TUESDAY MORNING, NOV. 1, 1853.

07 At a recent meeting of the Barnburners, in the city of New York, to ratify the Syracuse nomi-nations, John P. Hale and others of the same stripe. made speeches. It is needless to say that these speeches were denunciatory of the Compromise and were greeted by the crowd with most vociferous applause. The mockery, the villainous hypocricy of the Syracuse Resolutions, was made manifest, on that occasion, and the inflamatory appeals against the fugitive slave law are an admirable commentary upon that policy of the President which seeks to secure harmony by bribing a few of the leaders of Las annues. Anu, strangest of all, Southern men. in the Cabinet, are endorsing and urging the policy, as absolutely necessary to the unity of the party .-Clarksville Chronicle

The above is a fair specimen of the manner which the country whig press, through ignorance or downright dishonesty, is at present misrepresenting the position of the union democrats of New York. If the editor of the Chronicle pleads ignorance for the above gross misrepresentation. the sooner he discontinues his connexion with the press the better for his fame. If he does not plead ignorance, then does he occupy the "bad eminence" of being one of the most unscrupulous even amongst whigeditors. The truth is, that Joux P. HALE was not present at the meeting in New York city to ratify the democratic nominations made at Syracuse. Nor were the speeches made at that meeting denunciatory of the Compromise. Nothing was said or done, so far as our accounts inform us, violative of the spirit of the resolutions passed by the democratic convention at Syracuse. A meeting was held in New York to ratify the nominations made by the "Free Democracy" (as they, of late, call themselves) or abolitionists and freesoilers. This "free democracy" is as distinct from the democratic party of New York as night is from day, and every man of ordinary infor- charged a duty to the country and vindicated its mation knows it. It was at this meeting of the "free democracy," or abolitionists proper, that Jons P. HALE was present, and that speeches denunciatory of the compromise were made.

This attempt of a Tennessee whig paper to identify Jons P. HALK with the Union democrats of New York is totally inexcusable. The slightest information in regard to New York politics would have taught the editor of the Chronicle better. But he is not alone in this attempt to misrepresent the position of the supporters of the administration in New York. The whig papers generally, though refraining from such gross violations of truth as the one above noticed, are yet actively engaged in the work of calumny. The character of the men who compose the administration wing of the New York democracy is studiously falsified, and every act of the administration in regard to them is misrepresented. The leaders there who, like BRONSON and O'Coxxen, because they cannot rule, would ruin the party, are just now the recipients of any amount of whig sympathy. It is through these men that the whigs hope to divide and break down the now triamphant democracy of the country. Shall they succeed? Will democrats in Tennessee or elsewhere be alienated from the administration by this shallow and hypocritical policy of the whig press? We hope and believe not. We can have but a poor opinion of that man's democracy or discernment who is made lukewarm in his support of the administrarecent occurrences in New York. Th part which the administration has taken in the divisions of the party there has been such only as was of the business of the government. eminently necessary and proper. At first we entertained some doubt of the propriety of this interference, but we are now convinced that it was not only proper but unavoidable. The President and his cabinet have tried to unite, not to divide, the democracy of that State. Their efforts have all been directed to a union of the party upon high and patriotic grounds, and if they have failed the blame of such failure properly falls upon those disorganizing leaders who have sought to monopolize, for themselves and their creatures, all the offices of the government. These men could not be satisfied-they did not deserve to be-and we think it a good thing for the party throughout the country that they have been driven into open opposition. Men who, like the hangers-on of a victorious army, belong to a party merely to share "the spoils," cannot be shaken off too soon. They are always dangerous friends, and are sure to create dissensions in the camp.

