barcelona February 10 for Colon by way of Havana. The two vessels are to arrive at Colon Friday afternoon.

TWO ARE KILLED IN STREET CAR ACCIDENT

Cincinnati, March 12.—Two men were killed and eight persons were severely injured today when a College Hill street car jumped the track and crashed into an apartment house at the corner of Ludlow avenue.

FOUR SUFFOCATED REPAIRING A LEAK

Nanton, Alberta, March 12.—Four employees of the Western Canada Natural Gas company were suffocated today while repairing a leak in a pipe. Four others are in a serious condition. Two of the victims, J. G. and Elmer Bailey, came to Canada from Oklahoma.

SOME HELPING HAND HINTS FOR THE HOME

By MARIAN HARLAND

Apple Filling for Cake

One large apple grated, one cup sugar, juice and grated rind of a lemon, one egg cooked in double boiler until it thickens, and spread between layers of any good cake.—Kindness of Mrs. D. S. G.

Cold Chili

Dice two ripe tomatoes and mix with half the bulk of coarsely chopped raw onions and green peppers. Add salt and vinegar to taste. Proportions may be varied to suit individual preferences.—Kindness of Marian R. A.

Woman in the Home

"The doctor's wife's problem has aroused me to a sense of duty, hence this letter. I, too, am old fashioned enough to believe that God didn't share his biggest and most sacred job with a class of weaklings when He made us the mothers of the world, but instead meant us to 'stay on the job' until He called us elsewhere. I am of the opinion that the only right way for 'Perplexed' to do in justice to all parties concerned is contentedly to remain at home safeguarding its interests as she alone can do. It seems to me that no man needs a dependable home more than does a doctor, whose professional atmosphere is so heavily charged with anxiety from home leaving until home reaching. What a splendid chance this wife has to help one man play the big game right! And who knows but by staying within the shelter of the home he has given her, jealously watching its every interest, she may so strengthen and increase his efficiency that their financial problem will work itself out. Do I read between the lines, 'My husband has come around to see the necessity of a larger income than we have now, and this is the only way to make it,' his acquiescence because she, through a mistaken sense of duty, insists, or is the lure of the business game working its leaven of unrest now that her little one's needs seem less insistent since she can attend kindergarten? Let the 'fairly well' income suffice, as there doesn't seem to be an urgent need for such drastic change as a return to business would mean in the even tenor of home life. And is it not just possible that this added burden to her home duties might weigh heavier than she suspects? It is such a blessed privilege to keep within the shelter of the home shielded by a good man that I wonder any woman cannot be contented to create her world happiness with such unlimited opportunities within her hand. This isn't beautiful theory of a woman who has a 'soft snap,' but one trying to keep her home intact, that the children may have a fighting chance to make good later on. To, too, have a chance to make money outside the home that pays well, but I cannot accept it and put in jeopardy the home interests. If I W."

To Keep Raisins From Sinking

"To keep raisins from sinking when put in cake: If you use the seeded ones break apart after they have been taken from the package and pour boiling water over them. Let them sit in the water for two or three minutes and be sure no sediment comes with them. Fixed in this way they never sink. K. McK."

Two Hints

"For clearing water put in one pound of powdered alum and let stand 24 hours, then put in one pound of powdered borax and let stand another 24 hours before using."

"In mixing flour and milk for thickening I have found it more satisfactory to mix with a fork than with a spoon. It is then left free from lumps and is more quickly prepared. MRS. J. A."

How to Make a Mimeograph

"A reader asks for a mimeograph: Soak one ounce of white (cabinet) glue in two ounces of water until pliable; drain off the surplus water. Place dish containing glue in a pan of hot water. When melted add six ounces of warm glycerin and a few drops of carbolic acid. Pour into a shallow pan. Remove all bubbles by passing a card edge over the surface. Cool for six or eight hours. If too hard to copy well, melt and add glycerin. If too soft, add glue. Write on hard surface paper with hectograph ink. Lay upon the pads, press lightly, remove, and the pads will produce from 50 to 75 copies. Wash pad immediately after using with tepid water and sponge. A READER."

Use of Stale Bread

"How to make use of stale bread: Cut bread into small cubes, one cup milk together, add a pinch of salt. Dip bread in mixture until moist. Fry in hot lard. Serve with maple syrup. MRS. A. W."

Will Care for Veteran

"A letter signed 'Mrs. B. M.' regarding a wheel chair for a Grand Army veteran suggests a subscription be taken up for the purpose of buying him one. Such a course is not necessary. If the veteran belongs to a post the Woman's Relief Corps (an auxiliary to the Grand Army) of that post will see to it that he gets a chair. If he does not belong to a post he is still entitled to the services of the relief corps. The Woman's Relief Corps is organized to care for the veterans and their dependent ones, and it is their privilege to do so."
