HUGHES SCENTS DANGER TO STATE

He Recommends That Income Tax Amendment Be Not

the Legislature to-day makes various recommendations on questions of widespread interest. In a supplementary message he dwells at length upon the proposed constitutional amendment conferring upon the Federal government the power to lay and collect an income tax "from whatever source derived," without apportionment among the States according to population, and in conclusion recommends that this amendment be not ratified. In this connection the Governor says:

"I am in favor of conferring upon the Federal government the power to lay and collect such a tax. I believe that this power should be held by the Federal government so as properly to equip it with the means of meeting national extigencies. But the power to tax incomes should not be granted in such terms as to subject to Federal taxation the incomes derived from bonds issued by the State Itself or those issued by municipal governments organized under the State's authority.

After reviewing the legal aspects of this question, the Governor declares in conclusion: "We cannot suppose that Congress will not seek to tax incomes derived from securities issued by the State and its municipalities. It has repeatedly endeavored to lay It has repeatedly endeavored to lay the confidence of the public in the such taxes, and its efforts have been defeated only by implied constitutional restriction which this amendment threatens to destroy. that this proposed amendment should not be ratified."

In view of the efforts which the Governor, in his regular message, says have been made to evade the law prohibiting bookmaking at race-tracks, he recommends an amendment penalizing the practice of bookmaking even though no bets are recorded.

Revelations as to the "white slave traffic" are referred to, and the Governor recommends the enactment of whatever additional or more stringent provisions of law are necessary to make the statutes more efficacious. Senator Grady made a sensational attack on Governor Hughes in the Senate to-day following the reading of the message. It was the Governor's proposal to penalize the practice of bookmaking that aroused the ire of the Senate minority leader to the point of attack. He declared that while the Governor attacked the horse owner, the bookmaker and the man placing his bet upon a horse race, he has "never dared to attack the most Arguing Tobacco Case.

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 5.—
The attorneys representing the tobacco interests monopolized the attention of the Supreme Court to day with arguments in connection with the government proceeding against the American Tobacco Company and allied interests.

After Mr. Nicol had concluded his plea in behalf of the company the court was addressed by J. G. Johnson, of Philadelphia, who also spoke for the American Company. William B. Horn-blower, of New York, appeared in behalf of the Imperial Company, of Great Britain, and S. M. Stroock, of New York, in the interest of the United Cigar Stores Company
The Imperial and the Cigar Companies were exempted from the verdict of the trial court, but the government has asked the Su preme Court to reverse that judgment and as a consequence those companies were allowed especial representation in the hearing before the Supreme Court.

The argument in the case will be completed to-morrow, when Atterney-General Wickersham will be heard.

Just how Fornshill met such a tracte end will' perhaps never be known, as no one saw him leave the cab. The supposition is, however, that he opened his cab door for the purpose of wiping off the frost to give him a better view, and accidentally slipped from it, a distance of twenty-five feet into the creek below. At the time the train was going slowly, and there was a small number of tourists aboard on their way to Mount Vernon. It is said that the conductor gave a signal for a stop, and upon failing to get a response from the motor cab he proceeded to investigate, when he found Fornshill missing. The dead man is survived by a wife and two childrel.

The General Demand of the World has always been for a simple, pleasant and efficient liquid laxative remedy of known value; a laxative which physicians could sanction for family use because its component parts are known to them to be wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, acceptable to the system and gentle, yet prompt, in action.

In supplying that demand with its excellent combination of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, the California Fig Syrup (Co. proceeds along ethical lines and relies on the merits of the laxative for its remarkable success.

They Lose, and House Passes the Mann Bill.

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 5.—
With the Democrats fighting every inch of the way, the Mann bill providing for the administration of the Panama Canal Zone and centralizing the government thereof in the President or the United States, passed the House to-day by a vote of 119 to 102. The vote was along strict party lines.

The minority kept the House in session until 6 clock this evening by offering amendment after amendment and by demanding tellers on each vote. A futile effort was made by Representative Richardson, of Alabama, to have the measure recommitted to the Committee op interstate and Foreign Commerce, an aye and may vote resulting 104 ayes and 135 nays.

The bill, as it goes to the Senate, authorizes the President to have the Panama Canal completed and to appoint a director-general of the canal and the Canal Zone, thus doing away with the Canal Zone, thus doing away with the Canal Commission. It invests the judicial power of the zone in one circuit court and such interior courts as the President may constitute, and allows appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States in civil cases involving $5,000 and in criminal cases punishable by death or life imprisonment. Trial by jury is granted in all criminal prosecutions for felony. Since the expiration of the Fifty-eighth Congress there has been no act in terms authorizing the government of the Canal Zone, but President Roosevelt continued the civil government in existence on the zone aiter the act of April 28, 130t, became effective auto-

DEATHS

MAYO.—Died. December 10, 1399, at the residence of her husband, G. H. I. Mayo, Goochland county, Va., in the forty-ninth year of her age, MRS. ISOLINA W. MAYO, daughter of Godfrey and Latisa S. Isbell. Mr. and Mrs. Mayo were cousins, and their forefathers—the Mayos and Isbells—were among the first settlers in Virginia, braving the dangers of frontier life. Valentine Mayo and Harry Isbell followed Washington through the War for Independence. John W. Mayo and Godfrey Isbell were among the first to volunteer in 1881, and followed Jackson and Lee to the close of the war.

Both of their grandmothers were lineal descendants of John Hancock, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, and were nearly related to William C. Rives and Mrs. Isolina W. Mayo united with the Methodist Episcopal Church at Gum Spring in 1875, B. C. Spiller pastor. Her life was a beautiful example of Christian benevolence, self-sacrifice, purity and love. In her home she was a pearl of priceless value, possessing in an unusual degree those noble attributes, firnness and strength of moral character. Her portracted and painful illness was borne without a murder.

In her last sickness she was attended by Drs. McCoy, Leake and Holman, and everything was done for her comfort, but without avail. She passed away in the triumphs of the Christian's faith, her last words being. "Rest at last," leaving a disconsolate husband and one son. The body was embalmed and prepared for burial by E. H. Regland, Members of Goochland Ledge, No. 194, Odd-Fellows, of which her husband is a member, acted as pall-bearers. The funeral took place on December 12 at Gum Spring Church, the exercises being conducted by Revs. H. D. Ragland, H. P. R. McCoy and Dr. Dabney.

Afraid of Ghosts

Many people are afraid of ghosts. Few people are afraid of germs. Yet the ghost is a fanoy and the germ is a fact. If the germ could be magnified to a size equal to its terrors it would appear more terrible than any firs-breathing dragon. Germs can't be avoided. They are in the air we breathe, the water we drink.

The germ can only prosper when the condition of the system gives it free scope to establish itself and develop. When there is a deficiency of vital force, languor, restlessness, a sallow check, a hollow eye, when the appetite is poor and the sleep is broken, it is time to guard against the germ. You can fortify the body against all germs by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It increases the vital power, cleanses the system of clogging impurities, enriches the blood, puts the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition in working condition, so that the germ finds no weak or tainted spot in which to breed. "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, whisky or habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients printed on its outside wrapper. It is not a secret nostrum but a medicine or known composition and with a record of 40 years of cares. Accept no substitute—there is nothing time as good." Ask your neighbors,
