

THREE THOUSAND LIBERTY LEAGUE

Association Formed Here, With Edmund Pendleton Secretary and Counsel.

TO HOLD MASS MEETING

Members Resist Effort to Infringe Upon Personal Privileges of the People of Virginia.

Believing that there are party organizations in Virginia which infringe upon the personal privileges of the people, more than 3,000 citizens of Richmond have formed a Personal Liberty Association, contributed to its support, and practically arranged to hold a mass meeting, which will be held at the Academy of Music within the next two weeks. Meanwhile the committees are making an active canvass for a larger membership. Edmund Pendleton has been elected secretary and counsel. It was said yesterday that E. G. Leigh, Jr., would preside at the Academy meeting, and that some of the leading professional and business men would deliver addresses.

The active head of the association declined last night to give the names of those who will compose the executive or directing committee, saying that a public statement would be prepared within the next few days, when the full list, with speakers and others, along with the platform, or objects of the league, would be made public.

With this membership to start with the Personal Liberty Association promises to take no small part in political contests during the year, particularly in the city of Richmond.

The men who have taken the roll and who have contributed to the financial support of the association are not the kind to be bullied and intimidated," said a man closely identified with the movement. "We believe that our personal liberties are still in jeopardy."

"We do not believe that any class of men shall say what we shall do, what we shall eat, what we shall drink, nor will we submit to the dictation of those who undertake to run the government. In a word, we are going to maintain our independence when it has to be another declaration."

The association is preparing to make strong and stubborn resistance to violence and extreme demands which are developing interference with the personal liberties and rights of citizens of all classes. When the officers issue the public statement it will show exactly where the members stand, what they insist upon, and how they will resist the "growing tendency to rule the people according to the whims of so-called leaders."

COUNCIL CALENDAR

Many Meetings Scheduled for This Week. To Pass on Weather Bureau.

With the meetings already on the calendar and those that will be scheduled later, this promises to be one of the busiest weeks of the year for the City Council and its committees. The most important matter to come up will be that of the Weather Bureau, which will be taken up by the Board of Aldermen at its meeting to-morrow night.

Other meetings for the week are as follows:

Monday—Committees on Light, Electricity, Relief of the Poor, Water and the special committee on the case of the Baltimore & Annapolis. All of these will be held at 3 o'clock. At 9 o'clock a joint session of the Common Council and the Board of Aldermen will be held for the election of the Mayor and City Councilmen. The action of the court means that the Mayor and Councilmen will hold over for four years longer instead of going out on September 30, as was expected, when they were elected. This change in the expiration of the terms of the officials came about through the transition of the town into a city.

Tuesday—Committees on Streets, Street Cleaning and Finance at 3 o'clock. The Committee on Grounds and Buildings has been called to meet at 8 o'clock Thursday night, and the committee on the case of the Board of Aldermen at its meeting to-morrow night.

In addition to the other meetings for Monday, the subcommittee on the case of the Board of Aldermen at its meeting to-morrow night, and the committee on the case of the Board of Aldermen at its meeting to-morrow night.

MAY NAME CABELL FIRST ASSISTANT

Believed in Federal Circles That He Will Be Hitchcock's Right-Hand Man.

TO HOLD MASS MEETING

Members Resist Effort to Infringe Upon Personal Privileges of the People of Virginia.

Although Postmaster Royal E. Cabelle denies that he is to be an assistant to Postmaster-General Hitchcock, it was stated yesterday in Republican circles that his appointment to a high Federal position, which will necessitate his removal to Washington and his resignation here, will be forced upon him by certain of Mr. Cabelle's colleagues that he is slated for the First Assistant Postmaster generalship.

It has been quite a surprise among those who advocated the election of Judge Taft that no Virginian has been given a position in the government service, and all along it has been an open secret that the new President will not forget the showing he made in Virginia, which, for a Republican, excelled that of any candidate in recent years.

Not in Race for Governor.

Mr. Cabelle has been frequently spoken of as the nominee of his party for gubernatorial honors; but it is said to be pretty well fixed now that Alfred Gillespie, of Tazewell, will oppose whoever the Democrats may regard as their nominee for Governor.

A surprising fact in connection with the rumor, which assuredly has the semblance of fact, is that almost every one of those approached about the matter yesterday expressed the opinion that the Richmond postmaster, who with the present administration, and will certainly gain recognition.

