BY GUS MALBERT.

Jack Grim, wearing the smile of a truly happy newly-made benedict, walked stealthily across the yard of alfalfa fame yesterday afternoon, holding out his hands, palms upwards, counting the scatte batter of the joyful Juneteenth sprinkle which was at that moment bearding the grassward thereabouts. In the stands sat many hopefully yearning individuals of the genus fan. Suddenly Jack, of the swain-made-one smile, broke into a laugh, waved both arms in a sort of "You have my consent" manner. Al Geth announced the names of the ambitious young men who would attempt to make records for themselves and the game was on. A few short minutes thereafter, Jack, with the gum shoes in his pocket, was seen in wild despair, hovering behind the tool chest in which he keeps his workman shirt.

CREWS WAITING FOR FINAL TEST

The regatta on the James to-morrow afternoon under the auspices of the Virginia Boat Club will draw a large audience which will spread itself along the course, occupying all vantage ground. The chief interest lies in the Virginia Boat Club regatta. Both of these teams have been training hard and each is reasonably sure of winning. An elaborate program has been arranged, including races of all kinds. The first race will begin promptly at 1:30 o'clock.

PLAYERS LEAVE FOR OTHER JOBS

Only Memory Left of United States League of Professional Ball Clubs.

A memory and Dan McAleese are all that is left of the United States League. Every other member of the Rebs is on his way to some less favored or more favorable clime. It wasn't at all a happy bunch that departed. Several things combined to make the parting not only sad, but one to be remembered. Touch a man's pocketbook and you come very near touching the fountain head of his existence. Members of the club here retained for three-quarters of a month's pay exactly the same difference between what was paid them and what was owed them, it is easy to see, was considerable.

CUBS DEFEAT REDS

Cincinnati, O., June 27.—The Cubs made it three out of five in the seventh and eighth innings by taking to-day's game 6 to 2. The blow up in the eighth, and the visitors battered them in the ninth, in the two last innings. Score:

DODGERS WIN OUT IN NINTH

Boston, June 27.—The Dodgers beat the Doves to-day 3 to 1 in a game that overlapped into the tenth. The Doves led the count with five runs in the eighth, but fell down in the ninth. Score:

WINNING RUN FORCED IN

St. Louis, June 27.—The Pirates snatched a two-run winning run from the Cardinals to-day, 2 to 1. With two on in the last inning, they were winning 2-0, but were forced in by the winning run.