THE REMOVAL OF COLLECTOR BRONSON. We find in the Washington Union, of the 23d | Editors Union and American; the armexed letter from the Secretary of the Treasury, addressed to GREESE C. Badsson, and dismissthe di trict of New York. We think the President and his advisers have, in this matter, done precisely right. No other honorable course was left them, after the receipt of Judge Baossos's letter to Mr. GUTHRIE. The positions assumed in that letter were incompatible with the continuance of Judge BRONSON as an officer of the government. Judge B. arrogated for himself the independent exercise of a power which properly belongs to the Secretary of the Treasury, and set at open defiance the power and wishes of that officer. Under such circumstances his removal was not only proper, but absolutely unavoidable But Judge BRONSON deserved to be removed for other reasons. It has been evident for some time past that his personal and official influence have both been used to divide the democratic party of New York. He belongs to the "rule or ruin" wing, and, with no more honesty or consistency than other people, has refused to countenance those democrats who have renounced their past errors and placed themselves within the pale of the national democracy. He and his friends, while professing to be supporters of the Compromise, have really sought (whether intentional or not, it matters little) to break down that great compact by making its foes perpetual. They have ignored the virtue of repent-. ance, not because they doubted the sincerity of the democrats who assembled in convention at Syracuse, but because to accept their acknowledgement of error would be tantamount to admitting them into a share of the government favors. This it was that stuck in the craws of Messrs BRONSON & Co., and made it impossible for them to realize the fact that men might sincerely recant former opinions. Men who can thus sacrifice party harmony and the public interest to gratify their own cupidity are undeserving of marks of public favor, and the fewer of them the administration has in its employ the better. In removing Judge BRONSON it has but disown dignity:

SATURDAY MORNING, October 22. Sin: Recently I addressed a letter to Collector

Bronson and other officers of the customs in the city of New York. By some means an imperfect copy of that letter, ting to have been communicated from New York by telegraph, was published in one of the papers of this city. This rendered it proper for me to give to the public a correct copy; and upon the ground of that publication, under such circumstances, Collector Bronson published his long-delayed reply, even before the original had reached me.

Under these circumstances, I deem it proper to transmit to you for publication the enclosed letter. Very respectfully, JAMES GUTHRIE.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22, 1853.

Sin: I have received your letter of the 17th instant.

It is not my purpose to respond to the many positions of that letter, because most of them bear their contradiction upon its face, and others are too mimportant to require refutation; and also because, while, in several phrases of it, admitting your imlied obligation, as a man of honor, to act in acordance with the known policy of the administra ion, and, moreover, recognizing the propriety and astice of that policy by declaring that you yourself leprecated and endeavored to prevent the division now existing in the democratic party in your State, you nevertheless indulged in a tenor of remarks, as to various relations of the subject, which not only mucos my motives but indicates an attitude

JUDICIAL REFORM.

Stes: Believing that the present General Assembly will proceed at once to appoint a time for ing that gentleman from the office of Collector of the election of Judges and Attorneys General, in accordance with the will of the people, I hope they will reorganize the Solicitorial Districts in such a manner as to give an Attorney General to each County in the State. These officers are paid by the perquisites of offlee, and there will be no increase of expenses; on the contrary, I will proceed to show that the proposed plan would be an immense saving to both the State and County. In the first place, those officers have failed to give general satisfaction in the administration of justice; and hence the people have determined to take the matter into their own hands. Under the present system, the Solicitorial Districts are large, and the Attorney, residing in a remote corner of O. P. Nicholson; John Randolph, of Roanoke, and other

He is immediately surrounded by a horde of witnesses and prosecutors; and before any satisfactory investigation is made as to the cases set for trial, he is summoned to the Grand Jury Room, to look after new cases. His time is frittered away in migratory wisits from the Court room to the Grand Jury-his indictments are hastily written-and new cases gotten up upon insufficient information.

When the State Docket is taken up, every case is new to him; he is-unless he has assistant resident counsel-unacquainted with the parties, witnesses, and jurors; and in this state of perplexity, he is called upon to "try or continue."

The disastrous result of such a contest is too obvious for comment. The criminal records of the country will bear me out in the assertion, that four-fifths of the State cases end in long bills of cost, to be paid by the State and County. Besides this, the want of knowledge of the parties, the witnesses, and the circomstances of each prticular case, (arising from the non residence of the Attorney.) produces many frivolous and malicious prosecutions, which are very expensive to the County, and very harrassing and vexatious to the injured party.

All this might be obviated by a careful preparation of each case-founded upon a full knowledge of all the facts and circumstances.

Besides the perquisites, this office is such an excellent school for extempore speaking, that the young men of talents and energy would eagerly seek it in every County in the State. It would ensure a handsome support during the tedious probation that every one has to undergo.

THE CUBA QUESTION.

