RESPONSE TO LEON'S REGRET.

To Leon Czolgosz's regret that he had not seen' his father, the assassin's parent replied pathetically that had he been encouraged to go to Auburn he been encouraged to go to Auburn, he would have done so, but the news from Auburn was never assuring, and the father felt that he was not wanted; hence, he remained at home. The old man said, finally, that he would not have been a witness to the killing of his son, for the scene would have been too much for his paternal heart.

Other than the suspicion of a tear in the father's eye, there was no sign of grief from him, and the two brothers, both younger than Leon, began to ask as to the probable painfulness of the electrocution. The party did not wait to hear the details, and soon left for their homes, the father of the assassin to take up his daily work in one of the city's parks, the two brothers to resume their respective employments.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE AND LIQUOR DEALERS VERY ACTIVE.

BOTH ISSUE APPRALS FOR FUNDS.

Text of Circulars Sent Out by Both Sides-What Leaders Say.

The fight between the Anti-Saloon League and the State Liquor Dealers' Association over the Quaries-Barbour resolution, now before the Constitutional Convention, is becoming exceedingly warm. It is recognized by both parties to the discussion that the time has come for action. The convention and its com-mittee will at an early date take up the measure which has occasioned such animated discussion.

The Quarles-Barbour resolution is to the effect that "no license to manufac-ture or sell intoxicating liquors in this State shall be granted to any person except upon the written request of a majority of the registered voters in the precinct of the city, town, or county in which such manufacture or sale is proposed to be conducted." There is an ex-ception in the case of liquors used for medical or scientific purposes. The General Assembly is not prohibited from enacting further restrictive legislation in connection with the liquor business.
On the one hand Rev. C. H. Crawford, the local representative of the Anti-Saloon League, states eague has received information, which t regards as thoroughly reliable, that, ir found to be necessary, the Liquor Deal-ers' Association will spend as much as $500,000 to defeat the Quarles-Barbour

This report, the representatives of the Liquor Dealers' Associations state, bears on its face that it is an absurd and ridiculous proposition. Mr. John M. Hig-gins, the pre-ident of the local associa-tion, stated last night with great posiiveness that there was nothing whate. in any such wild rumor. tion." said he, "that any sum or amount of money is being raised with a view of influencing the Constitutional Convention is absurb and an insult to the splendid body of men in the convention.' LIQUOR MEN'S APPEAL.

The Christian Federation, the organ of the Anti-Saloon League, will print in its next issue an appeal which it states is being sent out by a committee of the State Liquor Dealers' Association, calluupon the members of the association to contribute funds to be used in defeating the Quarles-Barbour resolution.

The following is a copy of this appeal: To the Liquor Dealers of the State of

'We are now confronted by a resolution in the hands of the Committee on Bill of Rights in the Constitutional Convention of Virginia, which, if adopted as part of the Constitution, will destroy the liquor interest of the State. You are, therefore, most urgently requested to contribute as much as possible to the contingent fund to be used in defraving the expense of opposing any movement the Constitutional Convention or Legislature against our interests. This is a matter that requires the personal and immediate attention of every liquor be completed even if we succeed in de-feating the Barbour bill presented to the Constitutional Convention, as those opposing the liquor interests in our State are thoroughly organized and have large fund in hand, and they are deter-mined to continue their opposition to us before the Legislature, which meets in December. We must, therefore, urge upon you the vital importance of responding as liberally as possible to this fund. which will be used solely, and only, for the protection of your business. Without it we are powerless to accomplish desired results. (Signed by Committee (Signed by Committee on Ways and Means.)'

FEDERATION'S EDITORIAL.