Furthermore, it is stated that Assistant Postmaster Edgar Allen, Jr., is slated for appointment as postmaster if Mr. Cabelle goes to Washington. Mr. Allen was formerly a schoolmaster, and a personal friend of Mr. Hitchcock's, and when the latter visited this city in 1908 it was said that certain agreements were reached between them.

That such a rumor should have been spread is extremely distasteful to Mr. Cabelle, who apparently prefers to remain out of politics. He has invariably stated that he will not be the nominee of his party for Governor, even though the rumor that he is the most logical candidate. If Mr. Cabelle is to be appointed it is probable that the official announcement will be made within the next thirty days.

FATE RESTS WITH COURT

Governor Swanson Will Not Again Interfere in Ben Gilbert's Case.

Announcement was made yesterday at the Governor's office that Governor Swanson will not again interfere in the case of Ben Gilbert, the Norfolk youth who is sentenced to die Friday night in the Jefferson Penitentiary. Gilbert's fate now rests with the Supreme Court. The papers in the case were filed last week, and if the court cannot pass upon the merits of the petition for a writ of error before the date set for the execution it can order a stay of sentence.

Southern Railway Earnings.

Cosby is festival manager for this season, whose entire time is being devoted to the training of the immense chorus of children, which has been especially organized for this festival, and which will undoubtedly be one of its greatest attractions.

The concert for this year has been planned on a much larger scale than those of any former years, and they offer a number of distinct novelties. In addition to the enlarged children's chorus, the club will be assisted by the Walter Holladay, and by a quartet of artists who have not been heard before. The festival will be held in the newly equipped City Auditorium, and the opera chairs, recently provided by the city, will be available for the use of the concertgoers. The great size of the building enables the club to offer a large number of seats at popular prices.

The interest already manifested indicates that the many great changes have been approved by the general public, and many new names are being added to the list of subscribing members. The list will be closed in two weeks, and after that time no subscriptions can be received.

FIVE NAMED TO STUDY NEW PLAN

Special Committee from Council Will Study Best Form of City Government.

TO HOLD MASS MEETING

Members Resist Effort to Infringe Upon Personal Privileges of the People of Virginia.

In accordance with a joint resolution adopted by the two branches of the City Council, and approved by Mayor Richardson on Friday, President Wood, of the Board of Aldermen, and President Peters, of the Common Council, yesterday appointed members of the special committee which will look into the best form of government to be adopted by the city, provided a change is made. The committee consists of Aldermen Marz Gunst and Joseph E. Powers, and Councilmen John A. Cutchins, W. Fred Richardson and Kirkwood Mitchell.

Mr. Cutchins, author of the resolution, did not make provision for any trips to other cities with a view of investigating the idea being to gain all possible information by a system of correspondence. There is much to be gathered now in book and pamphlet form. The same proposition came up during the life of the former Council, though nothing definite was ever done.

Since then, however, there has been a change in sentiment and feeling which justifies the belief that it will not be so difficult to rid the city of its cumbersome form of government when something better is presented.

Favor Commission Plan.

Naturally, the idea is to adopt the commission plan, which has worked successfully in all cities where it has been tried. The plan, which is often mentioned in comparisons with Richmond, has about grown weary of the old council proposition, and a committee from that body has recommended that the public turn to a commission.

Advocates of the present government have gone elsewhere for light, and the local newspapers have been printing a series of articles showing just how the public is to derive large benefit from a change. Des Moines, once, and the year since it was ridden, drew off the yoke adopted the commission form, the citizens as a whole being so violently aroused by evils that they got together and beat every ring slate put up by the politicians.

Not Afraid of Politicians.

In discussing the local situation many citizens have declared that it would be the best interest of all to change, not because Richmond is grafted, but because there is too much narrowness, too many rings, too much politics, and not enough business sense, not forgetting the waste, the extravagance and what is the worst of it, inefficiency. What worries them, however, is the fear that if the commission plan should be put into effect the politicians might elect the commissioners, which would be much like wrapping the devil for the witch. But against this argument the reply is that against the public the time would not submit, that the best element would seek to overthrow the bosses, and bring the government to that point where it would be conducted the same as any big corporation.

The haggling over the Weather Bureau and what has been regarded as an attempt to thwart the wishes of the entire community in behalf of a handful of property owners, is accepted as the most convincing evidence that the people will relish any relief from the present system of government.

A special committee will probably hold a meeting this week to organize and map out some plan of campaign. It will work with a view of presenting its report at the earliest possible time, so that the General Assembly can act on amendments to the city charter at its next session.