The Washington Union adopts a strong tone in regard to the statement lately published, that the British government has given its consent, and that British ships of war will give their aid, to the slave trade between Cuba and the coast of Africa, on the department is not expressly empowered to give condition that, at the end of ten years the slaves imported shall be freed, and that at the end of fifty years slavery shall be abolished throughout the island.

The Union thinks that there is little room for doubt as to the truth of these statements. It says | as you seem to conceive, on your sole authority, it has reason to believe, from private advices which it has received from Hayana, that wealthy Spaniards in Cuba are now negotiating for the sale of African apprentices at fixed prices, in anticipation of importations for which arrangements have been made with the Government of Madrid, and sanctioned and guaranteed by the British government. This is a part of the steady policy adopted by Great Britain to abolish slavery in the islands of the West Indies, for the purpose of exerting an influence upon the slave institutions of the United States. It is needless to say that it is not dictated by enlightened humanity, for the apprentices would | as public officers from the Secretary of the Treasury be worked to death in ten years, not is it the dictation of good policy; for if England could abolish slavery in the United States, her own manufacturing interests would share the rom which she would bring upon our great staple. Whatever he the motive, the effect of the act which it contemplates is to make Cuba virtually a province of Great Britain, and to reduce the slave institutions of this country to a precarious and insecure condition. It remains to be seen what steps will be taken in the matter by the government of the United States. So long as the ant pathy of Great Britain to African slav labor is confined to crazy harangues at Excter Hall or the empty denunciations of an ignorant press, it will be treated with contempt. But when it assumes the shape of interference in affairs of which the sole guardianship belongs to us, it will be met in a manner becoming a people who know their rights and dave maintain them.

You allege, by implication, that I have desired you to appoint free-soilers to office, and, in doing so, you strangely misunderstand or misinterpret my letter of the 3d inst. I neither jection to it. entertained nor expressed any such desire. It has been my pleasure and duty, not to inquire into the opinions which may have been held by yourself and others as far back as the year 1848, but to regard the claims to consideration of all who have acted with fidelity to the principles and organization of the democratic party since the convention at Baltimore in 1852, and those only. And with these views, I must condemn your course when in this letter you inform me that you have selected free soilers for office without having given me the notice of the fact, which would have enabled me to withhold my approbation from any such appointments. will add, that the imputation that I have required you to act with reference to controversies of a local or State character, is wholly gratuitous. My letter was intended to guard you against distinctions between democrats, founded upon local politics and local divisions.

The concluding portion of your letter has left me no alternative but to lay the whole matter before the President, and take his direction concerning it. You assume that in relation to certain things you are to receive instruction from this department, and in others that you are to proceed without, or contrary to, such instructions. This cannot be admitted in any branch of the public service, for where instructions to subordinates, it has the authority to do so, as inherent in the power to remove a refractory officer.

You also assume that you are to appoint the various persons employed in the custom-house-some, as you admit, subject to my approval, and others, cannot but regard it as singular that a gentleman of your legal acquirements and experience should have fallen into such error. The Constitution of the United States has empowered Congress to confer the appointment of inferior officers "in the President alone, in the course of law, or in the heads of departments," Congress has not attempted, nor, if it had, could it have effected, any modification of this provision of the Constitution,

Those who are employed under you in the custom-house do, both by the constitution and the laws, derive their appointment and their authority

What the language and temper of your letter would have rendered embarrassing these unwarrantable assumptions, marked as they are by a manifest spirit of insubordination, render impossi ble-namely, your continuance in the office of collector of the district of New York. I am, therefore, directed by the President to say that your seccessor in the office will be promptly appointed.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully, JAMES GUTHRIE,

GREENE C. BRONSON, Esq., New York.

GENERAL CASS AND THE ADMINISTRATION .--- Within the last two months a number of excellent articles have appeared in the Detroit Free Press upon political matters in New York, which sustained, most emphatically, the policy the Administration has pursned in making its appointments, which have been so severely condemned by the hardshell faction in that State. The Free Press being generally understood to reflect the views of General Cass, no litthe importance has been attached to the articles in question all over the country. The Rochester Advertiser, a bitter "hard-shell" print, in order to weaken their effect, in its issue of the 19th ult, says; "The articles in the Free Press, in reference to affairs in this State, have not met the approval of General Cass, as the sound Democracy of the whole Union will readily believe, and as we are well assured.