Upon this appeal the Christian Federation will print the following comment:
"We desire especially to call the attention of the few temperance men in the convention, and out of it, who have not yet decided to favor the majority signatures resolution, to the opinion of the liquor people. They say that it 'will destroy the liquor interest of the State which is equivalent to saying that it is a first-class temperance law; and they no doubt know what they are talking about. And we desire, further, to warn members of the convention that no man can vote on the side of that half a mil-lion dollars and retain the respect and confidence of the Christian people of Virginia. We wish that the estimate in the circular of the fund in our treasury were correct. Unfortunately, it is not, but temperance men about the State are beginning to send in their contributions, and we trust many more will do so, that we may continue our campaign with in-creased energy and effect."

AS TO THE CIRCULAR. When seen last night, Mr. John M. Higgins knew nothing of any such cir-cular, and thought that if any had been circulated by the State Association as the president of the local association a copy would have come into his hands Mr. William H. Zimmerman stated that some such circular had been circulated a month or two ago. He could not be positive that the circular was identical with that given above. The ilquor-dealers, he thought, had been very remiss in not being more active during the last few weeks and months while their opponents had thoroughly organized their campaign. The opposition movement, however, he regarded as confined for the tists. The Constitutional Convention will not take action injurious to so large a business interest as the liquor trade, was Mr. Zimmermann's wiew of the situa-

Mr. John P. Brown, who is an official of the State Association, said that the State Association had found that the collection of a small sum for the prosecution of its work was necessary, and some such circular had been sent out from the central office at Danville. As the Richmond dealers pay towards the support of the local association, and it in turn contributes to the State Association, there have been but few individual responses among liquor-men in Richmond, probably not amounting to more than $25 alto gether, thought Mr. Brown. The idea that any such sum as $500,000 was to be raised, Brown regarded as too ridiculous to

A LEAGUE CIRCULAR. The Anti-Saloon League has sent out from its Richmond headquarters a circular letter with a view to arousing interest and securing contributions.

This circular reads as follows:

"You are interested in the majority signatures temperance article now pending in our Constitutional Convention. The flood of petitions favoring it have made a great impression on members of the A number have signified convention. their intention to support it. Many others are hesitating.

"The liquor-dealers are thoroughly aroused. We have it on good authority that they expect to spend, if necessary, half a million dollars to defeat the mea-sure. This means that the almost unlimited funds of their national associa tion are to be poured into Virginia to, if possible, debauch our representatives.
"In this emergency it is important that every member of the convention shall be made to feel strongly the sentiment of the best elements of his constituency. anxious to redouble our efforts in this direction, but lack the necessary funds. He is considered one of the ablest circuit judges in the State For some time there have been two men claiming to be the county chairman, and two organizations, one led by Mr. E. R. Monroe, the old chairman, the other by Mr. Lee W. Morton, who was elected by the followers of Mr. H. C.

Yesterday, this latter organization met at the court-house, and when they learned that Mr. Ellyson, the State chaiman, had decided to recognize the old organization, they agreed to submit to this recognition until after the election, with the understanding that there would be a reorganization of the party. New judges of election were appointed at all of the precincts, and everything is working harmoniously. There is a determination to give Mr. H. C. Rice, the regular nominee, the usual Democratic majority, which we have always done. Mr. A. B. Hanmer, the Republican nominee, is making an active canvass. Messrs. J. H. Priddy and W. E. election was but 3,839 Democratic and 506 Republican. The Democratic vote will be nearly doubled this year, it is thought, while there will be no corresponding increase in the Republican vote. The action of the Roanoke Republican Convention in casting out the negro has left them without a party and unusually apathetic. All of the cities of the State ar safely Democratic, and but few of the counties were Republican four years ago.

IN SOME OF THE COUNTIES.

Among the counties that were Republican four years ago, and which will probably be Republican next Tuesday are: Floyd, Goochland, Mecklenburg, New Kent, Patrick, and Roanoke. Some of the close counties in that campaign were: Alexandria, Caroline, Dickenson, Pulaski, Stafford, and Washington. Many of the counties of the Southwest are normally doubtful, but a strenuous campaign has been waged there by Democrats, and every effort is being made to hold the doubtful counties.

Whatever the Republicans may achieve in the Southwest will be offset by the Democratic majority in Richmond city, it is hoped, and for that reason it is of the utmost importance that a full vote be polled here, and that the major-ity be as large as possible. In the event of a closer fight than is anticipated, Richmond would probably save the State to the Democrats. Certainly it is being counted on this year to apathy in the Southwest, and there is every indication that the capital city will respond to the call upon her. The Democrats hope to win in the Valley, or certainly to about neutralize the Repub can strength there in its bearing on the general result. While few hope that the majority will be as large as four years effort is being spared to make it as large as possible. RALLY IN FULTON TO-NIGHT. To-night at Donahue's Hall, in Fulton, the Democrats will have a big rally, at which addresses will be made by two of the most popular speakers on the stump n this campaign. They are Judge James W. Marshall, formerly well known as "Cyclone Jim," who, in the stirring days of readjusterism, was considered the staunchest and most formidable man on the hustings in his section of the State, if not in the State itself, and Senator William P. Barksdale, so well known in this city through his speeches in the Senate, and known by reputation all over the tSate as a bold, aggressive, and stirring speaker, one who thinks strong things and says them in such a way that they may be the strong that they may be strong the strong that they are strong that they are strong the strong that they are strong that they are strong the strong that they are strong the strong that they are strong that they are strong the strong that they are strong that they are strong the strong that they are strong that they are strong the strong that they are strong that they are strong the strong the strong that the strong the strong that they are strong the strong thave the strong the strong the strong the strong the strong the st that they gain rather than lose force is the saying. Both speakers are of the type that never fails to stir the enthusiasm of the audience, for solemn indeed must be the occasion when this pair cannot provoke laughter and applause not in mere ripples, but great surging waves of enthusiasm. They are a strong pair, and it takes a pretty big trio to down them. Marshall and Barksdale will certainly have an enthusiastic audience and the indications are that they wil have a large one also.

OUT IN THE COUNTY.

There will be another rally, this one at Gifford's Hall, on the Government road, in Henrico county, to-night at 8 o'clock Addresses cult. o'clock. Addresses will be made by John Lamb; Mr. Samuel P. Waddill, a member of the convention; Hon. E. Folkes, and others. This trio will enter-tain and instruct all who hear them. Thursday night is the time set for the big rally in Clay Ward at Belvidere Hall, at which addresses will be made by ex-Governor William E. Cameron and Hon.
Alfred P. Thom—one of Petersburg, the other of Norfolk. This is one of the largest and best halls in the city, and there is every indication that its capacity will be taxed to seat the crowd. Chairman James B. Doherty will preside.

OLD REPUBLICAN GAME.

The Republicans of this city have opened headquarters in Ford's Law building, on Ninth street, and are sending out con-siderable campaign literature, as usual waiting until the eve of the election in order not to give the Democrats time to deny and refute the statements made in the circulars.

A big rally has been arranged for Alexandria to-morrow night, at which Mr. Montague and his former rival for the Democratic nomination for Governor, Mr. Swanson, wll be the speakers. Alexandria city was a Swanson stronghold, while the county was divided. Both gentlemen have many friends there, and their ap pearance at the same time will attract a large crowd. Colonel John W. Richardson, Register of the Land Office, left for his home, at Marion, and will put in his time from now on until the election working for the ticket in that vicinity.

Mr. Julian M. Ruffin, a member of the Board of Agriculture, from Hanover county, is in the city to attend a meeting of the board. Mr. Ruffin stated last night that there was little opposition to the Democratic House nominee in Hanover.

Mr. William H. Eggborn, of Culpeper, Republican member of the Board of Agriculture, is said to have congressiona aspirations, and may be a candidate nex next year against Hon. John F. Rixey. POLITICS GROW HOT.