This statement coming under the observation of the Free Press, that paper makes the following positive rejoinder, which removes all doubt as to the position of General Cass, who will be found in the future, as he always has been in the past, for the Th official vote as reported for Judge of the national Democracy, and against bolters, faction-

> "The Advertiser's 'assurance' comes from a source not entitled to credit. It is not, perhaps, improper | who up to this time had taken no part in the affray, to say that the articles in the Free Press, in refer-look to the administration of the laws within its own jurisdiction. Then why not elect its own officers? The whole matter relating to the organization of Solicitorial Districts, clearly belongs to the Legislature. There is no Constitutional ob-

Respectfully, Polostors:

A LARGE YIELD OF CORN.

We copy the following paragraph from the Ashville (N. C.) Spectator of the 19th ult:

BUNCOMBE AHEAD.-Clear the track for "O'd Bunk1" N. W. Woodfin Esq., has raised on his "sweep-stake" acre 149 bushels and three quarts of Indian corn. On another acre he has gathered 120 bushels and 7 quarts. Mr. Woodfin's overseer, has kindly furnished us his method of cultivation. We will state, however, first, that the soil was so poor that, according to the opinion of gentlemen in whose judgment we have great confidence, the acre would not in its natural state have produced more than six bushels of corn. The mode of cultivation was as follows: The ground was subsoiled to the depth of fifteen inches and, then haid off into drills or furrows two feet and nine inches apart, We speak of the acre making the largest yieldthe other's drills were three feet apast. The corn was planted at a distance of eight inches. He hauled upon the acre 60 wagon loads of stable manure and 120 loads of dirt taken from a ditch. The corn was ploughed three times, and not hoed at all. We consider this yield as hard to beat, and highly creditable to Mr. Erwin, considering the fact that he knew nothing of the cultivation of corn till within the last 4 years. We shall not be surprised if Mr. Woodfin takes the first premium in the "sweepstake" competition. Not a more deserving gentle man could be awarded the prize ; for Mr. Woodfin is very much devoted to agriculture, and, without disparagement to others, we can say he has done more to promote the agricultural interests of Western Carolino at least, than any other man. Mr. John Woodfin, another competitor, raised 109 bushels to an acre.

WHERE WILL THE PACIFIC RAILROAD RUN?-While the various exploring parties are sending back interesting letters, and telling of the case with which the great national thoroughfare can be constructed along the several routes, we find opinions started by some of our Southern cotemporaries entirely adverse to the claims of St. Louis or any more northern points as the place of departure from he Mississint

The New Orleans Crescent, of the 10th inst. insists upon it that the Pacific Railroad is a Southern work, and is more than half complete. A few links have to be closed to complete the connection between New Orleans and Baltimore. The line west of the Mississippi has already been commenced and the road is rapidly progressing towards the banks of the Sabine. Once over it it is believed that it will keep on through Texas and the great natural highway, without any particular climbing of mountains, or digging through them, to the Pa citie, and be so far advanced by the time the railroad company is organized and the scheme fairly under way, that the tremendous speeches, Buncombe, &c.

&c. which will have been expended, will be entirely 150 0.82 How near right these opinions may be, remains to be seen, but there is no doubt that the work has een commenced and is progressing. It would be a good thing, indeed, if it were to go on unaided by gigantic companies or government patronage to ompletion. If it did nothing more, it would save very many distinguished men from the dilemma of mitting themselves to its support, or of losing their popularity .-- Daltimore Times.

MURDER BY SLAVES -- We understand that Wylie Kearney, of Caldwell county, has recently been murdered by two of his negroes. From the evidence as detailed before the examining court it appeared that the boys, neither of whom can be over 18 or 19 years of age, had made an agreement to take the life of their master the first time he atmpted to correct them, or, as they say, abuse them, (Kearney was a hard master.) Monday morning, Kearney, in company with these two boys, started out to their day's labor, when but a short distance from the house he attempted to correct one of them, the boy resisted, Kearney called on the other to come to his assistance-the boy he was contending with then broke loose and ran a short distance and stopped; at the call of the other boy he returned, when Kearney again seized him; while