The Democrats of Manchester are considerably stirred over the ruse of the Republicans of the district to creep into favor with the temperance people of the city, and by deception induce enough voters to forsake their party and vote for the nominee of the Prohibition party for the Legislature. For several days an amount of work has been done in Manchester on this line. One of the movers is Mr. Alden Campbell, Republican chairman of Swansboro precinct.

Mr. Toney said yesterday that the efforts of Campbell in favor of Mr. Ellis Martin, the Prohibition candidate, were intended to indirectly result favorably to the Republican candidates. He said that Mr. Campbell is known to be in consultation with several prominent church workers of the city, and he was assured that the trick would work until it was understood by the voters. The Democratic workers of the city expect to wage a hard fight from now until the sun rises on next Tuesday morning. On Saturday night Captain Joseph E. Willard and Hon. Henry R. Pollard will address a rally at Leader Hall. The City Central Committee will meet this evening at the police station to take steps to secure a large vote and give the Democratic candidates a rousing major ity on Tuesday.

'TWAS A BIG DAY. The "transfer car" on lower Hull street had its largest day yesterday since it was put on, on last Friday during the day.

Since the car was placed on, the mer on the four cars operating over street to Seventh and Main streets in Richmond have been worked almost beyond endurance. They have been required to work twelve hours each day, without a minute's lay-over at each end. In order to make the schedule time they have been compelled to operate the cars through the streets and over the Free Bridge at a break-neck speed un-der all conditions—even then they were unable to make schedule time. At 6 o'clock yesterday evening the cars were forty minutes behind, and were losing on each trip, despite their reckless running.

It was rumored yesterday evening that the officials realized that the men cou'd not be expected to render good service under such conditions, and would to-day put an additional car on Hull street. THE TUSCARORA LAUNCHED. Thousands Cheered the Seventh Boat of the Trigg Ship-Yards. Thousands cheered the successful aunching of the Tuscarora, the first United States revenue-cutter ever built in this city, which took the water yes-terday afternoon at half-past 1 o'clock. The William R. Trigg Company's yards were crowded with the many friends of this sturdy Richmond enterprise, who joined in the spirit and life of the occa-sion with a right good will. Little Miss

Alberta Trigg, "the daughter of the ship-yard," christened the latest addition to Uncle Sam's naval family. As the boat glided sidewise for its first plunge, the little sponsor dashed the bottle of wine against its prow, saying as she did so, "I christen thee Tuscarora."

A number of distinguished officials were present and witnessed the launching, among them Rear-Admiral Francis Bowles, chief constructor of the United States navy; Captain R. Glover, su perintendent construction, R. C. S.: Engineer and Chief John W. Collins, R. C. S. Constructor J. W. Lee, R. C. S., and Captain George W. McConnell, R. C. S., stationed at the Trigg ship-yards during the construction of the Tuscarora.

The Tuscarora will carry four six-pounders and will be a useful and formidable vessel for patrol or blockade service. She is intended for service on the Great Lakes and is not so large as many vessels of her kind. Her contract speed is fourteen knots, with a length over all of 187 feet and a beam of thirty When completed and ready for work the vessel will have cost $185,000. Richmond is the only point in the East where vessels have been successfully launched side-on. Captains Lewis and Balley, of the British navy, were present by the politicians that his trip was converted to study this method of nected with the judgeship to be made launching. The eminent success of the launching of the Tuscarora was exceed-ingly gratifying to the representatives of the Trigg Company. This boat is the seventh launched at the Trigg yards. The contract for its construction was awarded April 25, 1900. The keel was laid October 10th of the same year, and the It may be that Mr. Roosevelt will appear to construction will work of construction will be a second construction will be a second construction was a second construction with the second construction was a second construction with the second construction was a second construction was a second construction with the second construction was a second construction with the second construction was a second construction was a second construction with the second construction was a second construction was a second construction was a second construction with the second construction was a second construction with the second construction was a second construction with the second construction with the second construction was a second construction with the second construction was a second construction was a second construction with the second construction was a sec work of construction will probably be completed in three months from this date.
